

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

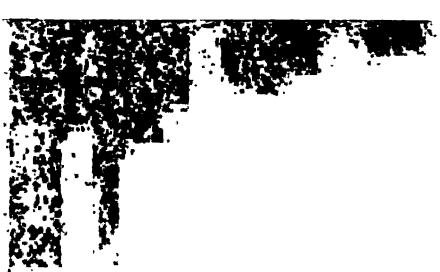
+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search



Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

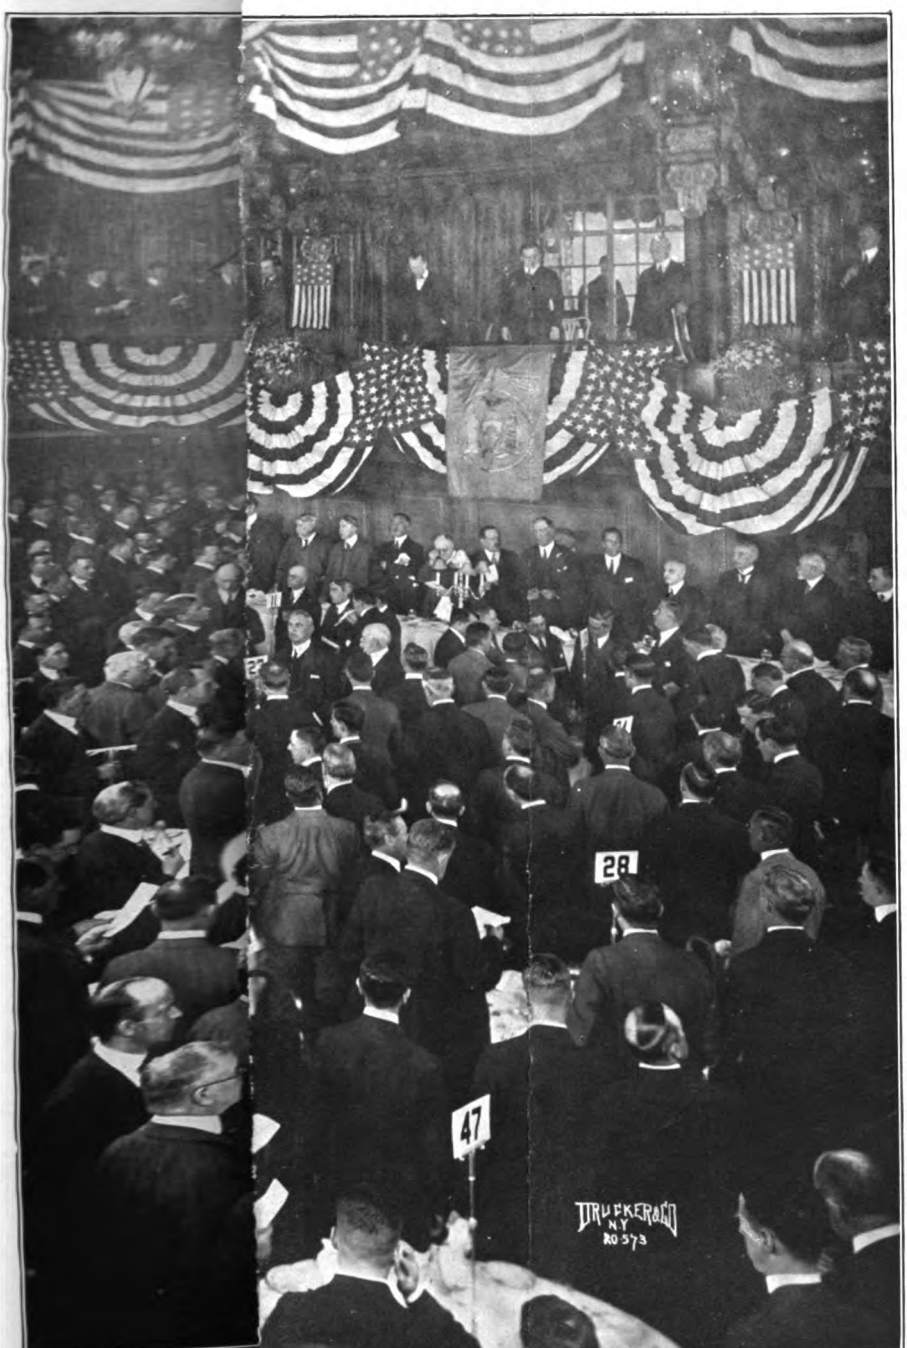
May 1, 1920.

To the Members of
The Merchants' Association of New York.

GENTLEMEN:

THE work of The Merchants' Association of New York during the past year has been both constructive and reconstructive in character. Co-operation in connection with new problems of industry, commerce and finance which were created by the war has called for constructive efforts, while the restoration of industry and business to a peace basis has called for activities along reconstructive lines.

I would urge upon your attention the reports of the Chairman of the Members' Council, of the Secretary, and of the Bureau Managers which are submitted herewith, and which give a more detailed description of The Association's operations during the year.



The war had the effect of broadening the scope of the efforts of this Association, and the same cause has produced a similar effect upon commercial organizations everywhere. It has welded the Chamber of Commerce of the United States into a more compact and effective national body, and has paved the way for the creation of an international chamber of commerce, in which the commercial organizations of nations will be brought into contact and cooperation. In this development of the principle of organization, our Association has taken an important part.

Its efforts have been exerted toward the shaping of national policies affecting business, and in their expression in legislation; as for example in connection with the Transportation Act of 1920. During the past year many such important matters have come up to which The Association has given attention. Changing conditions are certain to bring forward many more questions of similar importance to the country, and it is of the highest moment that their settlement shall be guided by wisdom and sound policy. Herein lies an important opportunity of future service by our Association.

The motto of The Association expresses its primary purpose, namely, "To foster the trade and welfare of New York." That its efforts have commended themselves to the citizens of New York, is shown in the membership records. The number of new members elected during the past year was 816, giving a total at the close of the year, April 30, of 6,363, which exceeds by 482 the total stated in my last annual report. This increase is highly gratifying. Not only does it add to the strength of the organization and therefore to its ability to champion the interests of the City and its people, but it is also a convincing evidence of that general approval without which The Association would inevitably fail in its undertakings.

I take especial pleasure in calling to your attention the further development of the direct service work of the organization as summarized in the reports of the Secretary and of the Bureau Managers. While this type of our activity does not call for detailed comment in this report, it nevertheless carries with it service of the highest value to the City and to its business interests.

Appreciation is especially due to the members of the Board of Directors and of the various committees, to whom has been delegated, and upon whom rests the responsibility for intelligently and effectively guiding the operations of the organization. These men have given freely of their time and energy during the past year.

I cannot conclude my report without once again expressing my appreciation of the work done by the office staff under the immediate direction of the Secretary. This work has been performed with invariable efficiency and loyalty. Our Association is fortunate in being able to command service of so high an order.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN,

President.

REPORT OF MEMBERS' COUNCIL

May 1, 1920.

To the Board of Directors of
The Merchants' Association of New York.

GENTLEMEN:

BUSINESS problems of vital interest not only to this Nation, but to the world, featured the addresses made at the luncheon meetings of the Members' Council of The Merchants' Association of New York during the year under review in this report. Men of both National and international prominence were among the speakers. Six meetings were held during the fiscal year ending April 30, 1920, the meeting of June 4, 1919, on the subject "America's Opportunity," having been described in the report of the Council for the preceding year.

The most important meeting of the year and perhaps the most inspiring gathering ever held by the Council was that of October 7, 1919. On this occasion the Council had the honor of entertaining His Eminence, Cardinal Mercier of Belgium, one of the great personalities of the War. His appearance and speech, delivered in excellent English, clearly exhibited the qualities of courage, faith and sagacity which enabled this great leader in the religious world to triumph not only over the brutal authority of the German invader, but also over the despair of the oppressed people of Belgium.

The only other speaker at this meeting was the Hon. Charles E. Hughes, former Governor of the State of New York and former member of the United States Supreme Court, who, in well chosen words, expressed to Cardinal Mercier the esteem in which America held him and his great achievements.

On November 21, 1919, the member of the Business Missions from Belgium, France, Great Britain and Italy to the International Trade Conference and members of the New York City General Reception Committee were the guests of the Members' Council at one of the most successful luncheon meetings of the year. The addresses comprised a discussion of international business policies of the utmost interest and importance.

Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President of The Merchants' Association, welcomed the members of the Missions in French. The other speakers were Mr. Joseph H. Defrees, Vice-President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, upon the invitation of which organization the foreign Missions had come to this country; M. Florimond Hankar, Chairman, and M. Louis Canon-Legrand, Vice-Chairman of the Belgian Mission; M. Eugene Schneider, Chairman of the French Mission; Signor Giorgio Mylius, of the Italian Mission, who spoke for Signor Ferdinando Quartieri, the Chairman of the Italian Mission, who was unable to be present; Sir Arthur Shirley Benn, Chairman of the British Mission, and Mr. A. C. Bedford, Vice-President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and Chairman of the Executive Committee of that Chamber, which had arranged for and carried out the International Trade Conference.

It is interesting to note that although there were nine speakers at this luncheon, the Chairman only exceeded by one-half hour the rule of closing the meeting at two o'clock.

On January 12, 1920, the Governor of the State of New York and the members of the Legislature from the City of New York were the guests of honor at a luncheon meeting held on that day. A large audience heard the addresses, which were delivered by the Hon. Alfred E. Smith, Governor of the State of New York, and the Hon. Henry M. Sage, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the New York State Senate. The subject was "State Reconstruction Policy."

On March 12, 1920, a luncheon was held on the subject of "Increased Production." The object of this meeting was to impress on the business men of New York City the need for increased production in all lines. The speakers were the Hon. Edwin T. Meredith, who had recently been appointed Secretary of the Department of Agriculture of the United States, and who formerly was President of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, and Brigadier-General Guy E. Tripp, Chairman of the Board of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, and lately Assistant Chief of Ordnance, U. S. Army.

On April 14, 1920, the subject of the luncheon was "Transportation Problems." Great interest was shown in the topic and the attendance was large. The speakers were Mr. A. H. Smith, President of the New York Central Railroad Company, former Regional Director of the United States Railroad Administration; Mr. George C. Taylor, President of the American Railway Express Company, and the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the New York Central Railroad Company, formerly United States Senator from the State of New York, who was among the invited guests and from whom the audience demanded a speech.

The meetings of the Members' Council continue to attract the greatest interest on the part of the members of The Association and their guests. It is the hope of all that this interest will be continued.

The task before those who guide the Council in the future will be particularly difficult, as the inspiration of war patriotism, which added flavor to all public gatherings, will be lacking in the future, and the meetings must hereafter take on more exclusively the discussion of trade and National problems affecting trade and commerce. Moreover the popularity of these meetings has led other organizations throughout the City to adopt similar methods for the discussion of public problems.

The attendance at these meetings has grown from 159, the number at the first meeting held in October, 1913, to an average during the past year of over 1,200 actual luncheons served, and not including many members who frequently come in after the luncheon, for the purpose of hearing the speaking. If this number be added, it is estimated that the average attendance during the year has been over 1,400.

With the co-operation of members of The Association, we may look forward to a continuance of the influence of these meetings upon the business life of our City.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM C. BREED,
Chairman of the Members' Council.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

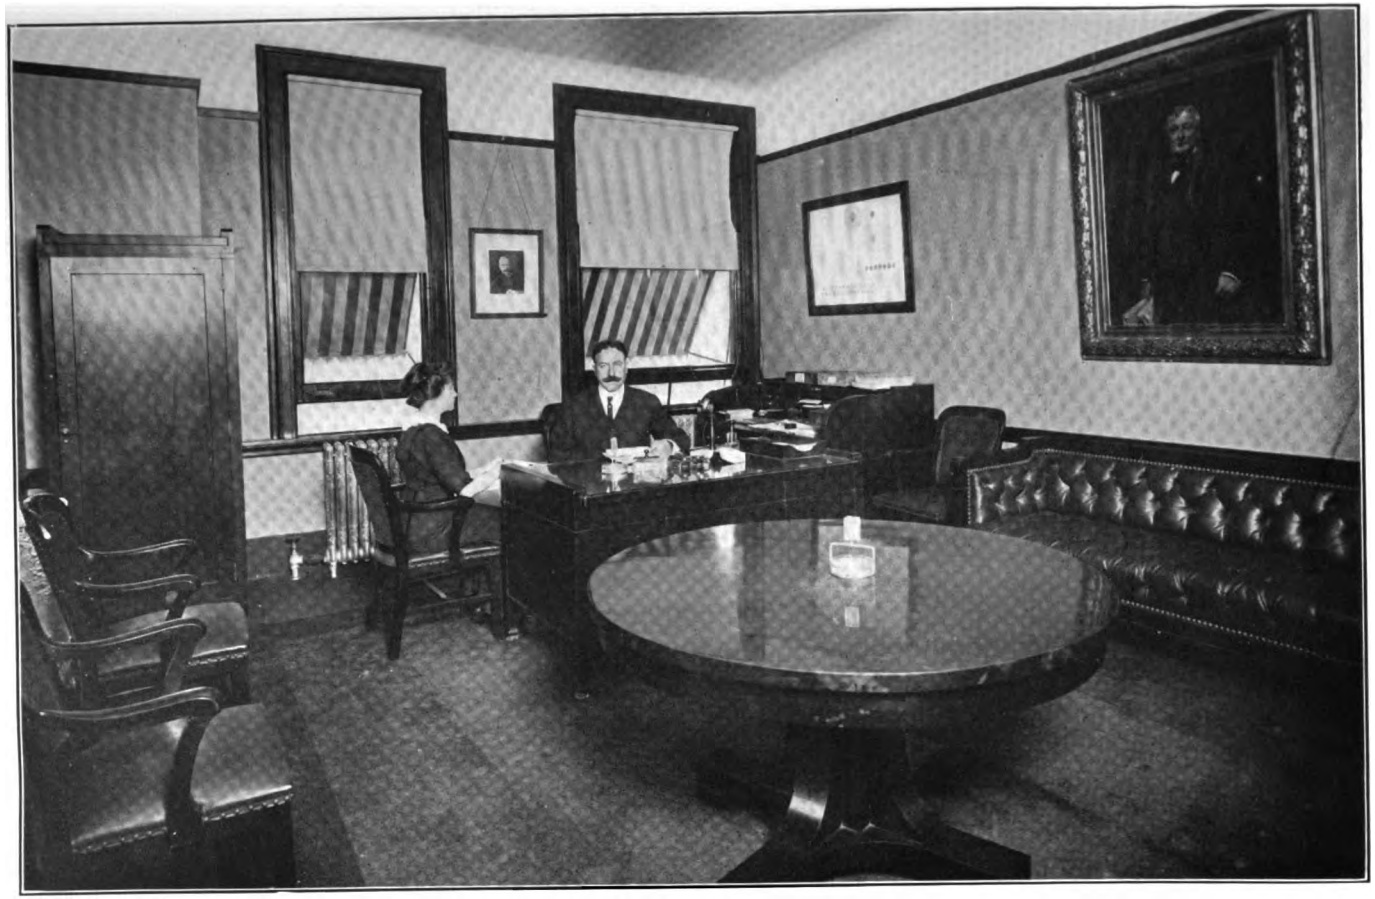
May 1, 1920.

Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE activities of The Merchants' Association of New York for the year under review, namely, from May 1, 1919, to April 30, 1920, were distinguished by a remarkable development of the tendency noted in the previous annual report as pertaining to the last six months of that year, viz: co-operation in rehabilitation of business on a peace basis. During the first six months of that previous year, practically all the energies and resources of The Association had been directed to assistance in helping to win the war, while during the last six months of that year the opportunities for service related to co-operation in the restoration of the country to a normal peace basis.

It is regrettable that space in this resumé does not permit a statement of the activities and services of The Association in greater detail. To this report, however, are attached reports from the Managers of the various Bureaus of The Association in which the activities of the organization through those respective service Bureaus are more fully described.



Permit me to urge these reports upon the attention of the members of The Association. They show the increased use of the organization's services by its members and will indicate to many members, not yet utilizing these services, lines along which they can profitably employ them.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

ALTHOUGH the main distinguishing feature of the year has been along the line of co-operation in the restoration and upbuilding of business under peace conditions, nevertheless, one of the most important services, which was completed during the year, was the post-war activity in carrying through the work of the Re-Employment Bureau of New York City for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines. (See report of Industrial Bureau.)

As stated in the report for the previous year, the Re-Employment Bureau was organized by The Merchants' Association of New York upon direct request from the War Department for the purpose of endeavoring to replace soldiers, sailors and marines in business and industrial employment on a peace basis. The Bureau's operations began in April, 1919, and continued for a period of eight months, more than seven of these months falling within the year under review. At the period of its greatest activity, that Re-Employment Bureau was probably the largest single free employment office of a public nature ever operated in this country. During the eight months, more than 46,000 ex-service men applied to the Bureau, of whom about 30,000 were actually placed in positions.

The second principal effect of the year's operations has been the marked and gratifying development of the service activities of The Association, as demonstrated particularly by the facts set forth in considerable detail in the attached reports from the Managers of the respective Bureaus.

A third activity of prime and far-reaching importance was initiated just at the close of the year under review by the formation of a "Committee for the Protection of the Rights of the Public in the Transportation of Goods." (Later merged into the Citizens' Transportation Committee. See report of Traffic Bureau.) This movement arose out of the fact that the Longshoremen's Union, operating upon the coastwise steamship piers, declared a strike for higher wages, in which movement they received sympathetic assistance on the part of the Teamsters' Unions whose members refused to haul goods to or from piers where such strikes were in force. Under these conditions, the public became the chief sufferer, in that the movement of commerce through these piers was interfered with and shippers and receivers of goods passing through such terminals were being discriminated against. The Committee referred to was created in April, 1920, and immediately undertook to devise and put in operation plans to secure free and uninterrupted commerce at New York without discrimination as far as the public was concerned.

OTHER IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES

ANOTHER post-war activity, continued during the year from the previous year, was the co-operation afforded by The Association to the United States Railroad Administration in contributing the services of the Traffic Manager, Mr. J. C. Lincoln, as a member of the Eastern Freight Traffic Committee. This Committee officially passed and made recommendations upon the proper adjustment of freight rates, revision of classifications, regulations and practices, and continued its operations during the year under review until March 1, 1920, when the carriers were released from Federal control and restored to private ownership. (See report of Traffic Bureau.)

During the year, The Association has been particularly energetic in connection with the problem of railroad rehabilitation. (See reports of Research and Traffic Bureaus); it has devoted persistent effort to securing improvement in the postal facilities, both domestic and foreign (See reports of the Research and Foreign Trade Bureaus); it has effectively co-operated in securing improvement in the Customs Service through additional appropriations whereby greater efficiency may be secured in this highly important branch of Government operation (See report of Foreign Trade Bureau); it has conducted a campaign for cleaner streets and for arousing among the citizens a pride in neatness and cleanliness on our thoroughfares (See report of Anti-Litter Bureau); it has been one of the leaders in the movement to secure legislation whereby neutral trading zones might be established in ports of entry (See report of Foreign Trade Bureau); it has continued to be an instrumentality for concentrating business thought along lines of sound reasoning and judgment through the agency of the Members' Council luncheon meetings (See Report of Chairman, Members' Council); its activities have received comment in the public press more numerously during the past year than during any previous year of its existence (See report of Publicity Bureau); it has been instrumental in restoring New York as one of the leading centers for convention meetings in the United States, the holding of which gatherings had been somewhat interrupted by the war (See report of Convention Bureau); it closed the year with a membership enrollment of 6,363, which is the largest, most representative and highest quality membership which The Association has ever had up to that date, namely, April 30, 1920 (See report of Membership Bureau).

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

DURING the year under review the officers of The Association were as follows:

President, MR. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN.
First Vice-President, MR. LEWIS E. PIERSON.
Second Vice-President, MR. JAMES GILBERT WHITE.
Third Vice-President, MR. WILLIAM HAMLIN CHILDS.
Treasurer, MR. SILAS D. WEBB, until June 20, 1919.
MR. JOHN H. LOVE, elected June 26, 1919.
Secretary, MR. S. C. MEAD.

On June 20, 1919, a vacancy was created in the Treasurership and in the Directorate by the death of Mr. Silas D. Webb, who for many years had been an earnest, active and unselfish worker in The Association, giving freely of his time and energy as a Committeeman, a Director, and an officer.

DIRECTORS AND COMMITTEEMEN.

SUCCESSFUL operation and service on the part of The Association would be impossible were it not for the constant unselfish devotion of the members of the Board of Directors and of the nearly 400 members of The Association who are giving service in its various standing and special Committees.

While the Board of Directors is vested with final authority and responsibility of action in the multiplicity of important matters before the organization, it is absolutely essential that the Board should be assisted by adequate machinery for research, study, analysis and recommendations relating to diverse and often fundamental matters. This latter function is performed by The Association's Committees, which are composed of men of broad experience and impartial judgment.

MEMBERS' COUNCIL

PERHAPS one of the most important functions of The Association is exercised through its Members' Council meetings in crystallizing thought upon subjects which are imminent and vital to the Nation and to the conduct of its industry, trade and commerce. Through the attendance of non-members as guests and through the publicity which is given to the addresses delivered at these meetings, this influence extends far beyond the limits of membership and constitutes a valuable contribution to the whole community.

Under the very able leadership of Mr. William C. Breed as Chairman of the Members' Council, the meetings this year have continued to bring home to the business men of the City a realization of the representative character, potency, and need in the community for such an organization as this Association, which fact reflects itself in the constantly increasing membership record.

BUREAUS

DURING the year The Association has had in operation the same number of service Bureaus with the same respective jurisdictions as were operative during the preceding year. It is through these instrumentalities, under the co-ordinating direction of the Secretary, that The Association is performing the very large portion of its administrative and service activities.

(A) Traffic Bureau.

TWO classes of service in traffic matters are rendered by The Association through the Traffic Bureau. The first class relates to co-operation in the attempt to solve fundamental traffic problems, to improve the traffic conditions under which commerce must move, and to endeavor to secure fair and equitable treatment of shippers in transportation matters. I would call especial attention to the report of the Bureau Manager in relation to the lines of activity and co-operation pursued in this class of work. In addition to the co-operation with the Railroad Administration, mentioned above, through the loan of the services of the Traffic Manager, I would emphasize The Association's activities in connection with the Transportation Act of 1920, as set forth partly in the report of the Traffic Bureau and partly in the report of the Research Bureau. In this same class of service falls the movement which started in the last month of the year by the creation of the Committee for the Protection of the Rights of the Public in the transportation of Goods, which has already been mentioned in this report.

The second class of service comes into more intimate contact with The Association's members because it is a service of assistance to them in connection with problems relative to the physical handling of commodities in transportation. It is particularly gratifying to call attention to the fact that The Association, through this Bureau, during the year, received 1,781 requests for service in traffic matters and complied with 1,740 of them, leaving only forty-one in course of completion at the end of the year.

(B) Foreign Trade Bureau.

IN addition to The Association's activities through the Foreign Trade Bureau relative to improvement in Customs Service, an enabling act to permit the creation of neutral trading zones, and improvement in the postal service, particularly the foreign service, to which I have already referred, I would call attention to the fact that in the report of the Manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau are a number of other fundamental and important subjects in which The Association has been active.

I take special pride, however, in calling attention to the large increase in direct service which The Association has been able to perform through the medium of this Bureau in connection with foreign trade. This specific service is divided into two classes: First, collecting, analyzing and distributing information on a wide diversity of subjects of importance to the actual exporter and importer, as indicated in the report of the Manager of the Bureau; Second, the receipt and distribution of information relative to trade opportunities in connection with foreign markets. During the year under review, 2,147 specific trade opportunities were received, as compared with 1,188 in the previous year. These inquiries cover 8,465 commodities as compared with 3,944 commodities in the previous year. The names of more than 108,000 firms, or something over 2,000 per week, were suggested to our inquirers, as compared with 42,000 suggested in the previous year, an increase of over 150 per cent.

Digitized by Google

It is interesting to note that of these trade opportunities four-fifths of the total came direct from foreign inquirers, the other one-fifth being received from foreign Consuls, banks and business houses located in New York and from chambers of commerce both in the United States and abroad. As in the previous year, the countries of Europe constitute the source of the largest proportion of these demands, Central America, West Indies and Canada being next in order.

(C) Industrial Bureau.

REFERENCE has already been made to the marked success of The Association's efforts through the Industrial Bureau in the replacement of soldiers, sailors and marines through the agency of the Re-Employment Bureau which was established by this Association at the request of the War Department.

The Bureau continued effective work in making various types of industrial surveys, as indicated in the report of the Bureau Manager, and also actively co-operated with the work of Committees other than the Industrial Committee, the jurisdictions of which Committees cover subjects closely related to the industrial situation. These Committees include Committees on Housing, Immigration, Naturalization and Americanization.

Special interest attaches to the growth in the direct personal service to members in connection with industrial matters, as shown in the report of the Bureau. There were received a total of 470 requests for information and service as against 406 in the previous year. Of these requests 461 have actually been complied with, as against 369 in the previous year, leaving nine requests in process of completion at the termination of the year.

From February 5, 1917, to February 28, 1920, the management of the Industrial Bureau had been in the very efficient hands of Mr. Alfred L. Smith, who was in immediate charge of the administrative work of the Bureau throughout the period in which The Association, through that Bureau, so actively co-operated with Government departments and agencies in connection with war problems. The excellent results of Mr. Smith's work in this connection, as well as in connection with the normal type of industrial activities, attracted attention with the result that Mr. Smith resigned to accept the position of General Manager of the Music Industries Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. A. The operations of the Bureau for the last two months of the year have been under the direction of Mr. Martin H. Dodge as Acting Manager.

(D) Legislative Service Bureau.

THE facilities for securing information and details relative to Federal and State laws; City ordinances; synopses of important laws of other States and foreign countries; the provisions and legislative status of bills, pending in Congress and the State Legislature; proposed City ordinances; the organization and personnel of governmental departments, commissions, boards, bureaus and committees; departmental orders, regulations, rules and decisions under various laws, have been much appreciated by The Association's membership, as shown by the growing extent to which that service is being employed.

Digitized by Google

There were received and complied with 1,850 specific requests for information, as compared with 1,068 such requests during the previous year, an increase of 782. Of these, 424, as compared with 331 for the previous year, related to Federal legislation, 872 as compared with 340 of the previous year to State legislation, fifty-seven as compared with 101 for the previous year to City ordinances, and 497 as compared with 387 for the previous year to miscellaneous matters.

Sixty-six of the State laws affecting business passed by the 1919 Legislature and approved during May and June, 1919, were analyzed and brought directly to the attention of the members of The Association. Two hundred and eighty-six bills introduced in the 1920 session, as compared with 278 bills in the 1919 session, were analyzed and the synopses were published to the members in "Greater New York," while twenty-three of the new laws which had been approved by May 1, 1920, were also analyzed and published. In the aggregate, therefore, 375 bills or laws were analyzed and published, as compared with 278 in the previous year. Of the pending bills, twenty were given consideration and study by The Association which took a position in favor of six, as compared with eleven in the previous year, and in opposition to fourteen as compared with thirteen in the previous year. Of the six bills approved by The Association, three were enacted and three failed of passage. Of the fourteen bills disapproved by The Association, only one was enacted, while thirteen failed of passage.

BECAUSE of the unsettled conditions incident to the war, during the previous year the number of conventions held in the City of New York had diminished some 20 per cent below the previous record. During the current year material improvement in that connection has been made. Six hundred and fifty-two conventions were held in New York City in this year, attended by more than a half million people who, while in the City, upon a conservative estimate, expended some $25,000,000. Ninety-three of these gatherings this year, as compared with ninety in the previous year, were directly due to the efforts of The Merchants' Association, through this Bureau.

I would call attention to the fact that co-operation by the hotels in The Association's convention work has been especially worthy of note during the past year. Though the hotels have been almost constantly well filled, all convention delegates have been comfortably housed without embarrassment or misunderstandings.

(F) Anti-Litter Bureau.

THE purpose of The Association to create an interest on the part of the citizens in co-operating to keep the streets clean and healthful is served through the Anti-Litter Bureau. During the year this Bureau, operating under the advisory supervision of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, has enlisted the active co-operation of 4,606 Block Captains. In addition there are many thousands co-operating with the Bureau who, while not Block Captains in the strict sense of the word, are reporting from time to time violations of the ordinances and unsightly conditions. The Bureau Manager reports that at least a total of 15,000 are, therefore, co-operating in this movement, there having been received and forwarded to the proper authorities for attention 5,173 specific complaints.

Digitized by Google

In addition, an educational campaign was carried on, principally through addresses delivered to the children in the City schools. These addresses are illustrated with lantern slides and are delivered by the Bureau Manager. During the year there were seventy-nine assemblies addressed, totaling over 30,500 in attendance. It is interesting to note that in the preceding year 4,200 citizens were co-operating as Block Captains or workers as compared with 4,606 Block Captains and silent workers sufficient to bring the aggregate up to about 15,000 during the current year.

(G) Bureau of Research.

IN view of the fact that this Bureau is the instrumentality through which research and investigation work is conducted in connection with many and diverse subjects which are before The Association's Committees for consideration, it is important that the report of that Bureau should be read in detail. Already I have made mention of The Association's activities in connection with the improvement of postal facilities, partly covered in the report of the Research Bureau and partly covered in the report of the Foreign Trade Bureau, and of the co-operation in connection with the Transportation Act of 1920.

The report of this Bureau also relates to street railway rates of fare, local transit situation, telephone service, inland waterways, and Port development.

(H) Publicity Bureau.

OWING to a continuation of the scarcity of print paper during the year, newspapers and trade journals continued to observe strict economy in the use of paper and, therefore, in the space available for publicity concerning The Association's activities, as far as length of articles was concerned. The total number of columns in the public press relative to The Association's work, as far as they have come to our attention, was 847 as compared with 860 for the previous year. The real test of the publicity value of the organization's work, however, does not lie so much in the length of the articles, particularly under present conditions of scarcity of paper, as in the number of articles. From the report of the Bureau's Manager it appears that during the year the average daily number of mentions of The Association and its work was a little over ten per day as compared with a little over nine per day in the preceding year. Appreciation from The Association and its members is due the press for this splendid co-operation.

The official channel of communication between The Association's machinery and its members is in its weekly publication "Greater New York." During the year a serious strike in the printing establishments in this City necessitated the suspension of the publication of "Greater New York" from September 29 to November 10. For a portion of that period no issues of "Greater New York" were published while during the latter part of the period numbers were gotten out by a typewriting process. The result was that the net number of issues of the year was forty-two as compared with forty-six for the previous year. Owing to this suspension due to the strike and to the effort to economize in the use of paper, the forty-two issues contained 776 pages as compared with 888 for the forty-six issues of the previous year.

(I) Membership Bureau.

IT gives me pleasure to report that the year closed with the highest membership record which The Association has ever attained. Strictly by non-intensive membership building methods, 816 new members were secured and seventy-six resignations were withdrawn, making a total of 892, which is an increase of nine for the combined total of new memberships and withdrawn resignations over the previous year. The net number of members at the close of the fiscal year was 6,363 as compared with 5,881 at the close of the previous year. During the year, 334 names were removed from the membership roll due in a very large part to deaths, temporary suspension of business, retirements, liquidations, consolidations or absorptions, receiverships or bankruptcies, removals from the City and cancellation or reduction in plural memberships. The net gain in membership was 558, as compared with 482 in the previous year. As appears from the report of the Membership Bureau this increase represents a natural growth well distributed throughout the year and throughout various lines of trade, commerce and industry in the City. In no year has the diversity of the new enrollment been greater. It fell under 120 different sub-divisions within forty-three of the forty-seven divisions covering the classification of the entire membership, as compared with 118 sub-divisions within forty of the forty-seven divisions in the previous year. It is interesting to note that this membership of 6,363 represents over 6,200 different business units in the community. As in the previous year, I would call attention to the fact that the very large proportion of membership is held by business firms or corporations which, on the average, consist of not less than three principals. Therefore, probably not less than 20,000 business men in New York City are earnestly and actively interested in the organization.

(J) Library.

DURING the year 1,579 requests for information were received and complied with by the Librarian, as compared with 1,482 in the previous year. These inquiries came from members of The Association, other libraries, schools, commercial organizations, business houses, and the office staff. They included calls for Government reports, Federal, State and City statistics, periodicals, atlases, directories, and various miscellaneous data.

The number of volumes and pamphlets added to the Library was 1,111, as compared with 1,141 in the previous year. Of these additions, 834 have actually been cataloged, and 277 are now in process of being cataloged. The total number of classified volumes on the shelves of The Association's Library now approximates 18,000, as compared with 16,872 at the close of the previous year.

(K) General Office.

THE general office, comprising the Financial, Filing and Stenographic Bureaus, the Mailing Department and the telephone switchboard, is under the immediate supervision and direction of the Assistant to the Secretary.

In spite of the general unsettled conditions of employment throughout the year, The Association has been very fortunate in having maintained at all times a very satisfactory staff in each of its Bureaus.

Digitized by Google

During the year 156,732 personal letters, 195,160 circular and form letters, and 18,552 packages were dispatched from The Association's office. The aggregate of these items, amounting to 370,464 pieces, represents an increase of 1,482 pieces over the previous year. In addition, 430,332 copies of the weekly bulletin, "Greater New York," were mailed, notwithstanding the fact that the issue of that bulletin was suspended for several weeks because of labor troubles in the printing establishments in the City. Including "Greater New York," the net total sent out by The Association, therefore, was 800,796, as compared with 786,314 pieces for the previous year.

OFFICE STAFF

EIGHT members were added to the office staff of The Association, which staff constitutes the paid machinery through which, under the supervision, direction and control of the Secretary, the administrative work of The Association is conducted. FINANCIAL STATUS

IT is gratifying to call attention to the fact that at all times during the year the finances of The Association have been sound and healthy and its revenue has been sufficient to cover all expenses incident to the work of the organization.

REFERENDA FROM THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

AS a constituent member of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, The Association received, during the year covered by this report, three referenda upon each of which The Association was entitled to cast ten ballots. These referenda, together with the action taken by The Association, were as follows:

No. 28. On the Report of the Committee on Railroads on Remedial Railroad Legislation.

Digitized by Google

This referendum included ten propositions dealing with the return of railroads to corporate ownership when remedial legislation shall have been enacted; consolidation, with approval of the Government, into a limited number of strong competing systems; Federal incorporation, and regulation of capital expenditures, also Federal regulation of intrastate rates affecting interstate commerce; payment into a fund of a share of the excess earned by any railroad system; and the formation of a Federal Transportation Board.

The ten ballots of The Association were cast in favor of each of the ten propositions contained in the referendum, with the exception of proposition No. 9, which recommended the payment of a share of the excess earned by any railroad system into a fund to be used as Congress directs for increasing general railroad credit and increasing general railroad efficiency. Upon this proposition, the ten ballots of The Association were cast in the negative.

No. 29. On the Report of the Committee on Ocean Transportation regarding Government Owned Merchant Ships.

Nine propositions were submitted in this referendum dealing with the sale of vessels; freedom from regulation as to routes and rates; restrictions on transfer of steel vessels to a foreign flag; marine insurance, underwriting regulations and classification of vessels; declaration by Congress of a permanent national policy; and operation of shipbuilding yards, etc.

The ten ballots of The Association were cast in favor of each one of these propositions except proposition No. 2, permitting the sale of Government owned vessels to regional associations, upon which the ballots were cast in opposition. The vote in favor of proposition No. 1, recommending the sale of wooden vessels and of steel vessels under 6,000 tons deadweight, on the best terms obtainable from American or foreign bidders was qualified as to the sale of ocean-going and coastwise steel ships.

No. 30. On the Report of the Special Committee on Department of Public Works.

This referendum contained three propositions; first, as to whether or not there should be established by the National government a Department of Public Works. On this proposition the ten ballots of The Association were cast in the affirmative. Second, whether or not a Department of Public Works should be established by a suitable modification of the existing Department of the Interior. On this proposition The Association refrained from voting. Third, should a Department of Public Works be established by the creation of an entirely new department. On this proposition, the ten ballots of The Association were cast in opposition.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE CONFERENCE

IN October, 1919, The Association participated in the meetings of the International Trade Conference, which were held at Atlantic City.

On the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, delegations representing the commercial, industrial and financial elements in Belgium, France, Great Britain and Italy were in attendance at that conference as guests of the National Chamber. By a well devised system of committee and group meetings, the various economic problems arising as a result of the war were presented and discussed, with the result that a much clearer mutual understanding was developed as between the delegates representing the four countries mentioned and the business men of the United States.

Digitized by Google

It was the unanimous conclusion of the delegates there assembled that some form of permanent organization should be created out of that conference, which should be known as the "International Chamber of Commerce." A Committee on Permanent Organization was created, which was charged with the responsibility of formulating a plan of organization and a constitution to be presented for consideration and action at a general international meeting to be held in Paris in June, 1920. In the deliberations of that Committee representatives of The Association actively participated.

As a part of the entertainment of these foreign delegates, a tour of the country was arranged, as far west as Kansas City, Missouri, terminating in a six days' stay in New York City as guests of the business men. The Merchants' Association of New York was designated by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to undertake the responsibility of organizing appropriate plans for the entertainment of these guests during their stay in New York, and of financing the plans. The Association undertook this responsibility and organized a Citizens' Reception Committee, in which all organizations in New York which were members of the National Chamber were invited to be represented. This Committee, working through a Subcommittee on Programmes and a Subcommittee on Finances, successfully carried out an attractive and appropriate plan of entertainment and so successfully provided the finances that after all expenses were paid a goodly percentage of contributions was returned. The administrative details were carried out through the staff of The Association, which was loaned for that purpose.

As a part of the entertainment programme, The Association, through its Members' Council, tendered a most interesting and successful luncheon to the delegation.

CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER BODIES

THE ASSOCIATION has continued its active organization membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; has retained membership in the New York State Waterways Association; in the Conference of General Commercial Organizations of the State of New York; has participated in the foreign trade conference held under the auspices of the Foreign Trade Council, and has actively co-operated with other chambers of commerce in many parts of the country in the formation of a National Free Zone Association, in which body The Merchants' Association holds membership. Many lines of co-operation in specific matters with commercial organizations in different parts of the country have been followed, both in connection with matters suggested by such other organizations and in connection with matters suggested by The Merchants' Association itself.

Co-operation with other general commercial organizations in New York City during the year developed along a number of important lines, resulting in the creation of joint citizens' committees, the two principal joint committees being, first, the Citizens' Transit Committee referred to in the report of the Director of Research, and, second, the Citizens' Transportation Committee previously referred to in this report and in more detail described in the report of the Traffic Bureau.

PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCES

THE ASSOCIATION actively participated in the Pan-American Trade Conference which was held in Washington in June, 1919, and in the Second Pan-American Financial Conference which was held in Washington in January, 1920.

TEXAS RELIEF FUND

IN response to a request from the Governor of Texas, from the Texas Relief Committee and from the Mayor of Corpus Christi, The Association invited contributions to a special fund for the relief of sufferers from the tornado which occurred in and about Corpus Christi, Texas, in September, 1919. As the result of this invitation, nearly $22,000 was collected and forwarded to the Governor of the State of Texas.

CHARITABLE SUBSCRIPTIONS

UNDER arrangements which The Association has made with the Charity Organization Society of the City of New York, the services of that Society's Bureau of Advice and Information are placed at the disposal of the members of The Merchants' Association without charge, for information relative to local charities seeking contributions from business men. Under a somewhat similar arrangement with the National Information Bureau, the services of that Bureau are available without charge to the members of The Association for information relative to organizations seeking subscriptions, other than local organizations.

In the period under review, the Bureau of Advice and Information of the Charity Organization Society has rendered 963 reports to 335 members of The Association, while the National Information Bureau has rendered 309 reports to 165 members of The Association and thirty-four reports directly to The Association itself, making a total of 343 reports for the year, covering 134 different organizations. In the aggregate, therefore, 1,272 reports were furnished direct to 500 members, and thirty-four reports were furnished directly to The Association office.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

THE ASSOCIATION vigorously opposed the efforts to secure the abolition of daylight saving. In 1919 it supported the President in opposition to the rider in the Agricultural Appropriation Bill, providing for the repeal of the Federal Saving Daylight Law. This rider was adopted by Congress, the bill was vetoed by the President and subsequently was passed by Congress over his veto. It actively assisted in securing the adoption of a City ordinance providing for local application of the saving daylight principle, and it vigorously opposed the bill in the 1920 session of the State Legislature for the repeal of the State Saving Daylight Law. This bill was passed by the Legislature but was subsequently vetoed by the Governor.

BUREAU OF FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC COMMERCE

THE ASSOCIATION vigorously opposed the provisions of a portion of the bill pending in Congress in the Spring of 1920, decreasing the appropriations for the operation of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce and proposing to transfer certain of its functions to the State Department. As a result of vigorous protest on the part of commercial organizations throughout the country in which this Association actively participated, the proposed change failed, and the necessary appropriations for the Department of Commerce were continued.

MID-EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

IN January, 1920, The Association adopted a memorial and resolution to Congress urging that the United States Grain Corporation or other suitable agency be authorized to purchase and transport food supplies to the Mid-European countries, outside of Germany, where famine is imminent and where the governments are unable to provide food supplies and other necessities of life, and to sell such supplies on credit to those governments. The memorial further urged that such sum be appropriated by Congress as might be necessary for that purpose.

In addition to sending this memorial to the members of Congress, it was sent to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and other business organizations with an invitation for co-operation along similar lines. This was approved by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which action was transmitted to each organization member of that body.

In March, 1920, a group of diplomatic and commercial representatives of the new countries of Central Europe were entertained by The Merchants' Association at an informal luncheon. The guest list included representatives from Greece, Poland, Serbia, Finland, Roumania, Czecho-Slovakia and Lithuania. This luncheon afforded an opportunity to the representatives of those countries to present to the Directors and members of the Foreign Trade Committee of The Association valuable information relative to economic and trade conditions and opportunities existing in their respective countries.

LICENSING BUSINESS

AFTER a careful study and analysis of the provisions of the Kenyon Bill S. 2202, which was pending in the United States Senate for the purpose of licensing stockyards, etc., The Association vigorously opposed that and similar measures upon the fundamental principles involved.

HISTORY OF WAR ACTIVITIES

IN the fall of 1919, there was published in pamphlet form, a History of the War Activities of The Merchants' Association of New York. This sets forth first, The Association's work for preparedness; second, its activities during the period of neutrality; third, its war service to the Government; fourth, its war service to semi-official organizations; fifth, its war service to members; sixth, its post-war activities up to the date of publication. This History has been received with warm commendation and interest by members, other organizations, and Government officials.

HOUSING

AS a result of the study and investigations conducted by the Special Committee on Housing, the appointment of which was announced in the previous annual report, the conclusion was reached that no material decrease in cost of construction could be expected during the year under review or probably in the immediate future, and that because of the operation of the provisions of income tax laws, money had been largely driven out of the mortgage money market. The Association proposed and actively advocated amendment to the Federal and State laws whereby capital not to exceed $40,000 on the part of any individual, invested in mortgages on real estate, should be exempted from the application of the Income Tax law. Such exemption, in the opinion of The Association, would attract into the mortgage money market a great number of small sums which, in the aggregate, would furnish a very material amount and would stimulate the construction of buildings in spite of the higher costs.

The Association also advocated the creation of a Bureau of Housing and Living Conditions in the Department of Labor.

HARBOR AND PIER IMPROVEMENT

DURING the year The Association again urged the War Department to extend the pierhead line on the North River from Tenth Street to Seventy-second Street one hundred feet, in order that the temporary extension of one hundred feet permitted in 1911, the operation of which has shown no interference with navigation, should be made permanent.

It was advocated that a policy be adopted whereby piers, when constructed, be equipped in a manner to make them appropriate in equipment for the purposes for which the piers are to be used; it advocated the widening of the marginal way south of Rector Street; it urged the straightening of the Harlem River and the freeing of that watercourse from obstructions to effective navigation; it advocated the opening of streets to the canal terminals located in Greater New York, and it endeavored to secure the return of control of the Erie Canals from the Federal to the State government.

It further co-operated with the Commissioner of Docks by appointing, at his request, a member of a Committee to redraft the rules and regulations of the Department.

POLLUTION AND SEWERAGE

THROUGH the Committee on Pollution and Sewerage, The Association has continued its annual activities in the effort to eliminate flies. The usual distribution of cards and printed material has been made throughout the City, State and Nation.

Study of the systems of garbage disposal has been continued under Professor Olin H. Landreth, and the result of this study will be forthcoming during the succeeding year. Much attention was given to the need of an adequate trunk sewerage system for New York City, and a Constitutional amendment which would assist in the solution of this problem was advocated. The Association advocated the adoption of an ordinance forbidding the throwing of waste oil into the harbor.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIVITIES.

THE limitations of space for an annual report do not permit the development in detail of many of the activities of The Association. As indicative of additional and varied lines of work pursued during the year, however, I would mention miscellaneously the following:

Digitized by Google

Advocacy of universal military training.

Opposition to a bill designed to take from the Federal Reserve Board the power of regulating the charges for collection of foreign checks.

Advocacy of the adoption of a National budget.

Support of the State constitutional amendment in re: absent voters.

Co-operation in perfecting the laws relative to patents, trade-marks and copyrights, more particularly in relation to the operation of the Pan-American Convention and its international office at Havana.

Efforts to correct the local administration of the Personal Property Tax Law.

Analysis of the practicability of the proposed participation by the United States in the construction of a deep channel St. Lawrence River waterway.

Advocacy of the continuation of the Federal policy of acquiring forest preserves in the White and Appalachian Mountains.

Opposition to the proposed blanket bonus to veterans of the World War.

Co-operation in connection with the snow removal problem.

Co-operation in securing legislation to make agreements for arbitration of commercial disputes effective.

Advocacy of relief to merchants on Fifth Avenue through proper limitation of parades on that thoroughfare.

Advocacy of bringing all organizations equally under the operation of the Anti-Trust and other Federal laws.

This miscellaneous list is indicative of the many activities which cannot be contained within the limits of this report.

"GREATER NEW YORK"

From week to week these various activities are reported to the membership and the public through the columns of "Greater New York." That publication constitutes the official source of communication between the machinery of The Association on the one hand, and its membership and the public on the other. In order that the members may have a knowledge of the breadth, scope and multiplicity of subjects in which their organization is taking an active part, it is necessary that they should examine each issue of "Greater New York" as it appears. In its columns will be found information on many matters which will be of direct interest and benefit to members in the conduct of their respective businesses.

CONCLUSION

From the brief summaries contained in this report, and from the more detailed statements in the reports of the Bureaus, attached hereto, it is evident that the year under review has been marked by a gratifying development in the service operations of The Association and in the degree of use which the members are making of these services.

Digitized by Google

The effects of the war upon the rehabilitation of commerce, industry and finance have not yet become entirely clear, and many problems arising therefrom face the business community and will become more and more pressing for solution. Herein appears to lie the greatest opportunity of service on the part of The Association, at least during the coming year, and it is to be hoped that members, by using their organization and by making contributions to it of advice and effort will thereby make it an even more effective instrument of usefulness than it has been in the year under review.

As Secretary of The Association, responsible for the quality and efficiency of the personnel of its office staff, it gives me much gratification again to commend the loyalty, disinterestedness, efficiency and high character of the staff members.

Respectfully submitted,

S. C. MEAD,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE TRAFFIC BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

HEREWITH is submitted a review of the activities of The Association through the Traffic Bureau for the year ended April 30, 1920.

Transportation Committee.

THE work of The Association, through the Traffic Bureau, was conducted under the general advisory supervision of the Transportation Committee composed of:

MR. CHARLES S. KEENE, Chairman;	MR. WALDO H. MARSHALL,
MR. WILLIAM B. DUDLEY,	MR. DANIEL P. MORSE,
MR. JOHN F. FOWLER,	MR. E. C. POTTER, JR.,
MR. C. F. GREGORY,	MR. RALPH S. STUBBS,
MR. JOHN G. LUKE,	MR. ARTHUR P. WILLIAMS.

The Committee reviews and gives special consideration to the principles involved in transportation matters of public interest, namely: (a) transportation matters which are of general interest to members as affecting the trade and welfare of New York; (b) proposed legislation involving State, interstate and foreign transportation; (c) remedial legislation which may be found necessary in the protection of the public in transportation matters. Upon these subjects it renders its recommendations to the Directors.

Traffic Bureau, Functions of.

THE Traffic Bureau is the instrument through which The Association conducts its activities in transportation matters and carries out the recommendations of the Transportation Committee after approval by the Directors.

Upon the Traffic Bureau devolves the duty of conducting on behalf of The Association, where the public interest is involved, negotiations with carriers pertaining to rate adjustments, rules and regulations; appearances before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the State Public Service Commission on matters of general public concern, and before legislative committees on proposed legislation involving transportation matters.

The Traffic Bureau is likewise the medium through which The Association handles routine transportation matters of general interest to the shipping public. These cover the entire transportation field, involving rate adjustments, classification of freight, rules and regulations pertaining to the receipt, transportation, delivery and storage of freight, rates and service rendered to passengers.

Traffic Bureau Manager.

THE Traffic Manager has devoted the greater part of his time to the handling of transportation questions of general interest to all shippers; questions involving railroad policy as affecting New York which come before the carrier organizations; proceedings before legislative bodies, and the handling of matters brought before the Interstate Commerce Commission. As proceedings before the Commission are conducted along judicial lines, it is necessary for the Traffic Manager to supervise the preparation of petitions, arrange for the presentation of testimony, arguments, briefs and other details in connection with the conduct of such cases. In practically all cases the Traffic Manager prepares the briefs and conducts the oral arguments before the Commission.

Digitized by Google

Membership Assistance.

WHILE the primary object of The Association in dealing with transportation matters is to promote the trade and welfare of New York, in pursuance of which policy it has to deal with transportation questions of general interest to all shippers, and questions involving public policy, The Association is not unmindful of the interests of the individual member.

The Traffic Bureau, in addition to encouraging the use of the Bureau by members on matters pertaining to transportation, is at the same time striving to furnish advice and assistance to the individual members of The Association on methods to be employed in their own establishments for the supervision of their transportation requirements. That the service is of value and has proved beneficial to our members is evidenced by the many expressions of appreciation and good will we have received from those assisted and the volume of the calls upon the Bureau by individual members for advice.

Many questions arise with our members which involve the interpretation of the Act to Regulate Commerce; administrative rulings issued by the Commission involving transportation; technical cases involving the interpretations of bills of lading conditions, rates, rules and regulations of carriers and differences between shipper and carrier with relation thereto. With a complete development of the facts we have not found it difficult to harmonize these differences and repeatedly avoided the necessity for bringing complaints or suits.

By reason of the policy of fairness in dealing with these matters, the recognition of the rights of both shipper and carrier, and helpfulness in the adjustment of complaints, the carriers have shown a most friendly disposition to the furnishing of essential information which they only could disclose and to otherwise assist the Traffic Bureau.

The following table represents a summary of the number of matters handled by the Traffic Bureau:

As illustrative of the diversified nature of matters on which our members apply for advice or assistance see appendix attached to this report.

United States Railroad Administration.

BY reason of the war with Germany the operation of the railroads of the United States was, by Act of Congress, placed under Federal control, effective with January 1, 1918. Authority with respect to the operation and management of the railroads under Federal control as a National system was vested with the United States Railroad Administration under the direction of a Director General of Railroads. During the period covered by this report, with the exception of the months of March and April, 1920, the carriers under Federal control have been subject to rules and regulations prescribed by the Director General. The carriers were released from Federal control on March 1, 1920, under the provisions of the Transportation Act 1920, which became effective on March 1, 1920.

Shippers' Representation on Traffic Committees.

FOLLOWING the "twenty-five per cent freight rate increase" ordered by the Director General of Railroads the United States Railroad Administration created (Aug., 1918) freight traffic committees composed of railroad traffic officers and representatives of the shipping public for the purpose of considering and working out proposed revision of rates, classification, regulations and practices of carriers and of reporting thereon with the recommendations of the Committee to the Directors, Division of Traffic and Division of Public Service.

The Traffic Manager was a member of the Eastern Freight Traffic Committee as the shippers' representative for Eastern territory, his services having been loaned by The Association. The volume and nature of the work which came before this committee practically engaged all of the time of the members thereof.

These committees terminated with the release of the roads from Federal control on March 1, 1920, thereby enabling the Traffic Manager to return to his usual duties with The Merchants' Association.

Transportation Act, 1920.

THE control and operation of the railroads by the Federal government, necessitated by the emergency of the war, made more evident the need for "remedial railroad legislation" protective of the interests of the carriers, the shipping public and the investor in railroad properties.

Many plans were proposed and numerous bills were introduced in Congress having for their purpose a more extensive plan of railway regulation.

While it would be impracticable to set forth within the scope of this report the various plans proposed and the numerous bills that were introduced in Congress, the Transportation Committee gave consideration to and made an intensive study of the several plans, as well as of the two outstanding bills before Congress, namely: the Esch-Pomerene and the Cummins bills in which were embraced in legislative form the proposals for remedial railroad legislation. Reports thereon with the recommendations of the Committee were transmitted to the Board of Directors.

Digitized by Google

Extensive hearings were conducted by both the Senate and House Committes, before whom the views of The Merchants' Association of New York were placed.

After an extended discussion of the bills in the Senate and House, in which widely varying views prevailed, the Senate and House measures were referred to a joint conference committee by which the Transportation Act, 1920, was devised, which became the law March 1, 1920. This constitutes the most progressive piece of railroad legislation since the Act to Regulate Commerce, enacted April 1, 1887.

In the Transportation Act there are many provisions incorporating principles for "remedial railroad legislation" recommended by the Transportation Committee which were approved by the Board of Directors, namely:

Return of roads to corporate operation with passage of remedial legislation.

Continuance of corporate ownership and operation of railroads.

Permission for consolidation of railroads and pooling of freight with approval of the Federal Authority, as in the public interest.

Federal regulation of capital expenditure and security issues.

Federal regulation of intrastate rates affecting interstate rates.

Statutory rule of rate making, providing that rates in each traffic section shall yield an adequate return on a fair value of the property as determined by public authority.

The promotion by the Federal Government of a national system of rail, water and highway transportation and articulation of all transportation facilities.

Adjustment of disputes between carriers and their employees, involving wages and conditions of service.

The Transportation Act also contains many provisions amending the Act to Regulate Commerce with relation to car service, joint use of terminals, suspension of tariffs, routing of freight, through routes and joint rates in complete harmony with recommendations made by the Transportation Committee.

"Plumb Plan" for Government Operation and Ownership of Railroads.

CONSIDERATION was given by the Transportation Committee to the so-called "Plumb Plan" for government ownership and operation of the railroads as incorporated in Bill H. R. 8157.

It was the view of the Committee that as The Merchants' Association of New York has repeatedly declared its opposition to government ownership and operation of railroads the bill be not approved, and that The Merchants' Association of New York should continue to favor the enactment of comprehensive legislation for the control of railroads under private ownership and operation.

New York State Barge Canal.

UNDER the provisions of the Public Service Commission Law of the State of New York, that Commission has the power to require the establishment of physical connection between the lines of the rail carrier and the dock of the water carrier. It is proposed by the State, in the construction of public canal terminals, to embrace in such construction railroad tracks to serve the commerce of such canal terminals.

Digitized by Google

For the purpose of providing for railroad operation within the barge canal terminals it was proposed to amend the Public Service Commission Act by incorporating therein the following provisions:

1. Giving power to the Public Service Commission to compel rail carriers to operate upon railroad tracks with their own motive equipment and by their own agents within the canal terminals.

2. Requiring rail carriers to file tariffs for all service into and out of canal terminals and over connecting lines of such carriers by rail.

3. Requiring rail carriers to establish reasonable rates and authorizing the Public Service Commission to establish reasonable rates to supersede those rates which are found upon complaint to be unreasonable.

The Transportation Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the proposed legislation be approved by The Merchants' Association of New York, which action was taken.

Long and Short Haul Rule.

THE Transportation Committee gave consideration to bills introduced in the Senate and the House of Representatives proposing to take from the Interstate Commerce Commission its discretionary power to authorize departures from the "long and short haul clause" of the Interstate Commerce Act and thereby establish a rigid rule prohibiting the application of a lower rate for the longer than for the shorter haul, even though there might be compelling water competition at the longer haul point

The Transportation Committee reaffirmed the position taken by The Association in the previous Congress to the effect that discretionary power should be left with the Commission, and directed that the Traffic Manager appear before the Senate and House committees in opposition to a change in the existing law, as it would mean a limitation of competition between carriers by rail as well as carriers by rail and water.

As a result of the intense opposition on the part of shippers which developed at the hearings the proposed bills were not reported out of the committees.

The Transportation Act did, however, so amend the law as to provide in the case of meeting water competition, that the competition must be actual and not potential.

Two-Year Provision for Bringing Suit.

FOLLOWING the enactment by Congress of the first Cummins amendment (March 4, 1915) with relation to "the limitation of liability by common carriers," which amendment contained a provision that carriers could not provide for a shorter period than two years for the bringing of suit for loss, damage or delay; the carriers inserted in their bills of lading the following condition:

"Suits for loss, damage, or delay shall be instituted only within two years and one day after delivery of the property, or in case of failure to make delivery, then within two years and one day after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed."

Digitized by Google

For some time after the two year and one day clause became operative, the carriers generally, where claims were lawfully presented within the six months' period prescribed for the filing of claims, paid the claims found to be meritorious, without regard to how long a period had elapsed after the filing, although no suit had been instituted within the two year period. In the latter part of 1918, some of the carriers took the position that the two year and one day limitation for instituting suits was a valid defense which they could not lawfully waive, even though the claims were meritorious and the delay in disposing of them was due to the fault of the carrier.

Proceedings before the Commission were instituted because carriers were declining to adjust claims properly and lawfully presented which they had not disposed of before the termination of the two year and one day period solely on the ground that suit had not been instituted within the period prescribed. The Traffic Manager, in addition to representing The Merchants' Association of New York at the hearing and on argument, also represented on their request the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce, Rochester and Syracuse Chambers of Commerce, the National League of Commission Merchants and various other commercial and trade organizations.

The Commission in rendering its decision found in favor of the complainants, and held that the provision was unjust and unreasonable, etc.

Uniform Classification.

THE Merchants' Association has persistently advocated for a number of years the adoption of a uniform classification as to description of articles, package requirements, minimum weights and rules and regulations and the publication thereof in a consolidated classification in order that uniformity as to practice might prevail in all territories.

A proposed consolidated freight classification was prepared under the direction of the United States Railroad Administration which was submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission for investigation and recommendations regarding its adoption by carriers.

Following extensive hearings held at various important cities throughout the United States the Commission recommended the adoption of the proposed consolidated classification with some modifications. In shaping the final form of this consolidated classification, The Association, through this Bureau, actively participated. Consolidated Classification No. 1 was made effective December 30, 1919, thus marking a material advance toward the securing of uniformity and simplicity in rate construction.

Demurrage Charges.

BASED upon representations made by shippers to the United States Railroad Administration that the demurrage charges established while we were engaged in the war were no longer necessary as a war measure by reason of the armistice and the discontinuance of the movement of munitions and supplies for troops abroad, and were herefore unreasonable and unjust, the Director General of Railroads issued an order effective July 20, 1919, reducing the charge to $2.00 per car per day for first four days after expiration of the free time, and for each succeeding day $5.00 per car per day. The above rates represent a substantial reduction from the previous charge, in securing which result The Association took a leading part.

Digitized by Google

Coastwise Steamship Lines.

ON March 13, 1920, the longshoremen employed on the piers of the coastwise steamship lines went out on strike, thus effectually tying up the operation of these lines. The men failing to return to work under the award made by the National Adjustment Board, the executive officers of the coastwise steamship lines addressed a communication to The Merchants' Association of New York under date of April 6, 1920, wherein these steamship companies asked the co-operation of the merchants of New York in enabling the steamship lines to perform their functions as common carriers.

The questions submitted were:

1. Will the merchants of New York co-operate with the steamship companies to the end of seeing that their freight is delivered to and removed from the piers expeditiously?
2. Are the merchants prepared to give this co-operation and the assurance that this necessary link in the service of transportation is supplied?
3. The extent of the aid and assistance which may be expected.

The Transportation Committee gave immediate consideration to the communication and submitted the following recommendation to the Board of Directors:

"WHEREAS, The present interruption in the free movement of freight to and from the Port of New York is seriously affecting the commerce of New York and its prestige as the leading commercial center of the United States and the greatest shipping port in the world; and

"WHEREAS, These interruptions to transportation are seriously affecting the welfare and convenience of the public and are contributing to the high cost of living by interference with food and other supplies essential to the health and comfort of the people of this great metropolitan city; and

"WHEREAS, The function of a common carrier is to receive for transportation freight tendered to it, and on arrival at destination, to place such freight in an accessible place for delivery; and

"WHEREAS, It is the duty of the receiver of freight to accept it and remove such freight from the terminal facilities of the carrier with reasonable expedition; and

"WHEREAS, These interruptions to the movement of commerce to and from the Port of New York are resulting in the congestion of carriers' terminal facilities and the embargoing of the receipt by the carrier of freight for delivery in New York and are resulting in the diversion of commerce from the City of New York; it is therefore the

"RECOMMENDATION of the Transportation Committee that the communication received from the executives of the coastwise lines and the accompanying memorandum setting forth the position of the managers of said coastwise lines be circularized to the members of The Merchants' Association of New York, with the end in view of securing from our members an expression as to the extent of the aid and assistance which may be rendered by the merchants in the prompt delivery to or removal from the piers of their freight."

Digitized by Google

The Association sent a circular letter to a large number of its shipping members asking them for the information which the steamship companies desired to have. An overwhelming majority of the replies received pledged the writers to remove and deliver freight in case the steamship lines should resume operations.

The Merchants' Association notified the steamship lines of the result, and they in turn notified The Association that they would endeavor to resume operations, and that it was their intention to fill the places of striking employees with permanent employees.

A considerable proportion of the letter sent to The Merchants' Association in response to its inquiry reported threats and intimidations along the waterfront which were preventing truckmen from making deliveries and carting away goods. In view of this information, The Merchants' Association sent a delegation to the Police Commissioner to request adequate protection for the truckmen. It was explained to the Commissioner that conditions had become intolerable and the business men of this City desired that the City's police power be employed to give them such protection as would enable them to conduct their business without molestation. The Police Commissioner promised that police protection would be given.

Following the conference with the City authorities for police protection to prevent violence, The Association sent a telegram to the President calling attention to the paralysis of transportation facilities at New York, and asking him to set in motion the Federal machinery established to protect citizens in the exercise of their privileges and pointing out that the strikes in New York City were infringing upon civil rights.

President William Fellowes Morgan called a meeting of representatives of the leading commercial organizations in this City at the headquarters of The Merchants' Association. As a result of this meeting, the officers of these organizations formed a "Committee for the Protection of the Rights of the Public in the Transportation of Goods," to secure the free and uninterrupted movement of commerce at New York, which committee began its activities at the end of the period covered by the report.

Isthmian Steamship Line.

THE Isthmian Steamship Line, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Products Company operating a steamship service through the Panama Canal to the West Coast of the United States, applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to continue the operation of said steamship line despite the provisions of Section 5 of the Interstate Commerce law which forbids any railroad company to have any interest whatsoever in any common carrier operating through the Panama Canal with which it does or may compete for traffic upon said route. The Interstate Commerce law confers jurisdiction upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine questions of fact as to competition between railroads and water lines; hence the petition. The facts in the case were considered by the Transportation Committee, which made the following recommendation to the Board of Directors:

> "WHEREAS, There is no practical or potential competition between the lines of the railroad owned and controlled by the United States Steel Corporation, and the transportation by water through the Panama Canal by the United States Steel Products Company, also owned and controlled by the United States Steel Corporation; and

"WHEREAS, It is proposed by the United States Steel Products Company to establish regular sailings between the Port of New York and the West Coast of the United States through the Panama Canal, and to place in said service a number of vessels now constructed and others under construction awaiting delivery, to be operated as common carriers; and

"WHEREAS, There is now no regular steamship service between the Port of New York and the West Coast of the United States; and

"WHEREAS, It is in the interest of the public and is of advantage to the convenience and commerce of the people that the service of transportation by water through the Panama Canal should be resumed; and

"WHEREAS, The instituting of through water service between the East and West Coast of the United States via the Panama Canal would serve to promote competition, and would make use of the facilities of transportation by water as contemplated with the construction of the Panama Canal; it is therefore

"RECOMMENDED by the Transportation Committee that The Merchants' Association of New York approve and encourage the promotion of service by water through the Panama Canal; and it is further

"RECOMMENDED that the Traffic Bureau of The Merchants' Association of New York intervene and be a party to the proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the pending case in the interests of the Port of New York and of the general shipping public."

These recommendations were unanimously adopted.

The decision rendered by the Commiss on in this case was favorable to the views expressed by the Transportation Committee in its recommendations.

Intermediate Rate Association Case.

THE Intermediate Rate Association, representing the intermountain cities, in 1919 brought a proceeding before the Interstate Commerce Commission (Docket 10826) protesting the relation of the rates from eastern points of origin to the intermountain cities as compared with the rates from the same points of origin to the Pacific coast cities and asked the Commission to prescribe the reasonable relation which should prevail.

It was apparently not in the contemplation of the complainants that there would be a disturbance of the relation of rates between the different points of origin in the East.

Investigation disclosed that at the close of the hearings on the original complaint, a committee of traffic representatives of western lines was appointed for the purpose of outlining for the consideration of the Commission a new plan of rates on both classes and commodities from Missouri River and eastern territories to the intermountain country and the Pacific Coast, and that the Traffic Committee had recommended substantial advances in the rates from New York and eastern points of origin to various destinations.

As the proposed adjustment was not before the Commission on the hearing of the Intermediate Rate Association complaint, and if adopted would mean not only a substantial advance in the rates from New York and eastern territory to the Pacific Coast and intermountain territory but would materially disturb the relation of the rates from New York as compared with Chicago and middle west points, and as the shippers located in the eastern territory had not had an opportunity to be heard, The Merchants' Association of New York and other commercial bodies representing the eastern shippers asked that the case be reopened for further hearings.

These petitions were granted and further hearings were assigned during the month of May at New York, Chicago, Spokane and San Francisco.

Publicity.

THROUGH the columns of "Greater New York" the Traffic Bureau keeps the membership informed on transportation matters of general public interest and orders and opinions issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission as affecting shippers generally.

The publication is also availed of in disseminating advice to members on shipping and shipping conditions.

All members engaged in shipping are, therefore, urged carefully to examine each issue of "Greater New York" and place such information before their shipping departments.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. LINCOLN,

Manager, Traffic Bureau.

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN TRADE BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE chief activities of The Association through its Foreign Trade Bureau during the year ending April 30, 1920, are contained in the following report.

The Bureau co-operates with several committees of The Association, but its work is primarily under the advisory supervision of the Foreign Trade Committee, the composition of which is as follows:

MR. LUCIUS R. EASTMAN, Chairman;
MR. MAURICE COSTER,
MR. E. A. DE LIMA,
MR. WILLIAM H. DOUGLAS,
MR. C. F. GREGORY,
MR. FREDERICK D. HERBERT,
MR. FREDERICK J. A. MCKITTRICK,
MR. C. A. RICHARDS,
MR. GEORGE H. RICHARDS,
MR. HENRY F. SAMSTAG,
MR. DONALD B. STEWART,
MR. HENRY B. TWOMBLY,
MR. GUSTAV VINTSCHGER.

In general, the lines of work which previous years have proved of definite value to members were followed. The wisdom, from the point of view of the sound development of American foreign trade, of the policy inaugurated by The Association in the inception of this Bureau six years ago namely, to give as careful attention to the upbuilding of imports as to exports, is more and more apparent, it now being generally realized that the continued extension of export trade is impossible without a corresponding growth in imports. The efforts in aiding both importers and exporters are evident in the activities listed and in the detail figures given below.

Improvement of Customs Service.

THE work of The Association in bringing relief to importers handicapped by inefficient Customs Service is illustrative of our practical efforts to aid importing firms and houses handling imported merchandise.

During the latter part of 1919, numerous and widespread complaints reached the Bureau regarding the growing demoralization and inefficiency of service at the Customs House and Appraisers' Stores. These complaints became so serious and pressing that the Committee on Customs Service and Revenue Law made a thorough investigation of the extent and the causes of the breakdown. It was soon apparent that all branches of the service were much undermanned, due to the continual resignation and withdrawal of employees and the impossibility of filling vacancies, because of the small salaries and wages paid. Without Congressional action, however, salaries and wages could not be increased.

In our campaign to remedy this situation, a printed pamphlet of fifteen pages containing a summary of the findings and recommendations of The Association was distributed broadcast, copies going to members of Congress, commercial organizations all over the United States, Secretaries of the leading Rotary Clubs, all Collectors of Customs, interested importers, exporters and merchants and manufacturers in New York City and elsewhere. In this way attention was drawn to the seriousness of the problem, and sentiment regarding the remedy proposed was crystallized. In this work The Association was constantly in conference with the Treasury Department, with which Department we worked in close co-operation. A bill introduced by Senator Calder of New York, appropriating $1,000,000 for the Customs Service during the remainder of the fiscal year failed, and it was concluded that efforts should be centered in obtaining adequate funds for the forthcoming year which begins July 1. Preliminary efforts to obtain legislation removing the limitation fixed by Congress upon four groups of Customs employees were also abandoned.

At this time, a second booklet, eleven pages in length, was printed reviewing the essential facts, bringing conditions up to date, and making specific proposals for the necessary remedy. This was also distributed all over the United States, and letters and telegrams were sent to hundreds of firms and organizations urging them to support our movement. Co-operation was promised from all sections of the country. After frequent visits to Washington by representatives of The Association, under the guidance of Senator Calder of New York, favorable action by the Senate was eventually obtained. The conferees agreed to an increase of $1,300,000 beyond the $10,000,000 granted in recent years.

This successful outcome of one of the most difficult and protracted undertakings of The Association will be of great value to the Government, in allowing its proper revenue from customs, and to firms in New York and elsewhere, by restoring the Customs Service to its former efficient basis.

Fluctuating Rate of Exchange.

PRIOR to last year it was customary to liquidate entries of merchandise at the standard rate of exchange, rather than at the current or fluctuating rate, a ruling being effective that if the value of the foreign money of invoice varied ten per cent or more from normal, importers might, after liquidating, make application for a return of the overpayment. This practice did not cause complaint until last Fall, when the wide fluctuations of exchange made it serious. The Association, upon the recommendation of the Committee on Customs Service and Revenue Law, vigorously urged a change in this practice. Numerous protests were sent by letter and telegraph, and several delegations visited Washington to review phases of the situation with the Treasury Department.

Through the efforts of The Association, a plan was made effective whereby American Consuls abroad were instructed to issue a certificate of depreciation indicating the local value of the money of invoice at the date of consulating, on which basis the immediate and final liquidation of the entry is made.

The Association also protested against the practice of considering only cases where the variation exceeded ten per cent, maintaining that the Government should not accept from importers any overpayment whatsoever, and this point eventually prevailed. In the interim, until the order became effective, the Collector of the Port of New York, on our proposal, agreed to accept as the correct value of foreign moneys, the daily value given by the Federal Reserve Bank, a plan thoroughly acceptable to our members.

Administrative Features of Tariff Law.

THE Association made an effort to bring about a modification of the administrative features of the Tariff Law, independent of a change in rates of duty, concerning which The Association takes no position. The United States Tariff Commission, some time ago, incorporated with their recommendations on this subject, many proposals of The Association. The whole matter has been before Congress for a considerable time without any action.

Foreign Trading Zones and Formation of the National Free Zone Association.

EFFORTS were continued in favor of legislation permitting the establishment in the United States of neutral, or foreign trading, zones. After exchanging letters and telegrams with San Francisco and New Orleans, it was decided that The Merchants' Association invite representatives of twenty-one commercial organizations in leading cities, chiefly on the seaboard, to participate in a conference held here during June. Forty-four delegates attended the conference, which lasted three days, and at which the National Free Zone Association was organized. The writer acted as Secretary of the conference and for a considerable time as temporary Secretary of the National Free Zone Association.

The Merchants' Association has supported the National Free Zone Association in its endeavors to secure the desired legislation by accepting membership, by continuing its propaganda in favor of free zones, by sending delegates to attend hearings in Washington, etc. Following one of the hearings, the Bureau prepared a statement answering arguments advanced by persons appearing in opposition to free zones. This was forwarded to the members of the Congressional committees before which the hearings were held, and printed in full in "Greater New York."

Preferential Tariffs in the British Empire.

EARLY in the year the Bureau was requested to make inquiry with regard to the correctness of reports that British authorities favored a system of tariff preferentials throughout the British Empire, and the probable direction which such preferences, if inaugurated, would take. Our study showed that the various divisions of the Empire readily accepted the policy of tariff preferentials, and that the preferentials would, when inaugurated, be of a substantial nature. Later the action which gave many inter-Empire shipments a preference of ¼ or ⅓ in import duties, proved the correctness of this conclusion. Based largely on our reports, certain members made decision regarding the operation of branch houses or factories in different divisions of the Empire.

Ruling of Treasury Department of Porto Rico Regarding Prohibition.

SHIPPERS of drugs and medicines into Porto Rico were amazed to learn suddenly that under prohibition, the Treasury Department of that island had promulgated a ruling forbidding the importation of medicinal preparations containing a certain proportion of potable alcohol unless the formula had been filed in advance and an import license granted. The Association protested to the Bureau of Insular Affairs at Washington and to the Governor and Treasurer of Porto Rico against the sudden ruling, with the result that the date of its effectiveness was postponed three months. In the meantime, The Association suggested to the same officials that inasmuch as Porto Rico is so closely affiliated with the United States, officials there should accept the definitions, standards and regulations effective in the United States and make the enforcement of their laws identical with those here. This proposal was later agreed to, and the filing and acceptance of formulas here accepted as equivalent to filing and acceptance in Porto Rico.

Australian Customs Regulations.

FOR a number of years Australian Customs regulations have been severe, particularly as to the determination of market value in the country of origin, the markings on imported merchandise, consular invoices, etc. A delegation from The Association laid before the Commercial Commissioner for Australia in New York suggestions regarding the onerous sections of the law urging him to recommend changes. This Bureau also prepared a brief for him to file with the Customs Division of the Australian Government, reviewing the objectionable phases of the law and proposing their amelioration.

A National Trade-Mark.

A BILL was introduced in Congress similar to that introduced last year, authorizing the selection and enforcement of a national trade-mark. The Bureau revised and brought up to date its statement in opposition prepared a year ago, and sent copies to members of the Congressional Committees, before whom the measure was considered; to Senators and Representative from New York; to many other interested persons, and to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. The measure again failed of enactment.

Communications by Cable and Mail.

I. CABLE.

(a) Central Bureau for Registered Addresses.

IN 1919, the six cable and wireless companies in New York notified houses that the cable addresses registered with the several companies would be cancelled and that all cable users must file their addresses in a new Central Bureau at an annual charge of $2.50 per address. Previously the cable companies had filed cable addresses without charge. Many letters were received, pointing out that, since the new system was inaugurated primarily for the benefit of the companies and resulted in a saving to them, the charge either should be removed or materially reduced. The Association wrote to each of the six companies, calling their attention to the complaints and suggesting that the charge be reduced from $2.50 per address per year to $1.00 per address per year. This suggestion was uniformly declined. Thereupon The Association requested the Interstate Commerce Commission to review the proposal and make an investigation on its own initiative to determine the propriety and reasonableness of the charge. In its reply, the Interstate Commerce Commission stated that it would be willing to hold a hearing on the subject provided The Merchants' Association or any firm cared to file a protest and prepare the case in opposition to the cable companies.

Digitized by Google

(b) Commercial Use of Wireless.

Throughout the greater part of the year, the wireless service was retained and operated by the Government much to the disadvantage of commercial users because the private owners could not make plans or efforts for improving commercial service until their property was returned to them. The Association strongly urged the Navy Department to return the stations and equipment to their owners at the earliest feasible moment. This request was granted shortly afterward.

(c) Disposition of the Island of Yap.

Much agitation resulted from the statement in the House of Commons, that the Island of Yap, a junction point for American cable service in the Pacific, was to pass, under the terms of the Peace Treaty, into the hands of Japan. After studying the facts, resolutions were adopted protesting against this disposition of the island. The protest was based on the fact that neither the Japanese Government nor any Japanese Company owned any of the stock in the cables passing through the Island of Yap, nor did any branch cable from that island extend to Japan. This protest was submitted personally by representatives of The Association to the Department of State where it was assured full consideration. The matter has not yet been concluded.

(d) Errors and Mutilations in Cables.

Continued complaints that errors and delays occurred frequently in messages via Pacific and other cable lines caused The Association to suggest to all cable companies in New York that they urge upon their employees the imperative necessity for greater carefulness, and also to suggest that the cable companies urge similar carefulness on the land wires with which they co-operate. A letter was also sent to the leading commercial organizations in Japan, proposing that they take similar steps, which they agreed to do.

II. MAIL.

(a) Direct Service to Scandinavia.

During the early part of the year covered by this report, postal authorities forwarded Scandinavian mail via England, where it was transshipped, the mail being delayed and often censored. After the Bureau had gathered facts as to the time involved, The Association urged that all Scandinavian mail move direct between Scandinavia and the United States, and this proposal was soon made effective. Circularization of interested firms later developed the fact that, as a result, the service was materially improved.

(b) Unsatisfactory Service to South America.

Members also complained of slow mail service to the east coast of South America to the detriment of American trade, because European service was superior. The Bureau made inquiry and verified the complaints. A letter was forwarded to the Department of Commerce, asking that Department to take up the entire question with Post Office officials. The Department of Commerce replied that similar complaints had been received, that the service was admittedly unsatisfactory and, further, that the Department of Commerce had been in conference with the Post Office Department and the Department of State, and that an improvement in the near future might be expected.

Digitized by Google

(c) Supplementary Mail Service at New York.

The Association protested against the protracted discontinuance of the supplementary mail service at the Port of New York, with the result that the postal authorities soon reinstated it. This is of material importance in expediting the delivery of both incoming and outgoing mail.

Unsatisfactory Conditions of Ocean Shipping.

THE Bureau investigated many of the numerous complaints received with regard to conditions surrounding ocean shipments. These covered the delayed delivery of bills of lading by steamship companies; the lack of uniformity of ocean bills of lading; the protection afforded the carrier by the bill of lading often to the detriment of the shipper; conditions on piers, and the serious and increasing extent of pilfering. It was found that in the main the complaints were justified. The Foreign Trade Committee appointed a Subcommittee to report a plan of relief for any of these conditions. This Committee, after preliminary meetings, invited representatives of certain shippers to attend a hearing to discuss the entire situation. The hearing was held and much information obtained. That Committee is preparing its report. In the meantime, the Bureau has been in touch with two men convicted of stealing on the waterfront, as a result of which information was obtained as to the methods used and the systems which should be made effective in combating them.

Definitions of Export Abbreviations.

THE Association appointed representatives to confer with those of other organizations and draft standardized definitions of abbreviations used in foreign trade. After several conferences, definitions were agreed upon and a booklet printed, a copy of which was sent to each member of The Association. The publication has proved so valuable that many members have asked for additional copies for foreign branches or foreign correspondents. It is hoped that the definitions therein contained will be generally adopted all over the world. This is, it is believed, the first systematic effort in this direction ever undertaken in this country.

Miscellaneous Minor Activities.

IN addition to the foregoing activities, all of which required the protracted attention of the Bureau, many minor matters were taken up on behalf of members. These also required time and study, but cannot be described in detail; for example, advising members regarding claims against or in foreign countries, collecting data re the status and Treaty agreements regarding opium traffic in China, opposition to the proposed Anti-dumping bill, arrangements for a luncheon for representatives of an English commercial organization, and for a luncheon for representatives of certain central European countries, many reports as to the practice of houses in connection with fluctuating rates of exchange, etc.

Digitized by Google

The following routine activities are also far too numerous to describe individually, but they play so important a part in the daily service work of the Bureau that this report would be incomplete and inaccurate without mentioning them. Each has occurred frequently throughout the year:

> The furnishing of lists of American manufacturers, producers, agents, commission houses. sellers, importers, foreign freight forwarders, marine insurance adjusters, patent lawyers, Customs lawyers, etc.; tariff rates and preferentials of foreign countries and the United States, and statements regarding the administrative sections of the Tariff Law in this country; Customs laws of foreign countries and other requirements concerning the documentation of their imports; location of foreign consuls in New York and American consuls abroad; names and addresses of foreign commercial organizations in New York; names and addresses of commercial organizations in different parts of the world, especially American organizations; letters of introduction to members and representatives of member houses going abroad; information and assistance with regard to passport applications; statistics showing the exports and imports of the United States and of many foreign countries; procedure and cost of registering American trade-marks abroad; names of trade publications and foreign publications issued in the United States; names of publications in foreign countries useful as advertising media; names of directories of American and foreign houses; information concerning general business conditions in foreign countries; standard specifications of commodities entering international trade so far as available; reports on foreign market conditions and trade demands in connection with specific commodities; prevailing prices of commodities in New York, providing such prices are publicly issued; ocean rates and routes to all ports of the world; governmental control of trade in foreign countries; names of manufacturers or distributors of articles with a given trade-mark; banks having branches, agencies, etc., in foreign countries; the quoted exchange value of foreign moneys; parcel post regulations of the United States and foreign countries; commercial taxes and licenses in foreign countries; machinery provided for the arbitration or adjudication of international commercial disputes; adjustment of disagreements between American and foreign houses regarding terms of contracts, grades of merchandise delivered, etc.; commercial expositions of foreign governments or foreign cities; standards of weights and measures in use abroad; customary language of commercial correspondence in different countries; length of time mail or merchandise is usually in transit to different foreign ports; names of advertising agencies in the United States handling foreign business; the average packing weights of various classes of merchandise for export; the personnel and work of different departments at Washington having to do with foreign commerce; port requirements such as the fumigation of entering vessels; educational courses in foreign trade; interpretation of quotations and abbreviations used in foreign trade; distribution of information regarding free zones, national trade marks and other similar national matters; suggestions regarding methods of beginning or extending foreign trade; coding and decoding cables, etc.

Foreign Trade Opportunities.

OUR foreign trade opportunity work is entirely different from the activities described above. It consists in the daily distribution of notices in connection with the possibility of foreign business.

Digitized by Google

The number of these opportunities distributed by the Bureau during the year, together with the number of commodities included, is shown in tables below. Comparison of the totals with those of the previous year furnishes a striking proof of the growth of this work. Almost twice as many inquiries were answered during the present year as was true a year ago, and more than twice as many commodities were represented. The commodity list is a fairer measure of the volume of work since it indicates the different lines covered. A single inquiry, for example, may refer to a dozen or more commodities which are needed and, therefore, have twelve times the potential value to members as a single-commodity inquiry would have. Monthly fluctuations in the volume of this work are explained by changing market conditions, varying prices, rates of exchange, etc.

It is to be noted that in each of the above columns, except the first, duplicates necessarily occur, i. e., if the same commodity is asked for twice, it is counted twice.

The names of more than 108,000 firms were suggested to our inquirers, or something over 2,000 per week throughout the year. The firms given are primarily business houses with plants or offices in New York although sometimes houses outside of New York are suggested. The tremendous value to local business of such a service, which often results in satisfactory business without the knowledge of the houses whose names are given, is always appreciated when the facts become known. The large increase in the number of firms suggested to inquirers during the present year over that of a year ago, approximately two and one-half times, is a source of keen satisfaction. The Bureau notified almost 23,000 houses this year that their names had been given in connection with a business opportunity and furnished all possible information regarding the inquiry. This is more than twice as many such firms as were notified a year ago.

Reference has been made to the growing importance of our service in connection with imports. Almost 14,000 firms scattered all over the world which desired to send raw materials and supplies to this country asked our assistance. A year ago the corresponding figure was 4,300.

The large volume of this work has not prevented a careful and thoughtful consideration of each inquiry. Analysis shows that the Bureau staff spent an average of four hours per inquiry or one hour per commodity in the preparation of lists. In most instances, the Bureau has no knowledge of the outcome of these efforts. Occasionally striking instances of satisfactory results, due to our efforts, are brought to our notice, as appears in letters quoted elsewhere in this report.

Sources of Opportunities.

AS pointed out in the last annual report, the majority of these opportunities, four-fifths of the total this year, come direct from foreign inquirers. The others are received from foreign consuls located in New York, banks and business houses, Chambers of Commerce here and abroad, etc. Europe continues to make the largest demand, Central America, West Indies and Canada being next in importance. The Bureau never handles opportunities which have been sent to other individuals or organizations, inasmuch as this would be duplication of work. All of these opportunities represent chances for business which would not otherwise have come to the notice of our members.

Lists of Foreign Firms.

THE Bureau's work in assisting American firms desiring the names of foreign houses is similar to the assistance given to foreign firms desiring to get in touch with American houses, except that much larger lists are furnished to each inquirer. Three hundred and fifty-five such inquiries were answered during the year, 324 of these coming from members of The Association. Almost two-thirds of these inquirers desired the names in order to develop or increase their foreign business, 62 wished to buy merchandise abroad, and 73 desired to establish agencies for sale or purchase in foreign countries.

Careful Records the Basis of Opportunity and List Work.

IN order to conduct opportunity work effectively, it is necessary to maintain complete and up-to-date information with regard to the merchandise and plans of thousands of firms interested in foreign business. During February, it was believed that business had become sufficiently well re-established to warrant a complete revision of all data and records. Thousands of letters were sent out in order to recanvass The Association's membership. Approximately 2,800 new schedules have been received in reply. The transferring and cataloging of all such information involves a large amount of detail work, as may be seen from the fact that the Bureau maintains 5,300 list cards, i. e., cards having the names of manufacturers, importers, dealers, exporters, etc., of each important commodity sold in foreign commerce. These cards at present contain approximately 48,000 names. About 700 of the cards refer to firms desiring to import merchandise. Plans are under way for the compilation of a complete classified list of importers, such a list not being obtainable elsewhere, although much needed.

Hundreds of foreign and local visitors called at the office for assistance in connection with their problems.

Several statements were prepared for publication in newspapers, trade publications and magazines, both at home and abroad, all descriptive of New York, and the work of The Merchants' Association. Copies of the Year Book and letters descriptive of The Association's work in foreign trade were sent to American consuls and many correspondents all over the world.

The following samples of quotations from letters of appreciation indicate the importance and regard with which our work is viewed:

> "Resulting from one of your foreign trade letters, we received orders from a . . . firm for a $2000 trial order, then a $3000 trial order and, finally, a $50,000 order."
> "The service thus given is indeed a credit to your organization. We are glad to be listed as a member of this organization and will at all times express our entire satisfaction with the service it renders."
> "This is just the material I need and I am sure that it will help me very much in my business. I fully appreciate the amount of work put into this list and thank you very much for compiling it for me."

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. MAHONEY,
Manager, Foreign Trade Bureau.

REPORT OF THE INDUSTRIAL BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following report covers the activities of The Merchants' Association conducted through the Industrial Bureau for the year ended April 30, 1920.

Scope and Operation of the Bureau.

THROUGH its Industrial Bureau The Association endeavors to promote the industrial interests and stimulate the sound industrial development of Greater New York and to provide for its members valuable industrial data and information.

The work of the Industrial Bureau is carried on in general under the advisory guidance of an Industrial Committee. For the year under record this Committee consisted of the following members

J. H. GANNON, Chairman;
FREDERIC G. ACHELIS,
GERHARD M. DAHL,
JOHN F. GALVIN,
WILLIAM GOLDMAN,
E. K. HALL,
J. W. LIEB,
W. H. MILNOR,
LOUIS B. SCHRAM,
ROBERT E. SIMON,
WALTER C. TEAGLE,
C. G. M. THOMAS,
W. F. WELLS,
OWEN D. YOUNG.

In order to carry out the purposes of The Association's industrial activities, a program of operation was formulated by the Manager, approved by the Industrial Committee and adopted by the Directors. This program was as follows:

1. That the industrial development work be continued substantially as recommended when the Bureau's operation recommenced in 1917, namely, that the Bureau continue its industrial surveys, industry by industry, and that supplementary surveys be made of various industrial sections of the district.
2. That the Industrial Information and Investigation Service be developed further along the lines already followed.
3. That the work of attracting new industries be confined to assistance given prospective manufacturers who apply to The Association for aid, and that no definite program of soliciting factories for New York be undertaken.
4. That a special effort be made to develop work by The Association through the Industrial Bureau, whereby the industrial interests of this city will be promoted and protected and especially whereby the manufacturers of this vicinity will look to The Merchants' Association as the logical agency for such work; in other words, that a closer contact be developed between The Association and its members who are manufacturers.

Although the facilities of the Bureau have been devoted from time to time during the year to various important matters not covered by this program, the main features of the program have nevertheless been adhered to and have constituted the central field of the Bureau's operations.

1. Industrial Development.

IN its work of industrial development, the Bureau continued to make special surveys with a view to showing the economic development and possibilities of various industries in New York City as well as of different industrial sections of the City. To guide this work, a Subcommittee on Industrial Development was appointed from the membership of the Industrial Committee, as follows:

ROBERT E. SIMON, Chairman;
J. W. LIEB,
W. H. MILNOR,
C. G. M. THOMAS,
W F. WELLS,
J. H. GANNON.

After considerable investigation of the food manufacturing industry in New York City, a preliminary report on this industry was made. This report indicated that while for the manufacture of many lines of food this City offers no special advantages, yet in certain lines, such as those using imported raw materials, which come through the Port of New York, those of high value per unit of weight, specialties and certain products which must be manufactured near the point of consumption, New York City offers unusual advantages.

An exhaustive study was also made of the Newtown Creek industrial section. The results of this study have been incorporated in a report which is now ready for publication. This report is expected to be the first of a series, the succeeding numbers of which will be devoted in turn to the various sections of the City which are suitable for industrial development.

The Newtown Creek report is a description and analysis of manufacturing sites and land values, transportation facilities, labor supply, power and insurance rates and taxes in the sections of Queens and Brooklyn Boroughs surrounding Newtown Creek.

2. Industrial Information and Investigation Service.

THE Industrial Information and Investigation Service is designed especially to assist manufacturers in the solution of their industrial problems, by furnishing them on request with industrial data and information and by making reports based on special study of particular industrial problems. The subjects covered include such matters as the following:

Manufacturing statistics by industries and localities.
List of manufacturers.
Conditions, customs and practices (including wages) in various industries.
Industrial relations problems.
Industrial uses of raw materials.
Suitable sections for factory location.
Elimination of conditions detrimental to industry, etc.

During the year inquiries for industrial information and requests for service were received and disposed of as follows:

	Received	Answered	Otherwise disposed of
Inquiries pending May 1, 1919.....	15	—	—
May	32	31	—
June	29	32	3
July	26	27	2
August	23	28	2
September	20	11	4
October	20	17	1
November	21	25	—
December	21	20	—
January	24	22	—
February	11	14	—
March	32	29	—
April	35	29	4
Total	309	285	16	(plus 8 inquiries pending April 30.)

In addition we were of minor assistance on 176 occasions.

In carrying out the work of supplying information in response to requests from members of The Association, the Bureau has made numerous interesting studies, such as the following:

Report showing the wages paid to female office workers—stenographers, stenographer-secretaries, typists, file clerks, general office clerks—in New York City. (April, 1920.)

Report as to the extent to which increased prices of manufactured articles can be attributed directly to decreased labor efficiency rather than to prices of raw materials, high wages, etc. (November, 1919.)

Report on practice of manufacturers governing payment of hourly and piece work employees for holidays when no work is performed. (March, 1920.)

Report on trade discount practices. (March, 1920.)

3. New Industries.

IN accordance with the above program, the Industrial Bureau did not undertake any campaign to attract new industries to the City, but devoted its facilities in this connection to advising prospective manufacturers who applied for information regarding general industrial conditions in New York City as a whole and in the various sections of the City.

4. Activities in Reference to Proposed Legislation Affecting Industry.

IN its efforts to promote and protect the industrial interests of New York City, the Industrial Committee through the Industrial Bureau undertook a special study of three measures introduced in the New York State Legislature providing, respectively, for a legal minimum wage for women and minors, compulsory health insurance, and an eight-hour day for women and minors. After full investigation, the Committee sent reports to the Board of Directors opposing each of these measures, on the ground that although the general objects sought were commendable, they could not be attained either equitably or practicably in the manner proposed.

Industrial Relations.

IN July, the Executive Committee of The Association asked the Industrial Committee to investigate problems involved in the industrial relations of employers and employees, with a view to recommending such modifications in the present industrial system as appeared necessary and desirable.

The working out of such a program was turned over to a Subcommittee on Industrial Relations of the Industrial Committee. This Committee was constituted as follows:

GERHARD M. DAHL, Chairman;
E. K. HALL,
J. H. GANNON.
LOUIS B. SCHRAM,
WALTER C. TEAGLE,
OWEN D. YOUNG,

In October this Subcommittee rendered a Report on Industrial Relations, which was approved by the Industrial Committee, and later adopted by the Board of Directors and ordered printed. The conclusions of this Report are contained in the following three propositions, which are proposed as the essential bases of a constructive program for the improvement of industrial relations:

> "1. The recognition by both employers and employees that the determination to achieve national prosperity rather than to enforce maximum selfish returns should be the controlling motive in industry."
> "2. The establishment of a recognized and permanent method of conference between the employer and his employees."
> "3. The limitation of the economic law of supply and demand as a basis of labor policy by the utilization of a more human doctrine."

Ten thousand copies of the Report on Industrial Relations were printed and distributed to members of The Association, to commercial and trade organizations, and others. The publication of the report was followed by many gratifying comments in the press and in individual letters which were received.

In March the Subcommittee on Industrial Relations formulated a resolution opposing the exemption of labor, agricultural and horticultural organizations from the provisions of the Clayton Act and other anti-trust laws and the provisions of appropriation acts limiting the use of the money appropriated for the purpose of law enforcement in the interests of any particular class. This resolution was later adopted by the Board of Directors.

ACTIVITIES OF THE INDUSTRIAL BUREAU IN CONNECTION WITH COMMITTEES OTHER THAN THE INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE.

Housing.

BY the Spring of 1919 the local housing situation had become so acute that a Special Committee on Housing was appointed to investigate this problem for the purpose of ascertaining in what way The Association might assist in improving conditions.

The members of this Committee were:

BURT L. FENNER, Chairman;
LEO S. BING,
G. RICHARD DAVIS,
ERNEST F. EIDLITZ,
FRANCIS N. HOWLAND,
CLARENCE H. KELSEY,
CHARLES D. NORTON,
WALTER STABLER,
CHARLES H. STRONG,
ROBERT E. SIMON.

In July the Industrial Bureau assisted this Committee in the preparation of a report in which it was pointed out that th greatest obstacle to building was the lack of mortgage money on which builders were dependent for funds. It was therefore recommended that in order to bring money rapidly into the mortgage market and thereby stimulate building, The Association should advocate the exemption from income taxes of the return from real estate mortgages up to $40,000 held by any individual. After being adopted by the Board of Directors, this report was printed and several thousand copies were distributed to members of The Association and to trade and commercial organizations and real estate interests throughout the country. Later the report was amplified, reprinted and again widely distributed among those who were in a position to assist in the solution of th housing problem. Later bills incorporating the recommendations of this report were introduced in both the State and Federal Legislatures, and members of the Committee and the Manager of the Industrial Bureau, as Secretary of the Committee, attended hearings at Albany and Washington, urging the passage of the proposed legislation. Although considerable encouragement was given to the representatives at these hearings, no legislative action has yet been taken.

The Special Committee on Housing also voted to recommend to the Directors that they endorse in principle the Federal Home Loan Banks, in the belief that the facilities of these banks would be used to promote home building and ownership. Such action was thereafter taken by the Directors.

Immigration.

EARLY in the year a Committee on Immigration and Naturalization was organized to inquire into the various phases of the immigration question and report its conclusions to the Board of Directors. The members of this Committee are as follows:

H. D. WALBRIDGE, Chairman;
GEORGE A. CULLEN,
LEOPOLD DEMUTH,
GANO DUNN,
LOUIS J. HOROWITZ,
WILLIAM LOEB, JR.
A. F. MACARTHUR,
FRANK PRESBREY,
FELIX M. WARBURG,
WILLIAM H. WOODIN,
C. H. ZEHNDER.

In order to assist this Committee the Industrial Bureau prepared a preliminary survey of the general field of immigration, discussing the important phases of the subject and indicating the main problems to be solved. On the basis of this survey, the Committee separated the general question into three sub-divisions, and appointed Subcommittees for each division, as follows:

Regulation and Restriction.

FELIX M. WARBURG, Chairman;
FRANK PRESBREY,
LOUIS J. HOROWITZ,
H. D. WALBRIDGE.

Education and Naturalization.

WILLIAM H. WOODIN, Chairman;
GANO DUNN,
WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,
LEOPOLD DEMUTH,
H. D. WALBRIDGE.

Distribution.

GEORGE A. CULLEN, Chairman;
A. F. MACARTHUR
C. H. ZEHNDER,
H. D. WALBRIDGE.

The Industrial Bureau then undertook special investigations for each of these Subcommittees, and at the conclusion of the period covered by this report the results of these investigations were being utilized by the various Subcommittees in the formulation of their reports.

Industrial Pensions.

THE Bureau devoted considerable time during the year to a survey of industrial pension systems. This work was undertaken at the instance of the Special Committee on Industrial Pensions, which consists of the following members:

ROBERT E. DOWLING, Chairman; JOHN SARGENT,
JOHN S. KENNEDY, MONELL SAYRE.

The work involved an exhaustive and comprehensive study of industrial pensions systems throughout the country. The results of this study, together with an introductory report by the Pension Committee, were published in April as a Report on Industrial Pensions. Several thousand copies have already been distributed to members of The Association, to trade and commercial organizations, colleges, libraries and others interested in the subject. The comments of members, letters from many sources, indicate that the report has proved to be not only valuable but timely.

PAST WAR ACTIVITIES

A LARGE part of the time of the Bureau up to January 1, 1920, was spent on work incident to the reconstruction period, connected chiefly with the re-employment of ex-service men.

The Re-Employment Bureau of New York City for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, which, on request of the War Department, was started by The Merchants' Association just previous to the period covered by this report, was continued under the general supervision of the Re-Employment Committee of New York City for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, until December 20, 1919. During a considerable part of that time the staff of the Industrial Bureau was engaged almost exclusively in work connected with re-employment activities.

As Executive Secretary of the Re-Employment Committee, the Manager of the Bureau directed the operation of the Re-Employment Bureau and took charge of the work of securing the funds necessary for the operation of the Bureau. Through the welfare organizations which had agreed to co-operate in operating the Bureau—namely, the Red Cross, Young Men's Christian Association, War Camp Community Service, Jewish Welfare Board, National Catholic War Council and Salvation Army—funds were obtained to operate the Bureau until October 1. As a result of a campaign among private individuals at this time, additional funds were secured, which, together with further contributions from certain of the welfare organizations, were sufficient to meet the expenses of the Bureau until December 20. At that time it was felt that the emergency had passed and the Re-Employment Committee voted to cease operations.

The Assistant Manager of the Industrial Bureau during the time of the operation of the Re-Employment Bureau was in charge of the work of the Employers' Council for Soldier Re-Employment, which was an organization of eighty employers' associations in New York City which assumed the responsibility of obtaining positions for the ex-service men. Work in this connection consisted of the preparation of letters and other publicity material to be furnished to the various co-operating organizations, with which they might circularize their members, and also the preparation of lists of representative applicants for positions and their distribution to appropriate organizations, the preparation of special publicity material for trade journals and other periodicals, and other special work among employers to secure openings for ex-service men.

The Re-Employment Bureau, at its period of greatest activity, was probably the largest single, free employment office of a public nature ever operated. During the eight months of its operation more than 46,000 ex-service men applied to the Bureau, of whom nearly 30,000 were placed in positions. To carry on the work, the Re-Employment Committee raised and expended $129,000.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIVITIES

Industrial Establishments Available for Visitation by Foreign Trade Missions.

DURING the year the Industrial Bureau gathered considerable information from time to time concerning plants which might be visited by delegates from foreign countries who came here to study our business and industrial conditions. A special report and itinerary were prepared for the foreign trade delegates from France, England, Belgium and Italy who attended the International Trade Conference at Atlantic City in September. Information and assistance were also given to visitors from Switzerland and Roumania who desired to visit local industries.

Coal Conservation.

AT the time of the promulgation of the coal conservation regulations by the United States Fuel Administrator, following the coal strike in November, the Bureau was of considerable assistance to the local Fuel Administrator by furnishing information regarding New York City industries and in offering interpretations of the regulations which would be applicable to local industrial and business conditions. The interpretations so offered were promulgated by the Fuel Administrator as the official interpretations of the regulations for New York City.

At this time the Bureau was also of constant assistance to members who inquired for information regarding the application of the regulations in particular cases.

Army Re-organization—Separate Finance Service.

IN connection with the re-organization of the Army, the Industrial Bureau investigated the advisability of continuing the Separate Finance Service of the War Department which had been organized during the war in order to secure a more efficient administration of Army finances. As a result of this investigation and of favorable action taken jointly by represent tives of the Industrial and Military Committees of The Association, the Board of Directors voted to support the continuance of the Separate Finance Service. This Service was later definitely established by the provisions of the Army Re-Organization Act.

New York City 1920 Census Committee.

THROUGH representation on the New York City 1920 Census Committee, the Bureau has worked with other local organizations to secure speedy and special tabulation and publication of the 1920 Federal Census figures.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTIN H. DODGE,
Acting Manager, Industrial Bureau.

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE SERVICE BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following report covers the principal activities of The Association's legislative service during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1920.

The Association, through the medium of this Bureau, places at the command of its members facilities for promptly securing information in detail relating to all existing Federal and State laws, City ordinances, synopses of important laws of other States and the principal laws of numerous foreign countries; the provisions and legislative status of bills pending in Congress, in the State Legislature, and of proposed City ordinances; the organization and personnel of Federal, State, and City legislative, executive and judicial departments, commissions, boards, bureaus, and committees; also departmental orders, regulations, ruling and decisions under various laws, Federal, State and City.

During the sessions of the Legislature the Bureau's activities are principally devoted to New York State legislation, and through The Association's publication, "Greater New York," there is published each week, either the complete text of the most important proposed new laws or a comprehensive summary of their essential provisions.

The Bureau also closely follows the introduction and legislative progress of important measures in Congress and the activities of the various Federal executive departments, independent bureaus and commissions.

In addition to this general service, members particularly interested in specific measures pending in Congress or in the State Legislature are, upon request, supplied with copies of bills relating thereto and advised concerning the progress and final action thereon.

Information Supplied.

DURING the year the Bureau received and complied with 1,850 specific requests for information, an increase of 782 over the preceding year. Of these, 424 related to Federal legislation, 872 to State legislation, 57 to City ordinances and 497 to miscellaneous matters.

Through the columns of "Greater New York" there were brought directly to the attention of members of The Association 66 of the laws passed by the 1919 Legislature and approved during May and June, 1919; 286 of the bills introduced in the 1920 session, and 23 of the new laws approved to May 1, 1920.

Digitized by Google

As in past years, the Bureau was frequently called upon by members in matters that involved the giving of legal advice or opinion as to the construction or interpretation of statute law. In all such cases the Bureau refrained from rendering service, but explained to the interested member that The Merchants' Association, being a membership corporation, is subject to the inhibition of the statute which prohibits corporations from practicing law or giving legal advice.

Statistics of Legislation.

THE following is a statistical resumé of the State bills and laws, abstracts of which were prepared by this Bureau and published in "Greater New York," and of those considered by The Association during the 1920 regular session of the New York State Legislature:

Abstracts of Bills and Laws in "Greater New York."

	Bills	Laws	Space
May, 1919		60	11¾	pages
June, 1919		6	½	page
January, 1920	40		4½	pages
February, 1920	108		11½	"
March, 1920	116		11½	"
*April	22	23	4¾	"
Total	286	89	44½	"

*Regular session adjourned April 24, 1920.
(Bills introduced 3,442, of which 940 became law.)

State Bills Considered and Acted Upon by The Association.

Action Recommended	Bills	Became Law	Failed
Approved	6	3	3
Opposed	14	1	13
Total	20	4	16

The foregoing tabulation shows that the Legislature acted in harmony with The Association's definite recommendations on sixteen of the bills considered and to the contrary on only four.

Respectfully submitted,

A. M. TRAVERS,
Manager, Legislative Service Bureau.

REPORT OF THE CONVENTION BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following report shows the results of the Convention work of The Association for the year ended April 30, 1920.

The Convention Bureau has been conducted under the supervision and in accordance with polices adopted upon the recommendations of the Convention Committee, which is composed of:

MR. JOHN BUCKLE, Chairman;
MR. L. M. BOOMER,
MR. JOHN McE. BOWMAN,
COL. MICHAEL FRIEDSAM,
MR. F. A. MUSCHENHEIM,
MR. MASON B. STARRING,
MR. PERCY S. STRAUS,
MR. LOUIS WILEY.

During the year 652 conventions were held in New York City. More than half a million people attended these conventions, and during their stay in the City spent approximately $25,000,000.

Following is a condensed tabulation of conventions for the year:

	International and National	State
May, 1919	50	8
June	45	7
July	11	2
August	18	1
September	20	3
October	57	6
November	41	4
December	64	6
January, 1920	101	6
February	87	14
March	30	5
April	61	5
	585	67

Daily throughout the year the Convention Bureau was called upon to assist in making arrangements for conventions to be held in New York. Its assistance to organizations convening in this City comprised many forms of activity. Among them were obtaining hotel accommodations, meeting halls and committee rooms and exhibition space, securing speakers and special features for business programs, working out details of entertainment programs, and directing or facilitating the work of the local committees.

The co-operation of the New York hotels in the work of the Bureau has been especially worthy of note during the past year. Though the hotels have been well filled almost constantly, all convention delegates have been housed comfortably and without embarrassment or misunderstandings.

REPORT OF THE ANTI-LITTER BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following is a report covering the most important activities of the Anti-Litter work of The Association for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1920:

Organization of Bureau.

THE work which is conducted through this Bureau is under the advisory supervision of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, the members of which are:

MR. JOHN C. EAMES, Chairman;
MR. HENRY D. COOPER,
MR. CLARKSON COWL,
MR. HENRY G. GENNERT,
MR. H. DEB. PARSONS.

Number of Block Captains.

AT the present time the Bureau has the following number of Block Captains:

Public School No. 30	54
Boys' High School	494
Bryant High School	50
Bushwick High School	11
Commercial High School	337
DeWitt Clinton High School	324

Block Captain Buttons.

TO help the school Block Captains in the discharge of their duties as Captains, each was given a button of identification to show that they were Block Captains of the Anti-Litter Bureau of The Merchants' Association of New York.

We can safely say that there are at least 15,000 of what might be termed "Silent Workers," that is to say people who are carrying on the work, but who do not send in a report every month. They do, however, keep in touch with and notify the Bureau in case special attention is needed to any particular conditions.

More than 3,175 reports have been received from the regular Block Captains during the past year. A record is kept showing the activities of the Block Captains in various parts of the City. When they report violations, the Bureau communicates with the Police, Street Cleaning, Fire, Health, or some other City Department which has to do with the conditions complained of, in an effort to bring about immediate improvement.

Lantern Slides and Addresses.

LANTERN slides, showing conditions The Association is trying to correct, have been made and are shown in schools, churches and other places at every opportunity, in an effort to further the Anti-Litter Campaign.

During the past year the following addresses, relative to the work of the Bureau, were delivered by the Manager:

Maps.

BOROUGH maps have been prepared by the Bureau which show the Police Inspection Districts, Precincts, location of Police Stations, High Schools and number of Block Captains in each Precinct. The condition of any block in which there is a Block Captain is shown by a colored pin. A white pin indicates that the block is in good condition; grey pin, fair, and black pin, bad. The purpose of these maps is to show at a glance where new Block Captains are needed and condition of the City in general. Blue pins represent Police Stations; red pins, High Schools.

Model District.

A VIGOROUS campaign was conducted in the lower East side of Manhattan throughout the pushcart district. A Model District, consisting of thirty-six square blocks and approximately 150,000 inhabitants and two thousand pushcarts, was selected, to which all efforts were directed to bring about the best possible sanitary conditions of the streets and sidewalks.

During that campaign 550 summonses were issued for violations of the City ordinances pertaining to streets and sidewalks. In synagogues and other places where religious meetings were held during the Jewish holidays, 8,000 pamphlets, containing a summary of the laws and ordinances relating to streets and sidewalks, which were printed in three languages, English, Italian and Hebrew, were distributed. Sixty foreign language newspapers were given accounts of the work being done and the co-operation of the readers was asked. Excellent assistance was rendered by the Department of Street Cleaning and the campaign in the Model District was a great success.

Unlawful Billposting.

AN investigation of billboard conditions was made. In many cases the paper was badly torn, the base of the boards and the spaces between the boards and sidewalks were in a very untidy condition. Letters were sent to the various billboard operators seeking their co-operation in an effort to bring about cleaner, better and more sightly conditions of the boards in general. Excellent co-operation was given by the operators and a great improvement has resulted.

In an effort to put a stop to unlawful billposting such as that indulged in by many of the theatrical and moving picture house managers, and known as "sniping," a luncheon meeting was held in the Union League Club to discuss ways and means to eliminate this practice. Those attending the luncheon were: Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President of The Merchants' Association of New York; Mr. Marc Klaw, President of the United Managers' Protective Association; Mr. George Broadhurst, Vice-President of the Producing Managers' Association; Mr. George W. Gallagher, Secretary of the American Burlesque Association; the Hon. Arnold B. MacStay, Commissioner of the Department of Street Cleaning; Mr. John C. Eames, Chairman of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, and Mr. Clyde A. Copson, Manager of the Anti-Litter Bureau. All seemed to be heartily in favor of the movement to eliminate "sniping." It was suggested that a resolution be drawn up and a copy sent to each of the leading theatrical organizations in the City. Such a resolution was drawn up and forwarded to the theatrical organizations in the City, condemning the practice of unlawful billposting and pledging them to refrain from posting advertising material of any description in any place in the City of New York not specifically permitted by the City ordinances and to issue instructions to all billposters or other persons handling advertising matter that under no circumstances would the practice of unlawful billposting be countenanced after June 1, 1920.

The resolution has been adopted by the United Managers' Protective Association, of which Mr. Marc Klaw is President, and the Vaudeville Managers' Protective Association, of which Mr. Sam Scribner is President.

Clean-Up Week.

ON May 12, 1919, letters were addressed to the Mayor, Commissioners of Police, Department of Street Cleaning and Health Departments, urging that a week be set aside for a clean-up campaign which would include all Boroughs throughout the City. A proclamation was issued by the Mayor declaring the week of June 16-21 for a clean-up campaign to improve general sanitary conditions.

Broken Milk Bottles.

THE co-operation of the Borden's Farm Products Company, Inc., and Sheffield Farms Company, Inc., was sought in an effort to eliminate broken milk bottles from the public thoroughfares. Many children are in the habit of breaking these bottles and allowing the pieces to remain in the streets and on the sidewalks where they are a source of danger to pedestrians and passing automobiles. Doubtless many automobile tires have been ruined by running over broken milk bottles. The various distributors of milk are careless about collecting milk bottles. Unless the bottles are collected they eventually find their way into the street or garbage can. Thousands of these bottles are taken to the City dumps every week from which they are resold to the owners. Both companies promised to do everything in their power to bring about a remedy of this condition and to instruct their employees to be more careful about collecting empty bottles.

Snow Removal.

AT the outset of the heavy snowstorm in February, through this Bureau The Association offered Commissioner MacStay, of the Department of Street Cleaning, any assistance it might be able to render in removing the snow from the streets. We were told that we could help greatly by informing housekeepers and store owners to free their sidewalks from snow and ice and to keep the gutters open. A notice was sent to the newspapers and was published in "Greater New York." A special letter was sent to all High Schools in which we have Block Captains, requesting the Captains immediately to make an inspection of their districts and to notify all store owners and householders to keep their sidewalks free from snow and ice, to pile it in the street, to keep a space of eighteen inches in the gutter open at all times, and to place garbage, ashes and papers in separate receptacles. Several Block Captains organized bands of their friends and cleaned up many bad spots.

NOTE.—Although the week referred to did not fall within the period covered by this report it is interesting in this connection to note that during this week, 1,082 extra loads of refuse in the Borough of Manhattan; 186 from the Borough of The Bronx, and 618 from the Borough of Brooklyn, a total of 1,886 extra loads, were hauled by the Department of Street Cleaning. To accomplish this, there were 204 extra carts used. Fifty thousand circulars pertaining to clean-up week, issued by the Mayor, were distributed to tenants by our Block Captains.

Pamphlets Distributed.

SIXTY-THREE THOUSAND, five hundred Police Pamphlets, issued by The Association, containing a summary of laws and ordinances pertaining to the cleanliness of the streets and sidewalks, printed in three languages, English, Italian and Hebrew, were distributed to janitors, storekeepers and tenants. Fifteen hundred and fifty booklets, containing a summary of laws and ordinances, were furnished the Police Department for the use of the police captains and patrolmen. These booklets are greatly appreciated by the members of the force.

REPORT OF THE BUREAU OF RESEARCH

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

Dear Sir:

FOLLOWING is a summary of the principal matters in which the Bureau of Research has been engaged during the past fiscal year.

Examination of Postal Methods.

IN concluding its report upon an "Inquiry Concerning Mail Delays," dated May 13, 1918, the Committee on Postal Affairs said:

> "We therefore recommend that the results of this inquiry be presented to Congress with the request that a Joint Congressional Committee be appointed, charged with the duty of making a comprehensive investigation of present postal methods with a view to causing such improvement therein as may be found necessary and practicable."

THE Association's application of 1918 for an official postal investigation was denied. Thereupon The Association's Committee on Postal Affairs requested this Bureau to continue its observation and analysis of postal methods, with view to a renewed application to a subsequent Congress for an adequate official investigation.

The study of the postal service, with especial reference to postal delays and their causes, has accordingly been unremittingly pursued during the past year.

In order to demonstrate the extent to which postal delays at that time prevailed, and for comparison with the results of the tests of 1918, a further comprehensive test was made in May-June, 1919.

A series of six letters was sent to 937 commercial organizations, located in 678 different cities, distributed throughout the entire country. Each organization was asked to endorse on the original envelope the date and hour of its receipt and return it to The Association by the next mail. Some of the organizations failed to return any of the envelopes and others failed properly to supply the information requested. However, a total of 8,271 pieces were returned to The Association and bore endorsements indicating date and hour of delivery in each case. After carefully computing the time in transit of each piece, with due allowance for holidays, Sundays and for arrival at night or after ordinary business hours in the afternoon, and rejecting pieces delayed less than one hour, it was found that out of 7,900 pieces, 2,229, equal to 28 per cent., were delayed as follows:

1	to	2	hours	delay	914	pieces
2	"	4	"	"	473	"
4	"	8	"	"	290	"
8	"	12	"	"	34	"
12	"	24	"	"	387	"
24	"	36	"	"	81	"
36	"	48	"	"	38	"
Over		48	"	"	12	"

Digitized by Google

It was thus demonstrated that the condition of serious delay in mail movement which prevailed in 1918, continued in 1919, although to a lesser degree; and that a substantial portion of all mail continued to be materially delayed.

Similar tests of local mail movement were made; and it was found that the local service was dilatory and uncertain.

Frequent complaint having been made of delays to mails between New England and New York, a special New England Postal Committee (with members representing principal New England cities) was organized and intensive study was made of the postal service in that territory.

In addition, formal complaint was made to Washington of many specific delays of aggravated nature.

These long-continued studies indicated clearly a condition of general demoralization in the postal service and the need for comprehensive reform in the methods of the Post Office Department.

This Bureau, therefore, in accordance with the instructions of the Committee on Postal Affairs again moved to secure the intervention of Congress. The evidence showing the general condition of demoralization of the service, the frequency and extent of delays, and the general and bitter complaint of the public as to the inconvenience and loss resulting therefrom, was first informally submitted to the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads. At his suggestion a formal memorandum was then prepared, and with the supporting evidence as to inefficient postal service, presented to the Senate Committee. It embodied a petition that Congress "fully examine into the policies and methods of the Department, in order that proper action may be taken to restore the efficiency of the postal service to proper standards."

It further requested that Congress employ not alone the usual methods of committee hearings "but that competent experts be employed to make a minute and detailed study of all phases of the department's present organization and methods of operation, particularly with reference to the methods and operations of the railway post office service, the terminal station service and the pneumatic tube service."

The petition was unanimously approved by the Senate Post Committee and concurred in by the House Committee; and a proviso directing the desired investigation of postal methods was attached to the then pending Postal Appropriation Bill. That proviso authorized the creation of a Postal Investigating Commission, comprising five members of the Senate Post Office Committee, five members of the House Post Office Committee and one postal expert named by the Postmaster General.

It further provided for representation of principal business interests, as follows:

> "Such commission shall by majority vote, appoint seven persons who are experienced in business or commercial transactions, or represent business or commercial organizations which make extensive use of the Postal Service, to act as an advisory council and to aid such Commission in its work."

Digitized by Google

Hon. William C. Redfield, recently Secretary of Commerce, a business man of wide experience and large affairs, was appointed to the Advisory Council as representative of New York business interests.

Among the duties imposed upon the Commission are the following:

> "(c) The Commission shall investigate all present and prospective methods and systems of handling, dispatching, transporting, and delivering of the mails and the facilities therefor; and especially all methods and systems which relate to the handling, delivery, and dispatching of the mails in the large cities of the United States."

The immediate end for which The Association has worked unceasingly for three years, namely, an adequate investigation by Congress of postal methods as a necessary preliminary to the restoration of efficient postal service, has thus been attained. An official Commission having behind it the power of Congress, independent of and superior to the Postmaster General, has been created. With that Commission are associated as counsellors a number of experienced business men of large affairs, interested on behalf of the public in securing the most effective postal service. The Commission has been organized and will soon enter upon its work, the results of which are to be reported to Congress March 4, 1921.

Pneumatic Tube Postal Service.

THE pneumatic tube postal service in New York and other cities was suspended June 30, 1918, because of the expiration of the existing contract and the Postmaster General's opposition to its renewal. At the subsequent session of Congress continuance of the tube service was provided for, despite the hostility of the Postmaster General; but the appropriation made by Congress was vetoed by the President.

The Postmaster General then attempted to cause the physical destruction of the tube machinery by ordering its removal from Government premises. Urgent representations in opposition to the proposed removal were made to the Senate Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads by The Association, through this Bureau, and means were found for preventing the destruction contemplated, pending further examination of the entire question by the Commission referred to in the preceding paragraph.

Analysis of Transportation Legislation.

FOR many months Congress had under consideration new legislation to enable the provision of adequate railroad facilities under sound economic conditions and in the public interest. The importance of this legislation required that all phases of it be studied with great care; and further that all the several plans urged as solutions of the railroad problem be likewise considered.

These plans were numerous. Most of them were from responsible sources, supported by vigorous and voluminous printed arguments. Acting at the request of the Transportation Committee this Bureau made analyses of the several propositions and, later, of the provisions of the Pomerene Bill, the Esch Bill, and the Cummins Bill, each of which differed from the others in essential particulars. Co-operating with the Transportation Bureau, this Bureau prepared for the use of the Committee on Transportation digests and critical analyses of the pending bills; which were made the basis of the Committee's report, and of the final action taken by The Association.

Digitized by Google

Street Railway Rates of Fare.

ACTING for the Committee on Public Utilities and Law, this Bureau made a study of the so-called "service-at-cost" system for adjusting the rates of fare to be charged by street railway corporations. The results of that system in its various phases, as in operation in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, Montreal, and several minor American cities, were analyzed and digested. In this work a great quantity of informing documents were gathered and analyzed. These comprised official and unofficial reports, copies of laws, ordinances and franchises, printed analyses, etc.; and a large body of data showing the present unsatisfactory financial condition of the street railway industry under the existing system of fixed fares, and the harmful effect of that condition upon the public welfare. Much of the work on this subject was done in co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Local Transit Situation.

THE financial collapse of the several corporations operating the various passenger transit systems of this City made desirable a comprehensive analysis, by The Association, of all the essential facts for the purpose of promoting a sound reorganization.

The extent and importance of the work caused The Association to invite the co-operation of other principal business organizations in forming a joint Citizens' Transit Committee to which was delegated the proposed examination, under the immediate direction of the Hon. Charles E. Hughes, former Justice, United States Supreme Court. The Director of this Bureau was charged with the preliminary work of organization and as Secretary of the Citizens' Transit Committee assisted in its work. A great mass of essential material was collated, analyzed, digested, and made available for future use at the opportune time.

Telephone Service.

ACTING for the Committee on Public Utilities, this Bureau examined into the condition of the telephone service, of which there was much complaint during most of the past year. The deficiencies were found in the main to be due to conditions arising from the war and beyond the control of the company. The restorative measures taken by the company were carefully observed, to obtain assurance that all possible diligence was applied to rehabilitate the service in the shortest practicable time. In order to check the statements of the Company in this respect, the hearings held by the Public Service Commission were attended.

Inland Waterways.

STUDIES were made for the Committee on Inland Waterways and Water Storage of the St. Lawrence Ship Canal project, and of Government operation of the New York State Canals, both of which were opposed by The Association. Appearance was made before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, in support of the Wadsworth Joint resolution precluding further Federal operation upon the New York State Canals. That resolution was adopted by the Senate, but was not acted upon by the House and, therefore, failed of enactment.

Digitized by Google

New York and New Jersey Port Treaty.

THIS Bureau was charged with promoting the Port Treaty. Printed arguments were prepared and presented to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and to the Mayor. Oral arguments were made at several hearings by that Board, and at Committee hearings at Albany, and various conferences with the officials of the two States were attended.

Other Activities.

DURING the session of the Legislature this Bureau prepared and presented to legislative committees arguments in support of The Association's position upon various bills, and the Director also made several personal appearances before the committees.

Many complaints were received from members alleging excessive cost of disposing of ashes, rubbish, etc., and poor and interrupted service on the part of the City. Several conferences upon this subject were held with City officials, and many explanatory letters were written to complainants. Professor Olin H. Landreth, an eminent sanitary engineer, was retained to make a thorough technical study of the subject, with the view of promoting the adoption in this City of more economical and efficient methods of disposing of ashes, rubbish and garbage. This study is still in progress.

On behalf of the Committee on Harbor, Docks and Terminals, argument was made by this Bureau before the Board of Army Engineers in favor of the extension of the Chelsea piers.

Much attention has been given to various questions in connection with Federal taxation, and to numerous matters of pending legislation both at Washington and Albany.

Respectfully submitted,

F. B. DE BERARD,
Director of Research.

REPORT OF THE PUBLICITY BUREAU

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

FOR several reasons the years just closed was particularly interesting from the publicity point of view.

Labor troubles in the printing trade made it necessary to suspend publication of "Greater New York" from September 29 to November 10 and publication then was resumed only through the adoption of the typewritten form, which made it unnecessary to employ printers in getting the paper out.

Three numbers were issued in this form so that from September 29 to December 1, inclusive, the customary form of publication was interfered with. This fact should be borne in mind in estimating the results obtained by the Bureau for the year.

The Publicity Committee.

THE members of the Publicity Committee during the year were as follows:

MR. INGALLS KIMBALL, Chairman;
MR. A. VICTOR BARNES,
MR. GEORGE B. CORTELYOU,
MR. O. C. HARN,
MR. L. J. HOROWITZ,
MR. ALVIN HUNSICKER,
MR. WILLIAM A. MARBLE.

The Organization of the Bureau.

THE organization of the Bureau remained unchanged during the year. It consisted of the Manager and the Secretary.

The Publicity Record.

A SUMMARY of the net results of The Association's publicity work from May 1, 1919, to May 1, 1920, in comparison with the results of the last three previous years, is as follows:

	May 1 to May 1
	1916-1917	1917-1918	1918-1919	1919-1920
Newspaper columns	696	1,043	860	847
Weekly average of newspaper columns	13	20+	18+	16+
Number of inches of printed matter	14,985	22,350	18,363	18,151
Number of inches in New York City papers	7,650	14,057	10,221	9,632
Number of inches in out of town papers	5,721	3,470	3,321	3,521
Number of inches in editorials	1,400	1,307	1,600	1,491
Number of inches in trade papers	3,000	4,821	4,821	3,507
Average daily number of mentions	9+	9−	9+	10+

Digitized by Google

As was the case last year, the amount of space devoted to The Association and its work showed a decrease while the average number of daily mentions showed an increase. This apparent contradiction is explained by the fact that the shortage in the paper supply caused renewed condensation in the news pages of the papers, including the trade papers, which is reflected in the total amount of space given to The Association. That this did not indicate a lack of interest in The Association, however, is shown by the fact that the number of separate articles relating to The Association, classified as "mentions" in the summary, showed an increase of 10 per cent.

This increase was especially pleasing in view of the interruption of publicity activity for four weeks, which was caused by the strike of printers. This strike covered a period which is usually prolific in publicity.

As was the practice during the previous year, the Bureau seconded the efforts of the newspapers to conserve paper by condensing the articles prepared for publication, whenever possible.

News articles and editorials given to The Association by the newspapers and trade papers both in and out of the City aggregated a total of 18,151 inches. The aggregate in the previous year was 18,363 inches.

A little more than half of this space was in the New York City newspapers, and aggregated 9,632 inches.

The papers published outside of the City devoted to The Association 3,531 inches as compared with a total of 3,321 inches last year. This represents an increase during the year of 200 inches, showing widening interest in the work of The Association.

Editorials regarding The Association occupied 1,491 inches of space last year, as against 1,600 inches the year before.

In the trade press, there were 3,507 inches, as against 4,821 inches last year.

The shortage of news print paper was so acute during the year that space was at a premium and many newspapers were compelled to reject advertising offered to them. This was especially true of the New York City papers.

While the space devoted to The Association in the trade papers decreased last year to 3,507 inches from 4,821 inches for the previous year, it must be remembered that many of the trade papers were forced, like "Greater New York" itself, to suspend publication for several weeks owing to the strike of the printers. They also suffered from the prevailing scarcity of paper.

In the metropolitan field, the consolidation of the "New York Herald" with the "New York Sun" had an appreciable effect by removing one important medium of publicity.

Digitized by Google

"Greater New York."

THERE were forty-two issues of "Greater New York" during the year as against forty-six issues for the previous year. The decrease was due, of course, to the strike in the printing establishments which caused the suspension of the publication of "Greater New York" from September 29 to November 10. The statistics of the publication were as follows:

Numbers	Pages	Total Pages
4	8	32
1	12	12
14	16	224
13	20	260
6	24	144
2	32	64
1	36	36
42		776

During the time when publication was suspended, from September 29 to November 10, there were seven Mondays on which normally "Greater New York" would have been issued. On the other hand two issues were published during the week of December 1 when it was once more possible to issue a regularly printed number.

The total number of pages in Volume VIII of "Greater New York" was 776 as against 888 for Volume VII. The decrease in the number of pages is accounted for by the interruption in the publication dates which decreased the number of papers published from forty-six to forty-two.

The Circulation of "Greater New York."

THE average weekly edition of "Greater New York" for the year was 11,088 as compared with 9,520 during the year 1918-1919.

The average mailing list was 10,246 as compared with 8,688 during the previous year.

The average number of papers furnished to the Membership Bureau for its purposes was 283, of which 151 copies were mailed to addresses furnished by the Membership Bureau.

The index to Volume VIII contained eighty-eight pages as compared with ninety-six pages for the previous year. This reduction was due to the interruption of the publication caused by the printers' strike.

Other Publicity.

THE Publicity Bureau sent out 140 stencils during the year as compared with 90 stencils sent out during the previous year.

Digitized by Google

It sent to the newspapers and to the trade press 71 letters relating to the work of The Association.

It prepared fifteen special stories, varying in length from a few hundred words to thirty-five typewritten pages, upon The Association or matters in which The Association was especially interested. Many of these articles were appropriately illustrated.

The Bureau also arranged for the publication of a number of special articles prepared for the newspapers or the periodical press by different Bureaus of The Association.

Each week a letter was sent to the City editors of the daily newspapers and to the press associations calling attention to the more important features of the work of The Association during the previous week as described in full in "Greater New York." These letters were always productive of good results.

All meetings of The Association during the year were covered by the Publicity Bureau. The Bureau also assisted materially in the publicity work of the Re-employment Bureau for New York City. Soldiers, Sailors and Marines. The record of this re-employment publicity was an enviable one.

Editorials which were printed in the daily papers were prepared from time to time by the Bureau.

On several occasions during the year a special appeal was made to the trade press for aid in matters which The Association had in hand. The assistance asked for was always ungrudgingly given. The daily papers also rendered great aid to the work of The Association during the year by giving publicity to the aims and objects of The Association.

The Bureau reported the conferences which were held in the offices of The Association by the various commercial organizations which joined in forming The National Free Zone Association.

The luncheon meetings of the Members' Council were covered as usual, the speeches delivered being taken in relays and furnished at once to the press. Whenever possible, copies of the speeches were obtained in advance and distributed among the newspapers so that the afternoon papers of the day upon which the luncheon was held might give attention to it.

When the Foreign Trade Missions from Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium were entertained in New York City for several days by the Committee headed by President William Fellowes Morgan, an assistant was employed to look after the publicity of the visit under the supervision of the Publicity Bureau. This assistant devoted his entire time to the Missions, following them through the programme arranged for them by the General Reception Committee. He took charge of obtaining interviews with the delegates and, through personal visits to the editors of the newspapers, made the purpose of the visit understood. The results of this publicity were satisfactory despite the fact that a visit from the Prince of Wales overlapped the first part of the visit of the Missions.

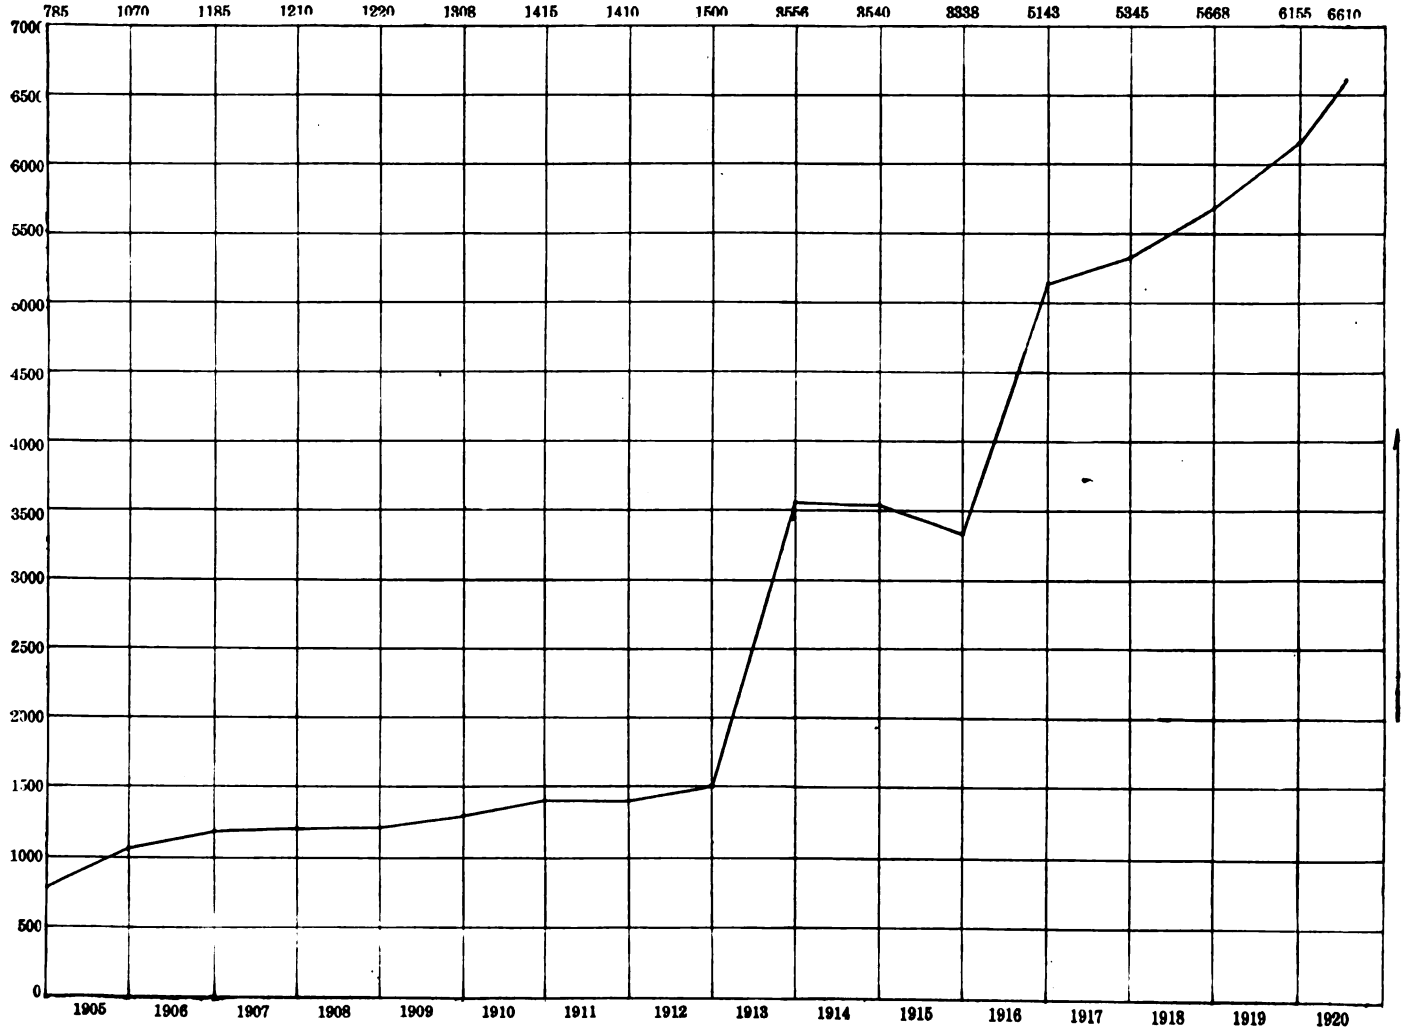
The Clipping Service.

THE clipping service which is performed by the Bureau was conducted throughout the year. The newspapers and trade papers were read for articles of interest to The Association and when found, these articles were clipped and distributed. During the year, the Bureau complied with a large number of requests for information of various kinds. It also aided by suggestion and advice in the preparation of special articles relating to the work of The Association or to the City of New York. Every effort was made to make the newspaper men feel at home in The Association and to obtain an understanding of the public character of the work which it performs.

Throughout this period, the Bureau also supplied many memoranda of facts for the use of officers of The Association in preparing addresses and interviews upon various subjects.



Although no membership or other similar campaigns were conducted by The Association during the year, the publicity obtained by the Bureau proved valuable in the realization of other objects sought by The Association through its Bureaus.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT H. FULLER,
Manager, Publicity Bureau.

REPORT OF THE MEMBERSHIP BUREAU

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

IN membership upbuilding and maintenance, the year which ended April 30, 1920, exceeded the record of all previous years except the two years in which intensive membership campaigns were conducted.

The following succinctly reports on Membership Bureau activities as well as the results secured therefrom within the period named:

Membership Committee Advisory Supervision.

THE Membership Committee exercising advisory supervision over the Membership Bureau was the same in personnel as in the previous year, viz.:

MR. ARTHUR WILLIAMS, Chairman; MR. WILLIAM L. FISH, Vice-Chrmn.;
GENERAL COLEMAN DU PONT, MR. WALTER H. MERRALL,
MR. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN.

Membership Bureau Staff.

IN July, 1919, one field representative severed his connection with the Bureau. In February, 1920, the field staff was again enlarged to five, the new member of the staff being assigned to work exclusively in Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs.

The constant and material enlargement of the enrollment, which greatly increased the work in the Bureau, necessitated the employment of a second permanent clerk, in addition to utilizing special clerical assistance from time to time.

The complete staff at the close of the year consisted of a Manager, a Secretary, five field representatives, and two clerical assistants.

New Membership Record.

EIGHT hundred and sixteen members were elected in the twelve months under review, making on April 30, 1920, a record enrollment of 6,363.

The new membership for the year, namely, 816, was eight less than the number added in the fiscal year 1918-1919. Combined with seventy-six resignations withdrawn in 1919-1920 (seventeen more than for the previous year), the total for the year just closed, namely, 892, is an increase of nine over the combined total of new memberships and withdrawn resignations for the previous fiscal year.

Omitting the two years in which intensive campaigns were conducted, more members were added to the roll last year than during any annual period since the creation of The Association in 1897.

Digitized by Google

The new enrollment was drawn from the different Boroughs constituting Greater New York. As in the past, the great preponderance was from Manhattan, but the increase in membership from Brooklyn is worthy of special mention. The enrollment in that Borough is now larger than ever before. It is composed mainly of manufacturing interests, the constant support of which may be expected. The recent results in membership accretion in Brooklyn augur well for a material increase in the membership in that Borough within the coming year. The present membership in Queens Borough is also the largest it has ever been, with nearly all of it located in Long Island City.

During the year especially good results were again obtained in enrolling the New York branches or selling agencies of prominent industrial corporations whose home offices are located in trade centers of cities in other and, in many cases, distant sections of the country. It is noteworthy that in very large measure the New York representatives of such concerns now urge the home offices to authorize membership because of the benefit to be derived from The Association's services.

The enlargement in the enrollment was well distributed throughout the year. It was a natural growth, resulting not from any special activity in which The Association engaged or any special service extended, but rather from a more complete understanding and appreciation of The Association's efforts and accomplishments in protecting and promoting trade and commerce. Only in the months during which strikes prevailed in many industries, or where a number of related industries of prominence were vitally affected by a few industrial disturbances involving labor on a large scale, was the new enrollment below that of the corresponding month of the previous fiscal year. For instance, the so-called "Outlaw" Transportation Strike, which for a while actually paralyzed all trade and commerce, adversely affected membership upbuilding in April.

The constantly increasing interest in The Association is indicated each year by the diversity of the new enrollment. That diversity was greater in the year 1919-1920 than in the previous twelve months.

The new membership was assigned to 120 different subdivisions within forty-three divisions of the forty-seven divisions covering the classification of the entire membership. These figures compare with 118 and forty, respectively, for the previous fiscal year. The new enrollment in the year under review was drawn practically from every industry and profession concerned with the protection and promotion of trade and commerce.

The greatest increase in the membership during the year in any one division was in Banking, in which the new enrollment was ninety-eight, with eighteen banks and trust companies and eighty bankers and brokers. Export-Import was a close second with seventy-nine, followed by dry goods commission with thirty-eight; jewelry, diamonds and precious stones, etc., with twenty-eight; certified public accountants with twenty-six; men's and boys' clothing, book and newspaper, etc., iron, steel and various metals, each with nineteen, and woolens and worsteds, silk goods and allied lines, furs and fur goods, newspapers, publishers and booksellers, each with fifteen.

Digitized by Google

The new enrollment is of a standard and diversity which materially strengthens The Association, and is of the type which can be counted upon for long-continued support and earnest co-operation in promoting the purposes and undertakings of the organization.

Field Staff Effort.

THE new membership of 816 for the year was secured from 2,822 prospects with whom actual contact was made. In about 1,000 of these cases members co-operated with the field force. As a result of these efforts, almost twenty-nine per cent of these contacts were actually converted into memberships.

During the year membership invitation was extended to all those on the eligible lists in a number of specific trades, industries and professions, namely, furs, confectionery, jewelry, diamonds and precious stones, bankers and brokers, banks and trust companies, and certified public accountants, letters of introduction being presented by the field representatives from interested members.

Names Removed from Roll—Net Gain in Membership.

WITHIN the year three hundred and thirty-four names were removed from the roll on memberships dating from the inception of The Association in 1897 to and including 1919.

As in recent years, the number of membership deductions during the fiscal year was below that which could reasonably be expected from so large and diversified an enrollment. The resignations followed from the usual causes—deaths, temporary suspension of business, retirements, liquidations, consolidations or absorptions, receiverships or bankruptcies, removals from the City, and cancellation or reduction in plural memberships.

Deducting the 334 names removed from the roll from the total of 892 new memberships and withdrawn resignations, the net gain in membership upbuilding and maintenance for the year was 558, the largest in any year (excluding intensive campaigns) since the creation of the Membership Bureau. It was larger by sixty than the net gain for the previous fiscal year.

Resignations Withdrawn.

SEVENTY-SIX resignations were withdrawn during the year, seventeen more than in the previous fiscal year. Through telephonic communication, by letter, and by personal calls, interested members aided very materially in inducing the withdrawal of the resignations.

Use and Value of Eligible Membership List.

IN the continuous and systematic work of maintaining and enlarging the membership, names are constantly removed from, added to and changes are made in the eligible list. At the close of the year under review the individuals, firms and corporations in Greater New York on that list numbered 7,986.

Digitized by Google

Exclusive of names suggested by members, the eligible list was increased 1,059 during the year, under the qualifications prescribed by the Membership Committee, covering individuals, firms and corporations in the different trades, industries and professions interested in the welfare of New York through the protection and promotion of trade and commerce.

The eligible list in Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs was very carefully revised and greatly enlarged during the year and it is being constantly amplified.

Correspondence, office information and, particularly, the daily reports of the field representatives enable the Bureau to keep the eligible record up to date. It is, therefore, a selected list of much value, second only to our enrollment.

The classified eligible list was also kept up to date throughout the year. Its form is identical with the classification of the membership. Throughout the year the list in its entirety was frequently used by The Association in its general work. Various Bureaus of The Association also used parts of the list from time to time.

Association Literature.

THE Year Book, the pamphlet "Things Done" and "Greater New York," which are used constantly, were specially helpful in membership upbuilding and maintenance.

The Year Book is best of all, as it is convincing as to The Association's purposes, organization undertakings, achievements, and personnel. It relates facts impressively.

During the year the Membership Bureau again revised "Things Done," which succinctly presents The Association's accomplishments, service, and eight convincing reasons why every individual, firm and corporation in a position to do so, should support the important work in behalf of business, professional and taxpayers' interests.

"Greater New York," which reports The Association's current activities, is very helpful in field effort in bringing home to eligibles both the diversity and the utility of our undertakings for the common good.

Members' Council Luncheons.

EACH of the six Members' Council Luncheon meetings held within the year was a factor in increasing the enrollment. The large attendance at these luncheons, as well as the topics presented by speakers of national and international fame, focus attention on the representative character of The Association and on its effectiveness in shaping public opinion and in protecting the public interest.

Assistance to Members.

IN conformity with the policy of The Association to establish the intimate contact which insures continued membership support, the Bureau does everything possible when opportunity offers to induce members to request service. In response to such requests, information has been furnished by letter, over the telephone, and through the field staff on a very wide variety of subjects. Appreciation of such aid is frequently expressed by membership proposals.

Co-operation of and With Other Bureaus and in Association Work Generally.

THE Bureau formally acknowledges, with thanks, the information, suggestions, and direct help in upbuilding the membership received during the year from the other Bureaus.

In the same spirit of furthering the best interests of The Association, the Membership Bureau throughout the year furnished to the other Bureaus considerable data and information, particularly in connection with personnel, pertaining to the different trades, industries and professions in Greater New York.

Under plans formulated by you or initiated under your instructions, the Manager and Secretary of the Bureau frequently during the year participated in special activities in which The Association was interested, particularly fund-raising campaigns for specific purposes.

Frequently during the year information of a confidential character, requiring careful inquiry, was obtained for commercial organizations in different parts of the country co-operating with The Association in important work to protect and promote trade and commerce.

Membership Scope.

THE present membership is large and complex. It consists of individuals, firms and corporations, with the firm and corporate enrollment preponderating to the extent of eighty per cent of the whole. Considering that there are at least three members in each firm and three officers in each corporation, over 16,000 separate individuals have a membership interest in The Merchants' Association through the membership of the firm or corporation with which each is connected.

The present representative character of the enrollment is manifest at a glance by the "Plan of Classification" and the "Index of Classification" covering it. The enrollment is classified in 159 different sub-divisions within forty-seven large divisions. From one to thirteen sub-divisions constitute a division. From three to four is the average. The diversity of the membership is also emphasized by more than 1,100 different listings required for the "Index of Classification."

In numbers, the textile industry, from which The Association was created, is the banner division in the membership. Banking, comprising banks and trust companies and bankers and brokers, is next, with Export-Import a close third.

The membership continues exceptionally large and prominent in the following trades and industries, in which liberal support of the work has prevailed since the inception of The Association:

Food Products and Kindred Lines
Men's Apparel and Furnishings
Transportation and Shipping
Leather and Boots and Shoes
Paper and Paper Products
Insurance
Heavy Hardware, Machinery
Women's and Children's Wear
Drugs, Chemicals, Colors, Oils and Paints
Iron and Steel, Metals
Engineering, Building, Building Equipment
Jewelry Stocks
Realty

Digitized by Google

The Merchants' Association is the largest organization here of its kind, and with such a membership is truly representative of the City of New York in commercial and civic affairs, whether Municipal, State or National.

Membership Influence In Increasing Enrollment.

THE need for and the utility of The Association's activities are greatly appreciated by the membership. Each succeeding year the number which can be counted upon for actual service to further The Association's purposes and work is being largely increased.

With this spirit of co-operation constantly on the increase, The Association can count on a material annual enlargement of the enrollment, as business, professional and taxpaying interests now realize that the activities of The Association for the common good are limited only by membership support and that the larger the membership the greater the prestige of the organization in its efforts "To Foster the Trade and Welfare of New York."

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE W. BRAMHALL,
Manager,

N. FLANTER,
Secretary,
Membership Bureau.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

May 1, 1920.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

I HAVE pleasure in reporting as follows regarding the work carried on in the Library of The Association during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1920:

The scope of the work has been the same as in previous years, namely, to have ready for reference information both of a temporary and permanent nature for use of the membership, the Committees and the Bureaus.

Requests for Information.

ONE thousand, five hundred and seventy-nine (1,579) requests for information have been received and taken care of. These inquiries came from the members, other libraries, schools, commercial organizations, business houses and the staff, which requests included calls for government reports (Federal, State and City), statistics, periodicals, atlases, directories, and various miscellaneous data.

Catalogued Material.

EIGHT hundred and thirty-four (834) new books and pamphlets have been received and catalogued. In addition two hundred and seventy-seven (277) volumes were received but have not yet been catalogued. The total number of classified volumes on the shelves now approximates eighteen thousand (18,000).

Magazines and Bulletins.

CURRENT numbers of magazines, both domestic and foreign, covering commercial, financial, economic and industrial data, have been kept on file; also bulletins of many commercial organizations.

"Greater New York" Index.

A MANUSCRIPT copy of the Index to Volume VIII of "Greater New York," four thousand, five hundred and thirty-on (4,531) entries, was prepared, and was submitted to the Publicity Bureau at the close of December, 1919. The 1920 issues have been indexed to date.

List of The Association's Publications.

THE list of The Association's printed reports, studies, memorials, etc., was brought up to date, April 30, 1920. This list also shows which of the publications are still available for distribution.

PURPOSES OF THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

(Extract from Certificate of Incorporation Under the Membership Corporation Law)

"SECOND.—The principal object for which the corporation is to be formed is to foster trade and commerce and the interests of those having trade, business and financial interests in common in the State of New York and elsewhere, to reform abuses relative thereto, or affecting the same, to secure freedom from unjust or unlawful exactions, to diffuse accurate and reliable information concerning matters relating thereto or otherwise, to procure uniformity and certainty in the customs and uses of trade and commerce, to settle differences and to procure uniformity of opinion and action and co-operation between its members, to procure a more enlarged, united and friendly intercourse and action between business men, and to do such other and further acts and things relating thereto which may be found necessary or convenient, so far as the same are permitted by the laws of the State of New York to corporations organized under this act."

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

THE accompanying diagram shows the plan and structure of the working machinery of The Merchants' Association of New York.

It was the purpose of the late William F. King, the founder of The Association, to create an organization of business men and citizens of the community in the form best adapted to do things and accomplish results.

Based on Business Corporation.

TO meet this purpose, the late James B. Dill, who, as attorney, organized The Association, adopted as the prototype the business corporation, which human experience had evolved as the most effective plan for co-operative effort in accomplishing results.

The Association was, therefore, organized under the membership corporation law of the State, and the basic structure of The Association is represented on the diagram by the concentric circles at the top.

Analysis of the Diagram.

THE outer circle represents the members of The Association, who elect the Board of Directors, which Board is represented by the next smaller circle. To the Board of Directors, the members of The Association commit all power, authority and responsibility, for the conduct of the business of the organization during the year. The members, however, reserve to themselves the opportunity, as well as the right, to control the Board by a provision in the by-laws, whereby any five members, without the concurrence of any officers or directors, may call a special meeting of the membership.

The Board of Directors hold regular meetings monthly, and special meetings are held as occasion may require.

Functions of the Executive Committee.

THE next smaller circle represents the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, which during the interim between the meetings of the Board has the power and authority of the Board itself. The Executive Committee, however, is very careful about exercising such power, unless the general policy has already been determined by the Directors.

The Executive Committee meets regularly each week, and special meetings are frequently held, as the work of the organization requires. This Executive Committee constitutes the point at which all the various lines of The Association's activities are co-ordinated and harmonized.

The Center of Responsibility.

THE inner and smaller circle represents the officers of The Association, who are elected annually by the Board of Directors.

The common center of these concentric circles, therefore, is the focal point of all power, authority and responsibility in the organization.

Action on the part of the Board of Directors or Executive Committee is, however, predicated upon a careful analysis of subjects.

Digitized by Google

For this purpose the investigative and recommendative machinery, as indicated by the smaller circles in the lower and left-hand corner of the diagram, is constituted.

Work of the Committees.

THE individual circles represent the various standing committees of The Association, which may be enlarged or reduced at any time by authority from the Board of Directors.

The members of these various investigative committees are appointed by the President. The function of each committee is to investigate, analyze and report with recommendations to the Executive Committee, and through that Committee to the Board of Directors, by whom the final decision as to the policy of The Association is made. These investigative committees have no power of action in the first instance.

Subjects for investigation by the appropriate committee and action by The Association may be suggested by any officer, by the Executive Committee, by the Board of Directors, by the Members' Council, or by any member of The Association.

The Secretary and Staff.

AFTER the determination as to the question of policy and of the result which should be attained has been made by the Board of Directors, then the administrative responsibility passes through the Secretary to the official staff of the organization which is represented by the administrative group on the right-hand side of the diagram.

Each one of the various branches of The Association staff is under the general supervision and direction of the Secretary, who constitutes in the administrative work of The Association the co-ordinating and harmonizing agency similar to the function performed by the Executive Committee in the basic structure of the organization.

In the effort to accomplish the result which may have been determined to be advisable, the members of the investigative committees, and in fact any or all members of The Association, are requested to co-operate.

The Members' Council.

THE small circle in the upper right-hand portion of the diagram represents the Members' Council. This Council is made up of representatives of about 150 divisions of The Association's membership, and is designed to be a closer connecting link between the machinery of the organization and the membership.

The Council, as its name implies, has no power of action.

It may recommend to the Board of Directors subjects which, in the opinion of the Council, should be taken up by The Association for the benefit of commerce and for the welfare of the community. It contains a membership representative of practically every branch of the trade and commerce of New York. It holds meetings at stated intervals where short talks by representative men on live business issues and trade problems are given. It is intended to stimulate an intelligent public interest in matters affecting the trade and welfare of New York.

A Representative Structure.

IT will be seen that the structure of the organization is representative in character, and follows very closely the organization of a business corporation.

The form is one which insures promptness, elasticity and efficiency, which are three vital factors in the successful prosecution of co-operative effort for the City.

The annual dues for the first year of membership shall be payable in advance immediately upon acceptance of the application for membership and shall cover a period of one year from the first of the calendar month next succeeding the date of election. Subsequent annual dues shall be payable in advance on the first of the corresponding month in each succeeding year.

SEC. 6. Resignations from membership shall be made in writing to the Board of Directors, but shall not relieve any member from liability for any dues accrued and unpaid at the time when such resignation is filed.

SEC. 7. Any member whose dues remain unpaid ninety days after maturity shall be reported to the Executive Committee or to the Board of Directors, either of which may thereupon declare such member delinquent. Thereupon there shall be mailed to such member a bill covering the unpaid dues and a copy of this section. If the dues remain unpaid for a period of thirty days thereafter, the delinquent shall be dropped from membership, and notice of this fact may be printed in the official publication of the Association.

ARTICLE III

AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS

Certificate of Affiliation
How Obtained
Rights of Affiliation
Meetings
Information

SECTION 1. Any Civic, Trade or Business Association within the City of New York, upon application and under conditions approved by the Board of Directors of this Association, may obtain a "Certificate of Affiliation" with this Association whenever any of the following three conditions are complied with, viz.:

(a) Such proportion of its members are members of this Association as, in the opinion of the Board of Directors of this Association, entitle it to receive such "Certificate of Affiliation"; or,

(b) Upon agreeing to contribute a definite sum, to be prescribed by the Board of Directors of this Association, annually to the funds of this Association; or,

(c) Upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors of this Association may decide upon as proper.

Such affiliation shall confer upon the affiliated organization the following rights, and such others, if any, as may specifically be authorized by the Board of Directors of this organization, viz.:

First: To call upon the Secretary of this Association to arrange meetings of organizations interested in trade, business, civic or legislative questions, and to assist in the conduct of such meetings.

Second: To receive on request and subject to the approval of the Executive Committee of this Association, information concerning current civic or legislative matters affecting the interests of the affiliated organization.

Digitized by Google

Third: To call upon this Association to appoint arbitrators or referees in trade or business disputes in which the affiliated organization may be interested or concerned.

Revocation of Certificate Arbitrators

SEC. 2. Any "Certificate of Affiliation" granted under the provisions of these By-Laws may be withdrawn at any time by the Board of Directors of this Association, by a majority vote of the Directors present at any meeting at which there is a quorum, for any cause which said Board may deem sufficient.

ARTICLE IV

SUBSIDIARY ORGANIZATIONS

Charter How Obtained

Any nine or more members of this Association interested in a particular line of trade, business or other activity may apply to the Board of Directors of this Association for a charter for a subsidiary organization within and confined to the membership of this Association. The Board of Directors may, at its discretion, grant such a charter, provided the objects sought and the methods to be employed thereunder are consistent with the objects and methods of the Association itself. Any such subsidiary organization shall be under the general supervision of, and subject to regulations prescribed by, the Board of Directors of The Merchants' Association of New York, which shall have the right at any time to revoke such charter.

Regulations and Revocation

ARTICLE V

MANAGEMENT AND OFFICERS

Directors, Number and Qualifications

SECTION 1. The government of the Association shall be vested in a Board of twenty-four Directors, the majority of whom must be engaged in business in the Borough of Manhattan. Directors shall be elected by ballot at each annual meeting of the Association. The Directors shall be divided into three classes, equal in number, so that the terms of office of all the Directors of one class only expire in each year, and so that the terms of office of their successors shall be as many years as there are classes. Vacancies occurring during the year shall be filled by the Board of Directors.

How Elected

Vacancies

Officers, How Elected

SEC. 2. The officers of this Association shall consist of a President, a First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President, a Third Vice-President, and a Treasurer, who shall be members of the Board of Directors, and a Secretary and a Counsel, who need not be members of the Board, all of which officers shall be elected by ballot, immediately after the annual meeting of the Association, by the Board of Directors. Each of such officers shall serve for the term of one year and until the election and qualification of his successor. The President may appoint one or more Assistant Secretaries, who shall serve during the pleasure of the Board, and shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be delegated to them. The Secretary, the Assistant Secretaries and the Counsel shall receive such compensation as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

Term of Office Assistant Secretaries

Compensation

Nominating Committee

SEC. 3. Prior to the 15th day of March in each year, a committee of five members of the Association, to be called the Nominating Committee, shall be appointed by the President. It shall be the duty of this Committee to select candidates from Class A membership for Directors of the Association for the ensuing year and report the same to the Secretary before the first day of April next ensuing, and the Secretary in sending notices of the annual meeting shall include such list of nominees so prepared by said Committee.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent any member from voting for or nominating any member of Class A for any office in this Association.

ARTICLE VI

General Powers

Duties of Officers

PRESIDENT

President

Section 1. The President shall be the chief executive officer and head of the Association, and (between the meetings of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee) shall have the general control and management of its business and affairs, subject, however, to the right of the Directors to delegate any specific power, except such as may be by the statute exclusively conferred upon the President, to any other officer or officers of the Association to the exclusion for the time being of the President.

Annual Reports

He shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and appoint all special or other committees unless otherwise ordered by the Board. He shall make annual reports showing the condition of the affairs of the Association, and make such recommendations as he thinks proper, and submit the same to the Board of Directors at the meeting next preceding the annual meeting of the members, and he shall, from time to time, bring before the Directors and the Executive Committee such information as may be required touching the business and property of the Association.

Ex-Officio Member of Committees

The President shall appoint and shall be ex-officio member and Chairman of all Standing Committees of the Board, and shall be the custodian of the corporate seal.

VICE-PRESIDENT

Vice-President

Sec. 2. In the absence of the President, the First Vice-President shall act in his place; in the absence of both, the Second Vice-President shall act in the President's place, and in the absence of all three, the Third Vice-President shall act in the President's place.

TREASURER

Treasurer

Sec. 3. The Treasurer shall keep, or cause to be kept, full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the Association, and shall deposit all moneys and other valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the Association in such depositories as may be designated by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee.

Duties

Monthly Reports

He shall disburse the funds of the Association as may be ordered by the Board, taking proper vouchers for such disbursements, and shall render to the President and Directors, at the regular monthly meetings of the Board, or whenever they may require it, an account of all his transactions as Treasurer and of the financial condition of the Association, and at the last regular meeting of the Board before the annual meeting of the Association, annually, a like report for the preceding fiscal year. The fiscal year shall extend from May 1st of one calendar year to and including April 30th of the following calendar year.

Annual Report

SECRETARY

Secretary

Sec. 4. The Secretary shall be secretary and actuary of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee and the Members' Council. He shall record, or cause to be recorded, all votes and minutes of all proceedings in books to be kept for that purpose. He shall cause proper notice to be given of all meetings of the Board of Directors, of members of the Association, of the Executive Committee and of the Members' Council. He shall be ex-officio Secretary of all committees, have charge of the general secretarial work of the various committees of the Association and shall have general supervision and control of the work of all members of the office staff.

COUNSEL

Counsel

Duties

SEC. 5. The Counsel shall be the general legal adviser of the Association. Unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Directors or the Executive Committee, he shall have supervision of all matters involving legal questions, and shall appear for the Association in all actions or proceedings at law.

ARTICLE VII

Delegation of Powers

DUTIES OF OFFICERS MAY BE DELEGATED

In case of the absence of the President, either of the Vice-Presidents, the Secretary or the Treasurer or for any other reason that may seem sufficient to the Board, the Board of Directors or Executive Committee may delegate his powers and duties to any other officer, or to any Director, for the time being.

ARTICLE VIII

MEETINGS OF DIRECTORS

Directors' Meetings

SECTION 1. Regular meetings of the Directors shall be held without notice on the second Thursday of each month, at the office of the Association in New York, or by order of the Board of Directors elsewhere, on a day and at an hour to be fixed by the Board.

Quorum

SEC. 2. One-third of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except to adjourn.

Special Meetings

SEC. 3. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the President on two days' notice to each Director; special meetings shall be called in like manner on the written request of a majority of the members of the Board, or a majority of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE IX

POWERS OF THE DIRECTORS

Directors' General Powers

SECTION 1. The Board of Directors shall have the management of the business of the Association, and in addition to the powers and authorities by these By-Laws expressly conferred upon them, may exercise all such powers and do all such acts and things as may be exercised or done by the Association, but subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of the Statute and of these By-Laws, and to any regulations from time to time made by the members, provided that no regulations so made shall invalidate any prior act of the Directors, which would have been valid if such regulation had not been made.

Special Powers

SEC. 2. Without prejudice to the general powers conferred by the last preceding clause and the other powers conferred by these By-Laws it is hereby expressly declared that the Board of Directors shall have the following powers, that is to say:

May Acquire Property

To purchase or otherwise acquire for the Association any property, rights and privileges which the Association is authorized to acquire, at such prices and on such terms and conditions, and for such considerations, as they think fit.

Appointments and Removals

Salaries

To appoint, and at their discretion remove or suspend, such managers, officers, subordinate, assistant or otherwise, and clerks, agents and servants, permanently or temporarily, as they may from time to time think fit, and to determine their duties and fix them and, from time to time, change their salaries or emoluments, and to require security in such instances and in such amount as they think fit.

To confer upon any officer of the Association the right to choose, remove or suspend such subordinate officers, agents or factors.

Digitized by Google

To determine who shall be authorized to sign on the Association's behalf, notes, receipts, acceptances, endorsements, checks, releases, contracts and documents. Delegation of Powers Power of Signature

From time to time to provide for the management of the affairs of the Association in such a manner as they think fit, and in particular from time to time to delegate any of the powers of the Board of Directors to any committee, officer or agent, and to appoint any persons to be the agents of the Association, with such powers (including the power to sub-delegate) and upon such terms as may be thought fit.

ARTICLE X

STANDING COMMITTEES

SECTION 1. There shall be an Executive Committee of not less than three, nor more than seven Directors appointed by the President, which shall meet at regular periods or on notice to all by any of their own number, or on notice from the Secretary. It shall have authority to exercise all the powers of the Board at any time a quorum may fail to attend any regular or special meeting thereof, or whenever the Board be not in session. Executive Committee

It shall have power to authorize expenditures and to audit and approve accounts and bills. Powers

Three members shall constitute a quorum of the Executive Committee for the transaction of business. Quorum

SEC. 2. There may be a Finance Committee of three Directors or members appointed by the President, which shall attend to and supervise all the fiscal operations of the Association to the extent and in the manner directed by the Board, and this or such other committee as may be appointed by the President shall examine all accounts of the Association at the close of each fiscal year and at such other times as may be deemed necessary, and report thereon. Finance Committee

SEC. 3. The President may also appoint an Advisory Committee from the members (to which Committee members of the Board may be eligible), which shall advise with and aid the officers of the Association in all matters concerning its interests and the management of its business and generally perform such duties and exercise such powers as may be directed or delegated by the Board of Directors from time to time. This Committee shall consist of such number as the President shall from time to time see fit. Advisory Committee

SEC. 4. The Standing Committees shall be appointed by the President and shall keep records of their proceedings and report them from time to time to the Board of Directors. Records of Proceedings

ARTICLE XI

MEMBERS' COUNCIL

SECTION 1. The Board of Directors may establish a "Members' Council" representative of the various divisions or lines of business composing the membership of the Association. How Established

SEC. 2. For this purpose the membership of the Association shall be divided into such appropriate groups as may be approved by the Board of Directors or by the Executive Committee. The members composing each such group shall be invited to designate as their representatives on the Members' Council such number of their members as may be approved by said Board or said Committee. Organization

Digitized by Google

The total number of representatives thus nominated by the several groups shall constitute the membership of the Members' Council, and each of them shall serve for the period of one year from the date of the first meeting of the Council in each year. The Chairman of the Members' Council shall be appointed by the President of the Association, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors.

Chairman

Meetings

SEC. 3. The Members' Council shall hold regular and frequent meetings and may discuss, consider and report to the Executive Officers, Executive Committee or Board of Directors, recommendations concerning any matter which, in its judgment, properly concerns the usefulness, and conforms to the policy, of the Association. To this end the Members' Council may appoint such Standing or Special Sub-committees as it may deem proper.

Sub-Committees

Assistance in Membership Work

SEC. 4. A most important function of the Members' Council shall be to render active assistance to the Executive Officers and Committees of the Association in increasing and strengthening the membership of the Association, thereby enlarging its opportunities for usefulness and efficiency in the accomplishment of its purpose "To Foster the Trade and Welfare of New York."

Termination

SEC. 5. The Board of Directors may at any time in its discretion suspend or terminate the existence of the Members' Council.

ARTICLE XII

ORDER OF BUSINESS, DIRECTORS' MEETINGS

Order of Business at Directors' Meetings

The order of business at the meetings of the Board shall be as follows:

1. A quorum being present, the President shall call the Board to order.
2. The Minutes of the last meeting shall be read and considered as approved, if there be no amendments.
3. Reports of Officers of the Association.
4. Reports of Committees.
5. Unfinished Business.
6. Miscellaneous Business.
7. New Business.

ARTICLE XIII

OUTLAYS BY SPECIAL COMMITTEES

Outlays by Special Committees

Whenever five, or more, members of this Association shall certify to the Board of Directors that they desire the Association to prosecute any matter within the scope of the Association, and shall further certify that the said proceedings shall be at the cost and expense of the said members, the Board of Directors may authorize the President to appoint a special committee to prosecute such matters in the name of the Association, under the direction of the President and under the control of the Board of Directors. Such Committee shall not be authorized to create any indebtedness or obligation on the part of the Association, unless the same shall be specially authorized by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee of the Association.

ARTICLE XIV

MEETINGS

Members' Annual Meetings When Held

Quorum

SECTION 1. The annual meetings of the Association shall be held on the first Tuesday after the second Thursday in May in each year at 2 P. M. The presence of nine members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at all meetings of the Association.

Digitized by Google

Special Members' Meetings

SEC. 2. Special meetings of the Association may be called at any time by the President, or shall be called upon the order of the Board, or on the written request of not less than five members, and the object of such meeting shall be stated in the notice. Regular notices of all meetings shall be forwarded to each member at least three days prior to such meeting. At any special or regular meeting called, nine members shall constitute a quorum, and no business shall be transacted at any special meeting other than that stated in the notices of such meeting.

How Called

ARTICLE XV

ORDER OF BUSINESS—MOTIONS

Order of Business at Members' Meetings

SECTION 1. Calling the Roll.
Reading the Minutes of the Previous Meeting.
Reports of Officers.
Reports of Standing Committees.
Reports of Special Committees.
Elections.
Unfinished Business.
New Business.

SEC. 2. The order of business may be altered or suspended at any meeting by a majority vote of the members present. The usual parliamentary rules as laid down in "Cushing's Manual of Parliamentary Law" shall govern all debates, when not in conflict with these By-Laws.

MOTIONS

Motions to be Made in Writing

SEC. 3. Every motion or resolution which shall be made or offered at any meeting shall, at the request of the Secretary, be reduced to writing and furnished to the Secretary before the question shall be put.

ARTICLE XVI

NOTICE TO MEMBERS

Notice

SECTION 1. Under no circumstances shall any member of Class B, or any organization affiliated under the provisions of Articles III or IV, be entitled to notice of any meeting, or of any other proceeding in the Association, unless it is specifically provided herein that members of Class B or organizations so affiliated are entitled to notice.

How Given

SEC. 2. Whenever notice is required to be given to any member, such notice shall not be deemed to be personal notice, or personal service of a notice in writing, but such notice shall be deemed to have been given from and at the time when said notice in writing shall have been deposited in the Post Office, or in any regular United States mailing box in the City of New York, inclosed in a post-paid wrapper, addressed to the member at his last known place of residence or business as the same shall appear upon the books of the Association, or if such address shall not appear upon the books of the Association, then to such address as may appear in any directory of the municipality in which such member may reside or do business.

ARTICLE XVII

Limitation of Contracts

No agreement, contract or obligation, other than a check, involving the payment of money or the credit of the Association for more than Twenty-five Hundred ($2,500) Dollars shall be made without the order of the Board of Directors or of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE XVIII

EXPULSION

Expulsion

SECTION 1. If any person, firm or corporation, being a member of the Association, shall at any time be deemed guilty of any act which is prejudicial to this Association or to the purposes for which it is formed, such person, firm or corporation shall be notified to appear personally at the next regular meeting of the Board of Directors and shall then and there be given a hearing. Any member shall have the privilege of appearing by counsel and all evidence shall be taken by a stenographer chosen by the Board. By a two-thirds vote of all the members of the Board of Directors present at a meeting thereof called for that purpose such member may be expelled from membership in this Association.

Right to Appeal

SEC. 2. Any member so expelled, if he has personally appeared before the Board, and not otherwise, and who may feel aggrieved by such action, may appeal to the Association, but such appeal shall not operate to suspend the expulsion meanwhile. The matter shall thereupon be heard at the next regular meeting, or a special meeting may, at the option of the Board of Directors, be called for that purpose, and at such meeting the action of the Board of Directors may be reviewed upon the evidence produced before the Board, and not otherwise. If a majority of all the members present shall vote to indorse the action of the Board of Directors in so expelling such member, such member's name shall be finally dropped from the roll.

ARTICLE XIX

SIGNING THE ROLL

Application for Membership

SECTION 1. Every person, firm, association or corporation desiring to become a Resident Member of this Association shall, in person, or by attorney, sign an application for membership in the Association.

Right to Refuse Application

SEC. 2. The Board of Directors, or Executive Committee, shall have the right to refuse any such application for any reason which to them shall seem sufficient, provided, however, such refusal of the Board of Directors, or of the Executive Committee, be by a majority vote of the Directors or members of the Executive Committee present at any meeting of the Board or Executive Committee at which there shall be a quorum present.

Observance of By-Laws and Regulations

SEC. 3. The signing of such an application for membership, unless the application be refused, as provided in Section 2, shall be, and be construed to be, a signature on the official roll of members of the Association and an agreement on the part of said person, firm, association, or corporation to fulfill and perform all requirements herein contained; and to conform to all rules or regulations, whether expressed in the By-Laws or otherwise, which may from time to time be adopted by the Board of Directors of the Association.

ARTICLE XX

AMENDMENTS

Amendments.

These By-Laws may be amended by a vote of three-fourths of the members present at any meeting held for the purpose of such amendment.

Provided, however, amendments shall be proposed in writing at any regular or special meeting of the members of the Association, and thereafter a copy of the proposed amendments and notice of the time of intended action thereon, which shall be a meeting subsequent to the proposal in writing of such amendments, shall be given to each member of Class A.

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING MEMBERS' COUNCIL

1. The Members' Council shall consist of representatives of the various groups into which the membership of the Association has been or may be divided by the Board of Directors together with Members-at-Large, as follows:

A. For each group having at least five members, one representative.

B. For each such group one additional representative for each additional ten members not in excess of fifty, but no group to have more than five representatives.

C. Members-at-Large may be appointed by the President at his discretion.

2. The President shall annually appoint a Chairman and Vice-Chairman, selected from among the members of the Association. The Secretary shall be the Secretary of the Association.

3. Meetings of the Members' Council shall be held at regular intervals to be determined by the Council.

4. The Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary shall constitute a Program Committee, the function of which shall be to arrange interesting and instructive programs for each meeting of the Council. The Committee shall have the power to add to its number.

5. The Members' Council may appoint such Standing or Special Sub-committees as it may deem proper.

6. The Members' Council, until and unless suspended or terminated by the Board of Directors, shall have the following powers and duties:

A. To recommend to the Board of Directors of the Association, from time to time, subjects which in the opinion of the Members' Council should be taken up by the Association for the benefit of commerce and for the welfare of the community. The power hereby conferred is recommendatory only and does not include any right to act as representative of the Association.

B. To recommend changes in grouping of membership and in number of representatives of each group in the Members' Council.

C. The representatives of each group in the Members' Council, acting through their Chairman, may recommend directly to the Board of Directors investigation or action on the part of the Association in respect to matters affecting their particular line or group of trades.

D. From time to time, in accordance with plans perfected by the Board of Directors, to co-operate in membership building by enlisting the active assistance of the representatives of and members in the respective groups.

FOR GUIDANCE OF CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES

THE Board of Directors, May 16, 1907, adopted the following preambles and resolutions:

WHEREAS, It is of prime importance that all utterances and publications made in the name or behalf of The Merchants' Association of New York should be co-ordinated with each other, and in harmony with the general policy of the Association as established and authorized by its Board of Directors; and

WHEREAS, To this end it is essential that every important utterance or publication by any of the standing or special committees, made through its chairman or otherwise, should, if circumstances permi be reviewed and approved, prior to its publication, by the Board of Directors, or, between the sessions of the latter, by the Executive Committee; therefore

RESOLVED, That the following rules, recommended by the Executive Committee, are hereby approved and adopted by the Board of Directors, viz.:

RULES FOR GUIDANCE OF CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES.

1. The attention of the chairman of each committee shall be called to the preambles preceding these rules.

2. The chairman of each committee is expected, before issuing any letter or statement for publication, to submit same in draft to the Secretary of the Association, who thereupon will arrange to have it promptly reviewed either by the Board or the Executive Committee, either in meeting or by submission to the individual members, according to the urgency of the matter.

3. That while the Board and the Executive Committee, so far as consistent with their own responsibilities, will give the fullest discretion and latitude to committees and their chairmen, and will endorse and support them in all proper ways, the latter will be expected to reciprocate by recognizing the importance of unity in the policy and work of the Association, of co-ordination of the work of its numerous committees, and of deliberation and a due sense of responsibility in all statements and publications issued over the name, and, therefore, presumably having the sanction and endorsement of The Merchants' Association.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

May 1, 1921.

To the Members of
The Merchants' Association of New York.

GENTLEMEN:

THE activities of The Merchants' Association of New York during the fiscal year just ended have been directed toward the adjustment of business to the conditions confronting it, to which conditions, because of their unusual character, it was unaccustomed. The aim of The Association has been to inform business men in detail regarding the situation and to assist in every possible way in conforming the conduct of business to existing conditions, so that an intelligent basis of operation could be reached.

The reports of the Chairman of the Members' Council, of the Secretary and of the Managers of the Bureaus of The Association, submitted herewith, give in some detail an outline of The Association's efforts and the results obtained. I earnestly urge you to give those reports your careful attention.

It is gratifying to report that during the past year it has been The Association's privilege to render to its members and to the City, State and Nation more effective service than during any similar period since its organization. Successful operations in The Association have brought results of lasting benefit, and its manifold services have brought it added recognition from influential sources. Its cooperation with other organizations, notably the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the International Chamber of Commerce, has been sincerely appreciated, as is evidenced by the important places accorded its representatives in the councils of those organizations.

Local recognition of The Association is reflected in the increased membership reported at the close of the fiscal year. During that year 759 new members were added to the rolls, bringing the total membership to 6,764, the largest in the history of The Association, and an increase of 401 over the total membership recorded in the last annual report. It is needless to say that this substantial increase in membership, and consequently in strength and influence, is a source of great gratification to the Officers and Directors of The Association.

My associates on the Board of Directors and the members of the Committees of The Association have, as in all previous years, devoted themselves unselfishly to their duties, and it is my very great pleasure to express to them, on behalf of the entire membership, well-deserved appreciation of their services. They have given unstintedly of their time and energy—in many cases doing so at great personal sacrifice.

Digitized by Google

The Secretary and the office staff also are entitled to earnest commendation, and I freely express to them, on behalf of myself and the other members of The Association, our cordial appreciation of their loyalty, fidelity and efficient application to their duties.

Very truly yours,

WM. FELLOWES MORGAN,
President.

REPORT OF MEMBERS' COUNCIL

May 1, 1921.

To the Board of Directors of
The Merchants' Association of New York.

GENTLEMEN:

THE luncheon meetings of the Members' Council during the past year were in every case functions specifically related to business. On three occasions the meetings afforded an opportunity to the business men of the country, because of the wide publicity given the meetings, to learn of conditions in foreign lands. During the year ended April 30, 1921, four meetings were held.

The first of these was given in honor of representatives of The Association of British Chambers of Commerce and delegates from Great Britain to the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire, held at Toronto, October 8, 1920. The delegates and guests of honor were Mr. A. J. Hobson, LL.D., President of The Association of British Chambers of Commerce; the Honorable Sir Thomas Mackenzie, G.C.M.G., LL.D., High Commissioner for New Zealand; Mr. Stanley Machin, J. P., President of the London Chamber of Commerce; Mr. W. F. Russell, Vice-President of the Glasgow Chamber of Commerce; Mr. H. L. Symonds, Deputy Chairman of Council of the London Chamber of Commerce; Mr. F. J. Tompsett, of Exeter, England; Mr. A. R. Atkey, M. P., of Nottingham, England; Mr. Barton Kent, of London, England; Mr. O. E. Bodington, of the British Chamber of Commerce at Paris, France; Mr. William Muir MacKean, of Glasgow, Scotland; Mr. Frank Moore, President of the Leicester Chamber of Commerce; Mr. C. B. Carryer, of Leicester, England; Mr. Thomas Morley, of Leicester, England; Mr. T. S. Sheldrake, Editor of The Times Trade Supplement, and Mr. R. S. Dunwoody, O. B. E., Secretary of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce.

The speakers were Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President of The Merchants' Association of New York; Mr. A. J. Hobson, President of The Association of British Chambers of Commerce; Sir Thomas Mackenzie, High Commissioner for New Zealand, and the Honorable Martin W. Littleton.

The visitors from Great Britain greatly interested their auditors with discussions of opportunities for trade between the United States, the British Empire and other countries.

The second meeting of the year was held on December 1, 1920, when the subject was "The Business Outlook." The speakers were Mr. Archer W. Douglas, Vice-President of the Simmons Hardware Company of St. Louis, Missouri; Mr. Julius Kruttschnitt, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Southern Pacific Company, and Mr. Willis H. Booth, Vice-President of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. They discussed the business situation, particularly in the United States, from the respective standpoints of the commercial expert, the railroad executive and the banker, covering commerce, transportation and finance in the course of their remarks.

"American Business and Foreign Credits" was the subject of a meeting held on January 19, 1921. The guests of honor and speakers were the Honorable Herbert Hoover, now Secretary of Commerce; Mr. John McHugh, Vice-President of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank of New York, and Chairman of the Organization Committee of the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation, and Mr. A. C. Bedford, Chairman of the Board of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and Vice-President of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Plans for the revival of foreign commerce were presented by the speakers in a most helpful and interesting manner.

The final meeting of the year was held on April 6, 1921, when the subject was "Russia from Within." The speakers, who were Sir Paul Dukes of the British Secret Service, and Captain Hugh S. Martin of the United States Army Intelligence Service, both of whom had seen service in Russia as agents of their respective governments, and had participated in the councils of the Bolsheviki, gave authentic and valuable information to their auditors regarding actual conditions in that country.

The popularity of the meetings of the Members' Council continued throughout the past year and, on the average, more publicity was given the meetings than heretofore. The past year's meetings were accorded many columns of news space in the press and a great amount of editorial comment. This widespread dissemination of statements made by leading business men is of the greatest value, in an informative way, to the citizens of New York and the country at large.

Despite the necessary change in the atmosphere of luncheon meetings from that of enthusiastic patriotism on account of the war to that of formal business discussion, the attendance at the meetings has kept up remarkably well. The average attendance of the four meetings was approximately 1,100, exclusive of many members who arrived too late to be served with luncheon, but went to the galleries of the dining hall to hear the speaking.

It is evident that a real interest in these luncheon meetings continues, and with the cooperation of the membership of The Association heretofore accorded the Council, future meetings should be of increasing value to the business world.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM C. BREED,
Chairman of the Members' Council.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

May 1, 1921.

Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

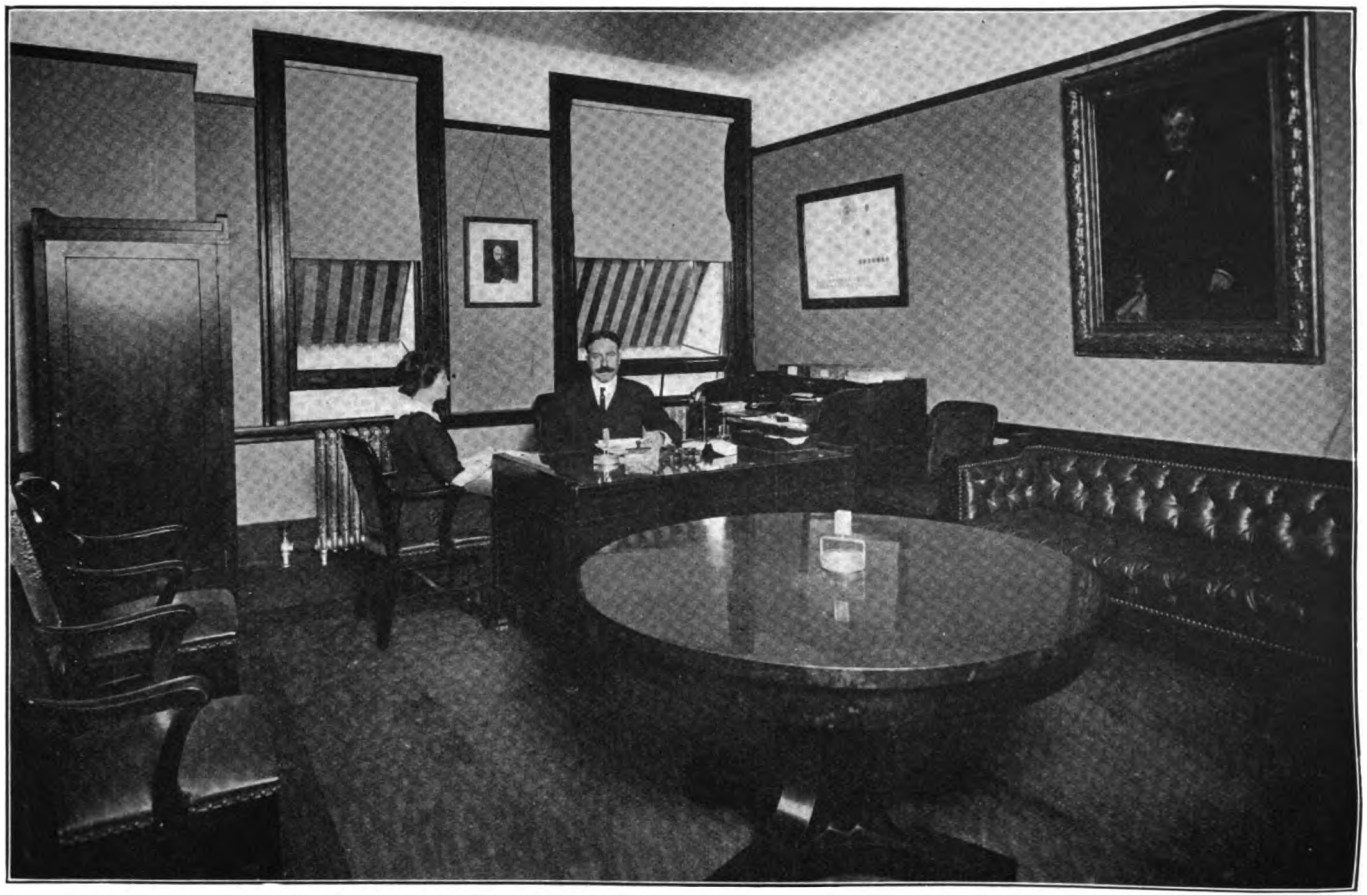
IN presenting this resumé of the activities of The Merchants' Association of New York for the year beginning May 1, 1920, and ending April 30, 1921, it is gratifying to record that probably no year in the history of the organization has been more fruitful in service by The Association. The principal feature, distinguishing the activities during the year under review from previous years, has been the service rendered in connection with the problem of adjusting business, and the mental attitude of those engaged or employed therein, to the new conditions which have become operative as a result of the war, and which are still largely in a state of flux.

So diverse and numerous have been the activities and services of The Association during that period that the space available for this resumé does not permit a complete or comprehensive statement of all those activities, but does permit only reference to the more vitally important matters which have engaged The Association's attention. To this report, however, are attached reports from the Managers of the various Bureaus of The Association, in which are set forth in greater detail, and more comprehensively, many of the activities of the organization which are conducted largely through these departments.

In order, therefore, to realize and appreciate The Association's work during that period, to the rather limited extent comprehended even in these more detailed Bureau reports, it is essential that those documents should be read. Permit me, therefore, to call them to your attention, and especially to commend them to the attention of the members of The Association, as they will indicate many lines along which The Association's facilities can be profitably employed by them.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

THE most important activities which engaged The Association's attention during this period were in connecton with:



1. The breaking of the blockade on transportation of merchandise in New York City, arising from the longshoremen's strike, and the sympathetic boycott in connection therewith.
2. The problem of industrial relations.
3. The retention of the benefits of Daylight Saving.

BREAKING OF BLOCKADE ON TRANSPORTATION OF MERCHANDISE

IN this foremost activity, the utility and value of commercial organizations were demonstrated more conclusively, it is believed, than had been possible in any earlier field of effort.

Conditions existed which threatened a paralysis of New York City's steamship and railroad communication with the outside world. Through the interruption of transportation facilities, the City's commerce was hampered to a serious degree. Losses to local business houses were daily piling up at an appalling rate.

Relief was imperatively necessary. Efforts to mitigate the situation through Federal, State and municipal aid failed completely. Attempts at mediation and conciliation proved abortive.

Responsive to the necessities of the business public, The Merchants' Association assumed and maintained leadership in a concerted effort to secure the needed relief from stagnation of shipping, in which it was directly and vigorously aided by four other leading commercial organizations of the City—the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the Borough of Queens—and was supported by very nearly every one of the business associations of Greater New York.

The sentiment of the community was quickly and definitely crystallized; practical plans were conceived and executed in a minimum of time; obstructions in the channels of commerce were removed, and principles lasting in their benefits to business in this City were firmly established.

ORGANIZATION OF CITIZENS' TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

HOW the emergency arose, which caused the Citizens' Transportation Committee to be formed, was well and concisely told by President William Fellowes Morgan at a luncheon given by The Merchants' Association at the Hotel Astor on May 25, 1920, at which were present more than 2,000 representatives of commerce and trade, including the heads of the foremost houses in this City and a number of representatives of organized labor. This statement is summarized as follows:

Mr. Morgan described the strike of the longshoremen on the Coastwise Steamship Lines--the Old Dominion, the Mallory, the Clyde, the Southern Pacific and the Ocean Steamship Lines—which began on March 13, 1920, and was in abrogation of the National Adjustment Commission's wage award of October, 1919, which award had been accepted by the longshoremen in settlement of the strike then in effect. This strike completely tied up the five lines named, which carried huge amounts of foodstuffs and cotton from the South, and caused the Old Dominion Line to retire from business within a few days. On April 6 the steamship companies asked The Merchants' Association if its members would undertake to deliver and remove freight in case their lines should resume operation. Inquiry developed their disposition to do so. The steamship companies resumed operations, but when consignees and shippers sent their truckmen to the piers, they were confronted with pickets who drove them away.

He told of the alliance of labor unions, known as the Transportation Trades Council, including teamsters, chauffeurs, longshoremen and pier employees, banded together in agreement not to handle any goods transported in any way by firms, corporations or individuals who refused to employ union labor or who refused to enter into contracts to transport their goods upon the terms prescribed by the unions, or to any pier or terminal where a strike is in progress, and how, under the workings of this agreement, the commerce of New York City via the Coastwise Steamship Lines had been throttled.

Complaints of these conditions made to The Merchants' Association by members became so numerous that the Board of Directors telegraphed the President, reporting the facts and asking that action be taken by the Government to bring this intolerable situation to an end. The ensuing investigation made by Assistant Attorney General Ames, aided by the United States District Attorneys for the Southern District of New York and for New Jersey, in a series of conferences with representatives of The Merchants' Association, of other commercial organizations, of the strikers and of the steamship companies, resulted in a request that the City's commercial organizations select a committee to make an adjustment fair to all the interests involved.

Accordingly there was formed the Committee for the Protection of the Rights of the Public in the Transportation of Goods (later reorganized as the Citizens Transportation Committee), composed of representatives of the City's five leading commercial organizations. After conferences with the strikers and steamship company officials the Committee made known its finding, which was to the effect that the award of the National Adjustment Commission, accepted as effective until September 30, 1920, should be respected, and that the strikers should return to work at once, pending mutual adjustment or settlement of their differences under the terms of the Transportation Act.

This finding was voted upon and rejected by the strikers.

Appeals to the large trucking concerns to move freight to and from the coastwise piers were fruitless. Their employees, they said, were united and bound to obey the mandates of the Transportation Trades Council; they feared a general strike of truckmen; and they refused to haul the coastwise freight (which amounted annually to 4,600,000 tons), lest by so doing the whole city might be tied up.

Mr. Morgan pointed out the dangers of domination by the conspiracy or combination known as the Transportation Trades Council and the consequences of its attempt to deprive the great body of citizens of the rights guaranteed to them by the Federal and State Constitutions.

Continuing, Mr. Morgan stated that the condition necessitated action and he indicated a determination to act decisively and promptly. That the situation did not comprehend a mere effort at strikebreaking was indicated when he said:

> "We are here in the interest of New York, to see that law and order shall be maintained, to the end that there may be guaranteed to every law-abiding individual the God-given right to work and to live in peace and safety. I want one thing thoroughly understood—this is not a movement to create a condition whereby working people are deprived of their unquestioned right of organization, or are deprived of the reasonable and legitimate use of the power of organization; nor has it any desire to see the creation of conditions which might tend toward the exploitation of working people. We believe that genuine prosperity depends upon the broadest diffusion of well-being in the community, that essential to this attainment is the widest degree of human liberty; that removal of tyranny and unwarranted domination, no matter by whom, or in what manner exercised, must be accomplished.
> "Men of business, we are trustees for the people of this great City, and there is an obligation resting on each and every one of us to help protect those many thousands of our citizens who, less fortunate than ourselves, are unable to defend themselves."

The following resolution was then introduced:

> "WHEREAS, The Commercial Life of the City of New York and the welfare of its people depend on the free flow of merchandise through an impartial and uninterrupted transportation service, and such service is now confronted with restrictions and obstructions which threaten the City with paralysis of industry and commerce, be it
> "Resolved, That we call upon the appropriate officials, Federal, State and City, to take such action as shall bring this intolerable situation to an end; and be it further
> "Resolved, That we heartily indorse the efforts of the Citizens Transportation Committee, and urge all merchants and citizens to give it their moral and financial support."

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

On several occasions, before and after the luncheon meeting, conferences were held with labor leaders by the Citizens Transportation Committee as well as a special mediation committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, to no avail.

PERSONNEL OF THE COMMITTEE

THE Citizens' Transportation Committee as permanently organized consisted of:

MR. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN, Chairman
President of The Merchants' Association of New York.
MR. LEWIS E. PIERSON, Treasurer
First Vice-President of The Merchants' Association of New York,
MR. ALFRED E. MARLING,
Ex-President of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York and a Director of The Merchants' Association of New York.
MR. LEE KOHNS,
President of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation,
MR. J. SHERLOCK DAVIS,
President of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce,
MR. H. PUSHAE WILLIAMS,
President of the Chamber of Commerce of the Borough of Queens,
MR. BERTRAM H. BORDEN,
A Director of The Merchants Association of New York,
MR. WALTER DREW,
MR. ROBERT H. FORBES,
MR. FRANK B. MCCORD,
COLONEL F. A. MOLITOR,
MR. H. H. RAYMOND,
MR. HENRY R. TOWNE,
A Director of The Merchants' Association of New York,
MR. WALTER GORDON MERRITT, Counsel,
MR. JOHN R. YOUNG, Secretary,
Manager of the Convention Bureau of The Merchants' Association of New York.

To direct practical operations, an Operating Committee was formed, consisting of:

COLONEL F. A. MOLITOR, Chairman,
MR. FRANK B. MCCORD,
MR. FREDERICK L. CRANFORD,
MR. ROBERT H. FORBES,
MR. JOHN H. LOVE,
Treasurer of The Merchants' Association of New York,
MR. W. C. REID,
MR. JOHN P. STEVENS.

Upon an appeal to the business public for funds and pledges, the response was immediate and liberal. More than a million dollars was subscribed to the Committee's underwriting fund.

Nearly every business organization in Greater New York held special meetings at which the story of this movement, originated by The Association, and of the Citizens Transportation Committee's undertakings and plans was told by the Chairman or other members of the Committee, usually resulting in unanimous endorsement.

Because of the pressure upon his time in responding to the demands of the Committee's work, the Chairman was forced to give up his vacation and forego a trip abroad as a delegate to the Organization Meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce. During the period of the Committee's major activity, the Chairman and several members of the Committee devoted practically their entire time to its labors.

Meetings were held daily by the Committee. On May 27, 1920, the following Declaration of Principles was adopted:

"DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES

"The welfare of the Community being dependent on impartial and uninterrupted transportation service, all classes of people and merchandise should be served by transportation and trucking facilities without discrimination, and there should be no interruption to such service through industrial warfare except as a last resort, when all efforts of adjustment have failed, and there is no impartial tribunal available to the parties presenting a grievance.

"Employees on piers, docks, railroads, steamships, lighters, tugs and trucks should perform their usual service regardless of whether the connecting points which they serve, or the facilities or vehicles through which the merchandise is received or delivered, are manned by union or non-union men.

"Impartial service should be extended to all merchandise, regardless of whether it has been worked upon or handled by union or non-union men."

FIELD ORGANIZATION

WITHIN a period of three weeks, Colonel F. A. Molitor, himself a soldier, brought together a complete operating force, composed of veterans of the World War, and organized on military lines. Colonel Molitor volunteered his services. The General Manager, Colonel Charles D. Hine, an official of the Erie Railroad, was loaned to the Committee by Mr. Fred D. Underwood, President of the road. A maximum of 391 men was employed in actual operations. Hundreds of others were held in reserve. No employee was armed, nor was any man permitted to carry weapons. No professional "strikebreakers" were utilized at any time.

BREAKING THE BLOCKADE

ON June 10 the Committee began practical work with the operation of five trucks. Daily, except Sunday, thereafter, the number of trucks at work was increased until the total was sixty-seven, and the maximum daily tonnage moved was over 600.

No equipment was purchased. Trucks were rented on a weekly basis, and were retained only as long as needed.

For business purposes, the Committee formed a corporation known as the Citizens Trucking Company, Inc., of which the officers are:

Mr. Lewis E. Pierson, Treasurer;
Mr. John R. Young, Secretary.

The Directors are:

Mr. William Fellowes Morgan,
Colonel F. A. Molitor,
Mr. John R. Young.

This company was incorporated in Albany on June 18, 1920, with a capital stock of $100,000, paid in and held by the Treasurer.

Before its work began threats were made of a general strike of teamsters and truckmen immediately the Committee's trucks appeared in the streets ready for operation. No such strike ensued. Later, covert rumors of a strike in all branches of organized labor, to become effective June 28, proved to be unfounded.

Within a few days the mountains of freight on the coastwise piers began to disappear in consequence of the Committee's work. On June 21 announcement was made that the blockade was broken. After that date the movement of freight to and from the piers was made with little molestation by pickets, and the Committee's trucking operations were supplemented by a daily increasing number of independent truckmen. It was not, however, until the longshoremen's strike was concluded, on August 17, 1920, that the large trucking companies began to handle freight to or from the coastwise piers.

Throughout the period of trucking activity by the Committee, effective official cooperation was extended by the Police Department. A police officer was stationed on each truck, and adequate police details were on duty at the piers, on warehouses, and at garages.

REMOVAL OF MINOR OBSTRUCTIONS TO TRAFFIC

OPERATIONS were hampered by a series of difficulties, which were removed one by one. At the outset the Committee was compelled not only to furnish and man trucks, but it had also to sort freight and supply pier superintendents, foremen and a large force of clerks and laborers to perform the work ordinarily done by the steamship companies. It was not until July 6 that the latter were able to bring their forces into a semblance of organization and efficiency.

The minor strikes of lighter captains, ocean pier men, and other shipping employees, further complicated the initial situation. Another hitch occurred when warehouse employees were persuaded to strike. The latter problem was solved almost instantly by assigning employees of the Committee to handle freight in and out of warehouses and by recruiting a special force of men to replace those who had quit their jobs.

Every hindrance was overcome without delay. The business men of New York not only were generous in their support of this expensive undertaking, but they also were, with laudably few exceptions, consistently ready in cooperation and patience. The frequent delays and errors incident to emergency operation, conducted under most trying circumstances, evoked a negligible total of complaints. Selfishness and lack of sympathy with this effort in behalf of the community were displayed only by a few shippers of small consignments which were in transit through this Port, and which the Committee handled in due course, but quite properly did not move ahead of local in and out shipments.

ACCOUNTING AND AUDITS

DESPITE the rapidity with which its operations were conducted, the Committee devised complete machinery for the keeping and accounting of its transactions and those of the Citizens Trucking Company, in accordance with accepted business methods. A certified public accountant was placed in charge of its financial transactions and records. All receipts and disbursements were subjected to thorough audits.

LEGAL DECISIONS

UPON the application of Mr. Walter Gordon Merritt, Counsel for the Committee, Justice Lewis L. Fawcett, of the New York Supreme Court, in Brooklyn, on June 9, 1920, granted to the Burgess Brothers Company, lumber dealers, an injunction forbidding steamship companies to refuse to accept products not approved by union labor. Justice Fawcett declared that any combination to discriminate against open-shop products is against the public welfare and is a crime.

Formal notice immediately was given by the Committee to the steamship companies that prosecution would follow any failure to observe the law.

On July 20, 1920, Mr. Merritt obtained for the Committee an injunction order from the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, forbidding discrimination by the Old Dominion Transportation Company against freight hauled to its piers by open-shop trucks. Later this injunction was erroneously set aside by this court, but was finally reinstated and confirmed by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, thereby firmly establishing the law on this subject.

PROTEST AGAINST NATIONAL ADJUSTMENT BOARDS

ON September 2 the Committee, after discussing the probable effect of the proposal pending before the United States Railway Labor Board to establish National Adjustment Boards, adopted a resolution protesting the plan, which resolution was immediately sent to Judge R. M. Barton, Chairman of the United States Railway Labor Board.

A letter setting out the consequences of and objections to the proposed plan was sent by the Committee to commercial organizations throughout the country asking them to join in protest against it.

POLICY FOR FUTURE

SHORTLY after the Committee began successfully to operate its trucking service it defined its future activity in the following recommendations:

"In order to keep open the channels of commerce and to have available at all times transportation and trucking facilities to render adequate and impartial service, we recommend:

Digitized by Google

"First—That the Citizens Trucking Company continue its present trucking service for such period as may seem necessary and desirable to secure this end.

"Second—That the Committee encourage and promote the establishment of other independent trucking agencies committed to the impartial service of the public.

"Third—That the Committee believes it desirable to secure a clear definition from the court of last resort as to the obligations of common carriers and their employees to serve the public without discrimination."

COMMITTEE TO BE PERMANENT

UPON the settlement of the coastwise longshoremen's strike, and the consequent disappearance of opposition to untrammeled movement of freight, the Committee discontinued its trucking service and wound up the business affairs of the Citizens Trucking Company as rapidly and economically as possible. When all obligations had been settled a small balance remained in the Treasury. Subscribers to the underwriting were notified that no further payments would be called on account of their subscriptions, and their contracts of underwriting were returned to them.

Announcement was then made that the Citizens Transportation Committee would remain in existence and that in case of another public emergency it would be ready to meet the situation.

AID OF THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION TO COMMITTEE

THE Merchants' Association of New York not only initiated and fostered the Citizens Transportation Committee but also gave to it liberally of its men, machinery and resources, having financed the Committee in its formative stage and assumed liability in a large sum for its activities. The Merchants' Association turned over its offices, its staff and its employees to the Committee, thus saving the latter a very considerable amount in salaries and rent. All departments of The Association were requisitioned in the Committee's service, including the Publicity Bureau, which kept the newspapers fully posted as to the facts.

INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

THE second most notable achievement resulting from The Association's activities was the preparation and distribution of the "Second Report on Industrial Relations." This report was prepared by a Subcommittee of The Association's Industrial Committee, utilizing the research and investigative facilities of the Industrial Bureau.

The report is noteworthy because of its clear analysis of the present industrial situation, which, it points out, gives employers a remarkable opportunity to reduce industrial warfare and promote good feeling by voluntarily taking a generous and constructive stand in dealing with their employees.

"Present industrial conditions," the report states, "make this time particularly opportune for employers to take a forward step in the matter of industrial relations. If they will, they can now achieve real progress without having their motives questioned on the grounds of expediency. Your Committee believes that it is time to abandon the methods of opposition and strife and to set up the machinery of friendly intercourse and cooperation between employers and employees."

The report also urges employers to exercise great care in the use of terms having to do with labor relationships. The misuse of the term "open shop," for instance, is to be deplored because of its tendency in some quarters to arouse suspicion and distrust, especially as to the status of labor unions, thereby delaying the establishment of peaceful industrial relations.

A solution of the unemployment problem and proper machinery for the settlement of industrial controversies are considered in the report as extremely important to the establishment and maintenance of peaceful industrial relations, and the report contains recommendations urging further inquiry into these matters. Accordingly the Board of Directors has authorized the Committee to pursue its study of these questions. This is now being done.

The report has been received with enthusiasm by representatives of practically every class interested in the subject of industrial relations. It has been looked upon as particularly timely in presenting a program for peaceful and constructive relations between employers and employees, as opposed to the militant platforms urged by both radical labor leaders and radical employers.

Upwards of 20,000 copies of the report have been distributed voluntarily or on request and wide publicity has been accorded it. Newspaper and personal comment has been almost unanimously favorable, one important journal characterizing the report as "a distinguished standard for employers the country over," and stating that it constitutes "a new page in industrial history."

Because of the prominence which this report has given The Association in the field of industrial relations and because also of the further important work now projected, the Board of Directors created the Committee making the report into a regular standing Committee of The Association to be known as the "Committee on Industrial Relations." The membership has been enlarged and includes some of the most prominent authorities on the subject of industrial relations in the United States.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

THE Association continued with redoubled vigor its fight for the retention of daylight saving. In 1919 its effort in opposition to the rider in the Agricultural Appropriation Bill, providing for the repeal of the Federal Law, met defeat, the bill having been passed over the President's veto. Early in 1920, it opposed the repeal of the State Daylight Saving Law, the bill for which was passed, only to be vetoed by the Governor.

Through a Special Committee on Daylight Saving, appointed in December, 1920, it attempted to obtain passage by Congress of a bill providing for daylight saving in Time Zone Number 1. Early in 1921, The Association augmented this effort by bringing about the organization of The Eastern Zone Daylight Saving Association, in whose hands the campaign is progressing.

Upon the advent of the new State administration in January, 1921, it was apparent that a determined effort would be made to repeal the New York State Daylight Saving Law. Immediately The Association launched a counter-effort to preserve for the citizens of this State the benefits of this measure. To overcome complaints from many quarters, a period of five months of operation, instead of seven months, was advocated.

Convincing arguments in behalf of daylight saving were transmitted to the Governor and to the members of the Legislature. Floods of telegrams and letters urging retention of the law were sent by members of The Association to these officials, and the commercial, trade and other organizations of New York City and of cities and towns throughout the State likewise impressed their demand upon legislators. At the instance of The Association, a poll of employees in New York City offices, stores, factories and business houses in general was taken, with the result that of 284,642 persons voting, no less than 271,852 recorded their preference for daylight saving. In a pamphlet entitled "Daylight Saving Necessary for the Public Health," published by The Association and given wide circulation, conclusive evidence was adduced. Members of The Association's staff canvassed the members of the Senate and Assembly. Citizens were encouraged to communicate their wishes, by means of post card messages, to their representatives in the Legislature, with the result that from Buffalo 30,000 of such expressions were mailed to the senators and assemblymen from that City, and 15,000 from Westchester County to its lawmakers.

At hearings on the repeal given in Albany by the Assembly Committee on Agriculture and by the Governor, The Association was represented by Mr. Waldo H. Marshall, one of its Directors, Doctor Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner of the City of New York, Mr. Marcus M. Marks, President of the National Daylight Saving Association, and many others. The delegations included representatives of hundreds of commercial, trade and other organizations and of business houses in New York City and throughout the State.

The evidence thus presented, showing so conclusively that a majority of residents of New York State want and demand daylight saving, impelled the Legislature to provide for local option throughout the State and to abandon the plan of an absolute repeal.

OTHER IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES

DURING the year under review many other subjects of prime importance to the business interests of New York City were carefully studied and actively followed.

The Association acted to protect the competitive position of New York in connection with the intermediate railroad rate case, lighterage costs, increased railroad rates in 1920 and in consummating the New York-New Jersey Port Authority (see report of Traffic Bureau); it assisted in securing better cable facilities, in endeavoring to solve the Cuban economic situation in so far as it relates to New York shippers, it advocated the cessation of the overstringent regulations relating to passports (see report of Foreign Trade Bureau); in addition to the study of industrial relations referred to above, it actively participated in connection with the problems of immigration and naturalization and of housing, it conducted and published results of a number of industrial surveys (see report of Industrial Bureau); it kept the membership informed relative to bills pending in the Legislature affecting business (see report of Legislative Service Bureau); it continued its efforts to secure improvement in the postal facilities, both foreign and domestic (see reports of Research and Foreign Trade Bureaus); it effectively supported the movement for the New York and New Jersey tunnel under the Hudson River, it opposed the creation of national boards for the adjustment of labor disputes in connection with railroads and also opposed national working agreements instead of working agreements between the respective roads and their employees, it opposed the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Canal and the Muscle Shoals project for the establishment by the United States Government of a hydroelectric plant on the Tennessee River, it actively participated in efforts to solve the complicated local City transit problem (see report of Bureau of Research); it has brought thousands of visitors to New York to attend conventions (see report of Convention Bureau); it has continued a vigorous campaign for clean and more healthful streets, has successfully conducted an effort to decrease and eliminate illegal billposting, known as sniping, it has carried on an intensive educational campaign for better physical civic conditions conducted particularly among the school children (see report of Anti-Litter Bureau); its efforts and activities have received a greater degree of publicity than in any previous year of its history (see report of Publicity Bureau); its Members' Council Meetings have continued to create a better acquaintanceship and a greater feeling of confidence based thereon among the New York business men and have constituted a forum through which valuable information upon important topics has been disseminated (see report of Members' Council); its year closed with the greatest membership, both in number and in quality, in The Association's record (see report of Membership Bureau).

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

THE officers of The Association during the year under review were as follows:

President, MR. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN,
First Vice-President, MR. LEWIS E. PIERSON,
Second Vice-President, MR. JAMES GILBERT WHITE,
Third Vice-President, MR. WILLIAM HAMLIN CHILDS,
Treasurer, MR. JOHN H. LOVE,
Secretary, MR. S. C. MEAD.

On December 16, 1920, a vacancy in the Board of Directors was created by the acceptance of the resignation of Mr. James M. Beck, who had moved to and taken up his residence in Washington, D. C.

DIRECTORS AND COMMITTEEMEN

TO THE Board of Directors and to the nearly 400 members of The Association who are serving on its various standing and special Committees is due in large part the success attained in The Association's work. These gentlemen have given liberally of their time and ability, and, at times, have even neglected their personal affairs in their unselfish devotion to the duties and responsibilities imposed upon them for the good of the business community.

The assistance which the Board of Directors must necessarily have in a multiplicity of important matters before it may finally act has been given ably and promptly.

MEMBERS' COUNCIL

AS a medium for disseminating information upon current topics of vital interest and a means of crystallizing the thought and sentiment of the community, the meetings of the Members' Council have been successfully continued. Under the able leadership of the Chairman, Mr. William C. Breed, four luncheons were held during the year. A report which describes their constructive character precedes these pages.

These luncheon meetings, which invariably attract a large attendance broadly representative of the City's industry, trade and commerce, serve as a means of awakening the consciousness of New York business men to the purposes and accomplishments of The Association.

BUREAUS

THE service Bureaus of The Association were in operation throughout the year without change in number or jurisdiction as compared with the previous year. These Bureaus, under the coordinating direction of the Secretary, constitute the instrumentality through which, in the main, The Association performs its administrative and service work.

(A) Traffic Bureau

THROUGH its Traffic Bureau, The Association performs two classes of service. In the first, it deals with fundamental conditions of traffic, particularly as regards their effect upon the trade and commerce of New York City. In thus functioning, it concentrates attention upon legislation bearing upon the transportation of goods, upon acts of the Interstate Commerce Commission and rate-making bodies, and upon matters which threaten the fair and equitable treatment of shippers.

During the year under review, the return of the railroads to private operation and the increase in rates multiplied the problems to be solved. At many hearings, notably those before the Interstate Commerce Commission and in the Intermediate Rate Association, the Traffic Manager represented The Association.

Victory rewarded The Association's years of effort in behalf of a better coordination of the transportation and terminal facilities of the Port of New York, when, in consequence of National and State legislation there was created the "Port of New York District" and the "Port of New York Authority." Because of its presentation of these important subjects and the valuable information it contains, the Traffic Manager's report is well worthy of perusal.

In the other class of service, the Bureau is a direct source of assistance and benefit to members, for it has to do with individual cases. During the year, 1,616 requests for service in connection with daily traffic problems were received. Of these, 1,590 were complied with, leaving only twenty-six uncompleted at the close. From an appendix to the report, showing the diversified nature of these calls, it will be noted that service was performed in 198 subdivisions of 24 main divisions, grouped under three general heads.

(B) Foreign Trade Bureau

BESIDE pointing out the direct and indirect service which the Foreign Trade Bureau performs daily for members, I would call attention to several far-reaching and fundamental activities that have been undertaken. There has been a growing realization of the imperative need to American business of prompt and accurate means of communication with foreign countries, especially for cable and wireless messages. Continued and earnest study has been applied to the problems involved in the rebuilding and extension of electrical communication facilities, and representatives of The Association have had repeated conferences on these subjects with officials and organizations in New York and with Government officials in Washington.

Similarly, The Association has acted through this Bureau upon a large number of suggestions relative to customs procedure and regulations affecting imports, and continuous efforts have been exerted toward improvement. Special attention is also called to the direct and valuable service extended to members through reports, statistical statements, lists of foreign houses in specialized lines of business, and an almost unlimited variety of data on subjects of great importance to importers and exporters, sent on request to houses in New York City. Service of the Bureau also includes daily distribution of information concerning current trade opportunities in foreign markets.

The previous annual report showed a notable increase in this phase of the work. The figures denoting corresponding service this year are noticeably lower. However, these figures indicate a steady growth in this work during the seven years it has been conducted and surpass those for every year except the last. In the period under review 1,443 inquiries relative to the purchase or sale of merchandise in this country received the prompt and careful attention of the Bureau. Included in these requests were 4,621 commodities, and the names of 64,707 American firms were suggested to the inquirers. Frequent assurances come to The Association of the practical value of this work and of the large volume of satisfactory business thus inaugurated. Mutually beneficial cooperation with organizations and individuals abroad has firmly established this activity upon a permanent basis.

(C) Industrial Bureau

REFERENCE has already been made to the studies and reports of the Subcommittee on Industrial Relations of the Industrial Committee, in which the facilities of the Bureau were utilized to advantage. Similarly effective work was done by the Bureau in conjunction with the Special Committee on Housing and the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, the reports of which have proven to be authoritative and far-reaching.

In its primary functions, the Bureau has continued to supply for members valuable industrial information, and has stimulated the sound industrial development of the City. In "The Newtown Creek Industrial District of New York City," a fifty-page pamphlet illustrated with photographs and maps, it published the result of an exhaustive survey of this important section which offers rare opportunities to manufacturers seeking locations. A similar survey of Staten Island is in progress. Also in preparation is a detailed map of industrial New York City.

Direct personal service to members by this Bureau included answers to 534 out of a total of 547 inquiries received. Nine requests were otherwise disposed of, and four were awaiting completion at the close of the year. As a result of the special investigations occasioned by these inquiries, there were published eight reports on subjects of interest to a large portion of The Association's membership.

Other investigations and studies conducted by The Association through the Industrial Bureau resulted in published reports, which were of value to members and the community.

(D) Bureau of Research

RATHER than directly to the members, it is to the Committees of The Association that this Bureau renders its chief service. Through its medium are conducted investigations and research in relation to major activities. Subjects before Committees for consideration are almost invariably studied for the Committees by the Director of Research before conclusions are reached and recommendations are made. I urge, therefore, the careful reading in full of this Bureau's report.

Among the subjects covered in it are taxation, rail transportation, postal reform, the New York and New Jersey Tunnel, Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Canal, port and harbor improvements, City transit and the Muscle Shoals project.

(E) Convention Bureau

IN CONSEQUENCE of the efforts of The Association, through this Bureau, New York City maintained its leadership in the convention field. During the year there were held 587 conventions, attended by 375,000 persons, who spent during their stay in this City at least $20,000,000. Ninety-one of these conventions came to New York as a direct result of The Association's work, and many others which came on return visits were originally induced by the Bureau to convene here.

Business in large amount has been developed by members from advance information obtained by them from this Bureau relative to conventions to be held here.

The records of the Convention Bureau are always open to members, who are invited frequently to avail of the opportunity.

(F) Legislative Service Bureau

MEMBERS utilized the services of the Legislative Service Bureau during the year to the extent of 1,687 specific requests for information, which met with prompt compliance. Of these, 412 related to existing Federal laws, 258 to bills pending in the Congress, 313 to existing State laws, 92 to bills pending in the Legislature, 52 to City ordinances, and 560 to miscellaneous subjects. Frequent and varied inquiries were answered as to regulations, rulings, and decisions under the Federal and State income laws.

Analyses of 79 new State laws and 209 bills introduced in the Legislature were published in "Greater New York." In the process of making available to members information relative to legislation affecting business, the Bureau reviewed 3,166 bills introduced during the regular and special sessions of the Legislature, 1,025 new State laws, 1,500 bills pending in the Congress, 238 new Federal laws, and 31 new City ordinances.

(G) Anti-Litter Bureau

THROUGH this Bureau, The Association conducts an educational campaign in an active effort on behalf of clean streets and sidewalks in the City.

During the year, the Bureau, which operates under the advisory supervision of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, continued with the approval and cooperation of the municipal administration. Many of the 3,808 Block Captains helping to keep the City clean are high school pupils, whose services are coordinated with the study of community civics. Some thousands of others aid by reporting violations of the ordinances and unsightly conditions.

Including all channels, 27,204 complaints were made during the year. Of these, 20,020 were remedied by the Block Captains, 4,893 were handled by the Bureau, and 2,291 were forwarded to the proper authorities. Definite progress was made in campaigns against "sniping" or unlawful billposting, exposed foodstuffs, park litter, rats, broken bottles, and accumulated waste and filth.

In a series of meetings held at The Association's headquarters, the Block Captains were brought together with excellent results. Addresses made by officials of the City's Health, Police and Street Cleaning Departments, descriptive talks illustrated with lantern slides and the discussion of methods and progress stimulated their interest and aroused enthusiasm in their work.

(H) Publicity Bureau

ALL previous records were exceeded in publicity. The Association's activities were brought to public notice through the medium of the press more than thirteen times on an average every day in the year. Its work was discussed in 4,669 articles, which filled 34,040 inches of space—nearly one-half million lines. Of this vast total, which was one-third greater than the best previous showing, 25,389 inches appeared in New York City's daily newspapers and 5,481 inches in out-of-town papers. Editorial space devoted to The Association's doings totalled 3,720 inches, nearly double the amount of this most valuable form of publicity received in any earlier year. In the trade press The Association was given 3,170 inches of space. For its magnificent cooperation, the press is entitled to sincere and hearty thanks from The Association and its members.

Throughout the Citizens Transportation Committee's period of activity, a large corps of newspaper men made The Association's office their headquarters. Not only was every facility provided for them, but they were kept fully informed, without reservation or distortion, as to the Committee's endeavors. All of the facts were supplied to reporters by the Publicity Bureau, with the result that the truth concerning different foremost activities was published, without garbling, from day to day.

"Greater New York," the medium through which The Association keeps members informed as to what it is doing, was published in forty-six issues, aggregating 680 pages, and with a full index.

(I) Membership Bureau

IT is gratifying to report that at the close of the year on April 30, 1920, The Association had 6,764 members, constituting the largest enrollment it ever has enjoyed.

Than this, no better evidence may be adduced as to the value to the community of The Merchants' Association of New York and the material esteem in which it is held by business men of the City. Keeping within the lines of normal membership upbuilding and maintenance, 759 new members were added strictly by non-intensive effort, and the withdrawal of seventy resignations was obtained through the aid of interested members. Three hundred and forty-six names were removed from the roster, principally in consequence of deaths, retirements, removals from the City, mergers or absorptions, liquidations, temporary suspensions, and receiverships or bankruptcies. The net gain in membership was 493, as compared with 558 in the previous year.

Listed in 119 different subdivisions within forty-five of the forty-seven divisions covering the classification of the entire membership, the new accession is broadly representative of the City's commerce and professions. The diversity of the new enrollment was even greater than that of the previous year, when it fell under 120 subdivisions in 43 of the 47 general divisions. Approximately 6,500 distinct and separate business units were represented in the membership of 6,764 at the close of the year under review, in which units firms and corporations predominated. Taking three as a conservative average of firm members or corporation officers, it is therefore evident that 20,000 prominent business men in the City are active and interested factors in The Association and its work.

(J) Library

ADDITIONS to The Association's library during the year, after the withdrawal of 339 obsolete volumes, brought the total number of volumes on the shelves to 18,297, as compared with 18,000 in the previous year. Through cooperation with the Special Libraries Association, it has been made possible to draw upon the classified sources of information in 246 other specialized libraries.

Requests for information received and complied with by the librarian were

Digitized by Google

1,790, as compared with 1,579 in the previous year. These inquiries, which came chiefly from members, business houses and commercial organizations, included calls for trade directories, cable codes, statistics, maps, Government and State publications, and information relative to The Association's activities, publications and reports.

In the card index-digest, there are now 21,939 cards, bearing 42,518 entry references, permitting instant access to the record of every one of The Association's actions through its Board of Directors, Executive and other Committees, Members' Council and Bureaus.

(K) General Office

THE general office of The Association, as in previous years, was conducted under the immediate supervision and direction of the Assistant to the Secretary. That office comprises the Financial, Filing and Stenographic Bureaus, the Mailing Department, the Addressing Department and the telephone switchboard. The staff of that office has been satisfactorily maintained during the past year, with fewer changes in personnel than for several years.

There was a considerable increase during the year in the amount of mail despatched from the offices of The Association. Personal letters totaled 290,380, circular and form letters amounted to 97,016 and packages totaled 13,387. The grand total of these items—400,783—is an increase of 30,319 pieces over the previous year.

Copies of the weekly bulletin "Greater New York" to the amount of 455,400 were mailed, in addition to the above mentioned pieces. The grand total, therefore, of pieces mailed during the year by The Association amounted to 856,183, which is 55,387 greater than the previous year, when the grand total was 800,796.

OFFICE STAFF

BECAUSE of the advisability of exercising economy and of a favorable opportunity to do so, the office staff of The Association was somewhat reduced during the past year. The average number employed in the various departments was eighty-two, distributed as follows:

FINANCIAL STATUS

NOTWITHSTANDING a number of heavy drafts upon its resources because of special activities, in addition to the normal costs of operation, The Association's finances have been sound and healthy and its revenue has been sufficient to defray all expenditures for the year.

REFERENDA FROM THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

DURING the year under report the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America submitted four referenda, upon each of which, as a constituent member of the National Chamber, The Merchants' Association was entitled to cast ten ballots. These referenda, together with the action taken by The Associaion, were as follows:

No. 31. On the Report of the Committee on Industrial Relations Regarding Employment Relations.

Twelve propositions were submitted in this referendum, dealing with employment relations, with particular reference to the open shop, collective bargaining and restriction of production. The Association referred it to its Industrial Committee which, in turn, submitted it to the Subcommittee on Industrial Relations, by whom it received diligent and painstaking study.

In its report the Subcommittee, after emphasizing the importance to the country of the subject, pointed out that although the referendum had been prepared in a spirit of fairness and justice and a desire to formulate a constructive and helpful program for the improvement of industrial relations, it contained deficiencies which necessarily prevented it from achieving the high purpose for which it was intended. These deficiencies, it was explained, lay not so much in the specific objects sought in the various propositions as in the wording and statement of those objects. Believing that the statement of objects was confused generally by vagueness, and in some cases by inaccuracy, and consequently fearing erroneous conclusions, the Subcommittee recommended that The Association record no vote and that it forward to the National Chamber the full statement giving its reasons for abstaining from voting.

No. 32. On the Report of the Special Committee on Public Utilities Concerning Regulation of Employment Relations to Public Service Corporations.

Two propositions were submitted in this referendum, respectively recommending that strikes by employees of public service corporations be prohibited by law and that tribunals be created by law to adjudicate differences between public service corporations and their employees and that such tribunals' decisions be final and mutually binding. On these propositions, the ten ballots of The Association were cast in the affirmative.

No. 33. On the Report of the Committee on Public Utilities Regarding Local Transportation.

This referendum contained eight propositions, dealing with the conservation of existing traction facilities; present and future needs of communities as a basis for the attitude taken toward street railway problems; advisability of private ownership and operation; institution of regulations to follow changes in the situation of local transportation companies; provision against unfair competition; removal from street railways of burdens unrelated to service; fixing official responsibility for the application of regulation, and constant availability to the public of facts concerning operation. On each of the eight proposals, which were given careful study by the Committee on Public Utilities and Law, The Association cast a unanimously favorable vote.

No. 34. On the Report of the Special Committee on Taxation.

The Association, after serious and protracted study on the part of its Committee on Taxation and Public Revenue and consideration by its Board of Directors, cast its ten votes in favor of five of the proposals which dealt respectively with the repeal of the excess profits tax; excise taxes upon articles of wide use but not of first necessity; sales tax in addition to income and excise taxes; taxation of income from new issues of securities; and allocation of profits from sale of capital assets over the period in which earned and taxation at the respective rates for the several years in such period. On the proposal that revenues now derived from the excess profits tax should be obtained mainly from taxes on incomes, The Association's votes were cast in the affirmative but with reservations, namely, the inclusion of taxes on incomes of corporations as well as of individuals, a reduction in the rates of surtaxes in individual income taxes, and disapproval of the increase in the normal rate of individual income taxes. Votes in opposition were recorded upon six proposals, which dealt respectively with the substitution of a sales tax for excess profits, income and excise taxes; undistributed earnings tax on corporations; payment of normal taxes by individual stockholders of corporations; exemption of tax upon income derived abroad and not remitted to the United States by American citizens resident abroad; ascertainment by the Government of tax based on income to precede payment, and decentralization of administration of income taxation. No votes were cast upon the remaining three propositions dealing with preferences as to type of sales taxes if such imposts were favored; consideration as a replacement of exchanges of property of similar nature, and (on the ground that the question as framed was obscure, involved and misleading) "net losses and inventory losses in any taxable year should cause redetermination of taxes on income of the preceding year."

CHARITABLE SUBSCRIPTIONS

IN consequence of arrangements made by The Association with the Charity Organization Society of the City of New York, the services of that Society's Bureau of Advice and Information are placed at the disposal of the members of The Merchants' Association of New York, without charge, for information relative to local charities seeking contributions from business men. Similar arrangements with The National Information Bureau make available, without charge, to members of The Association the services of that Bureau for information relative to organizations seeking subscriptions, other than local organizations.

During the year, the Bureau of Advice and Information of the Charity Organization Society has made 1,006 reports to 421 Association members, while The National Information Bureau has made 392 reports to 195 members of The Association and 33 reports directly to The Association itself, making a total from that Bureau of 425 reports for the year, on 170 different agencies.

To enlighten members upon fake charity drives and collections, 44 articles, prepared by the Bureau of Advice and Information of the Charity Organization Society, were published in "Greater New York."

How much money was saved to business men through this service is not readily calculable, but it is certain that a large sum was thus diverted from unworthy and wasteful channels. Members will do well to avail of this means of determining whether or not charity appeals are deserving of support.

Digitized by Google

COOPERATION WITH OTHER BODIES

DURING the year The Association has continued its active organization membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; has retained its membership in the New York State Waterways Association and in the Conference of General Commercial Organizations of the State of New York; has participated in the Foreign Trade Conference held under the auspices of the Foreign Trade Council, and, in cooperation with Chambers of Commerce in Time Zone Number 1, has brought about the organization of The Eastern Zone Daylight Saving Association, in which it holds membership. Cooperation in specific matters along many lines has been maintained with commercial organizations in different parts of the country, both in connection with matters suggested by other organizations and in connection with activities initiated by The Merchans' Association itself.

Chief of the developments from cooperation with the commercial organizations in New York City during the year was the creation of the Citizens Transportation Committee, which is described in detail previously in this report.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

IN June, 1920, the International Chamber of Commerce was created at an organization meeting held for that purpose in Paris, of which Chamber The Association is a constituent member.

In the report for the previous year attention was called to the International Trade Conference held at Atlantic City, in October, 1919, by representatives of the business and economic interests of Belgium, France, Great Britain, Italy and the United States, and to the conclusion reached at that conference that some form of permanent international organization should be created. For that purpose an Organization Committee was appointed, in the membership of which The Association was represented by its Secretary. During the interim between the Atlantic City meeting and the meeting for organization of the International Chamber, in June, 1920, the International Organization Committee perfected a draft of a plan for the International Chamber of Commerce, which, at the organization meeting in Paris, was unanimously adopted. The Association actively participated in the creation of this National Chamber, being represented at the Organization meeting by its Secretary.

This step in creating an International Chamber extends into the International field the same principles and ideas which underlie the creation and operation of local Chambers of Commerce, and of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It is distinguished from all previous international commercial conferences or congresses in that there is provided in the International Chamber a permanent and continuing headquarters or secretariat, equipped with a permanent staff adapted to render continuing service to the industrial, commercial and economic factors represented in the membership from the various countries.

Digitized by Google

The creation of the International Chamber was consummated by representatives from the five countries mentioned above, and thereafter, during the year under review, a number of additional countries were admitted to participation.

The first annual meeting of the International Chamber is scheduled to be held in London, in June, 1921, and it is anticipated that at that meeting the membership will probably consist of representatives from not less than twelve nations.

CUSTOMS SERVICE AND REVENUE LAW

AT the recommendation of the Committee on Customs Service and Revenue Law, which conducted a series of exhaustive studies and investigations, The Association acted upon a number of important matters.

Among the subjects considered were the "American Selling Price as a Basis of Import Duties," "Anti-dumping" legislation, "Limitation of Depreciation of Foreign Money in Assessing Duties," "Delayed Payment of Drawbacks," the "Dating of Invoices Consulated Abroad," "Removal of Bonded Merchandise within Ten Days," and various other aspects of administration of the Tariff Law.

CABLE AND RADIO COMMUNICATION

THROUGH its Committee on Telegraph and Cable Codes, The Association continued its efforts to secure improvement in cable and radio service. The Association and the National Foreign Trade Council jointly called a conference of representatives of leading commercial and trade organizations in and about New York to formulate recommendations for the guidance of the American delegates to the International Communications Conference. These recommendations were very favorably received.

The Association continued its opposition to the annual charge of $2.50 for registering cable addresses with the local Central Bureau.

MAIL SERVICE

THE efforts of The Association, continued during several years to secure reform of methods, were instrumental in the creation of a Joint Congressional Commission with full investigative powers. A careful study has been made by The Association of local mail service, and of changes necessary to improve methods and to increase facilities.

Improvement in foreign mail service has been sought persistently, with the result that facilities have been restored for the prompt handling of incoming and outgoing overseas mails, and many causes of complaint were removed.

FOREIGN TRADE

IN its activities bearing upon overseas business, The Association has been watchful of the interests of exporters and importers. It advocated Federal incorporation of American companies trading in China; it continued its vigorous opposition to the proposal of the Congress to decrease the appropriations for and thus limit the functions of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce; it supported the Senate in the latter's restoration of the needed Congressional appropriation for the Diplomatic and Consular Service; it urged the Department of State to revert to the old charge of $1.00 for issuing and viséing passports, instead of the $10.00 fee; it supported the continuance of the passport office of the Department of State in New York City.

Digitized by Google

The Association joined in a call to commercial organizations for a conference to secure the adoption of uniform and standardized terms in commercial letters of credit that will unmistakably set forth the purposes, intents and limitations of the parties thereto and protect their mutual interests.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION

DEFINITE results of much value were obtained by The Association in consequence of the extensive investigations and reports of its Committee on Immigration and Naturalization. In the chief report of this Committee, adopted by the Board of Directors in November, 1920, there was presented a program which in the main has been followed out or is in process of realization. This program advocated reforms as well as enlargement and improvement of facilities at Ellis Island; it emphasized the necessity for efficient administration of laws in force rather than new legislation; it urged the appointment of a National Immigration Commission to devote itself especially to the distribution of educational material to prospective immigrants; it recommended changes to simplify the laws and procedure of naturalization, and it advocated the consolidation of New York agencies for Americanization.

A series of conferences on Immigrant Education called by The Association resulted in the organization of The New York City Council on Immigrant Education, the purpose of which is to stimulate and coordinate the efforts of the more than two hundred public and private agencies in this City interested in this work. In the course of The Association's efforts for the betterment of facilities at Ellis Island, an exhaustive investigation of the immigration service at the Port of New York, including the Hoffman Island quarantine station, was conducted.

LOCAL TRANSIT

THE Association supported Governor Miller's program for the regulation of public utilities. It was represented by a strong delegation at the legislative hearing held in Albany on the Transit bill.

A survey of the local transit situation was concluded by the Citizens' Transit Committee, which was formed by The Association in cooperation with other leading commercial organizations of New York City. The great mass of essential material this Committee colated, analyzed and digested, was placed at the disposal of the Governor, and later, of the Public Service Commission appointed by him.

ST. LAWRENCE-GREAT LAKES WATERWAY

VIGOROUS opposition was continued against the pending plan for a deep waterway in the St. Lawrence River to connect the Great Lakes with the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and of sufficient capacity to permit deep-draft, ocean-going vessels direct access to the principal Lake ports. The Association opposed the project on the ground (among others) that the proposed route would be so uneconomical that traffic would not use it to any large degree, and that the great governmental outlay required (variously estimated from $300,000,000 to $600,000,000) would therefore be, in large part, wasted.

The Association's argument was presented at a hearing of the International Joint Commission on the Boundary Waters between the United States and Canada and at a session of the New York State Waterways Association, and its opposition was clearly defined in publicity and in communications to commercial organizations in cities where the project is favored.

NATIONAL BUDGET

IN cooperation with other commercial organizations, The Association memorialized President-elect Harding, commending and urging the adoption of a National Budget System and the selection for his Cabinet of men known to favor this measure.

GOOD ROADS

IN order that The Association's activities with respect to good roads might be facilitated, a Committee on Highway Development was formed in September, 1920. In consequence of studies and reports of this Committee, The Association has strongly condemned the practice of overloading motor trucks and operating them at excessive speed, and has conducted an extensive campaign in behalf of more rigid enforcement of existing laws on this subject, as well as for a more sound and effective execution of the Motor Vehicle Law.

POLLUTION AND SEWERAGE

CONTINUING, as usual, its effort to eliminate flies, The Association has distributed cards and printed material throughout the City, State and Nation.

Through its Committee on Pollution and Sewerage, The Association has maintained its opposition to the plan for the discharge of sewage from the Passaic Valley Sewer into New York Harbor.

CONCLUSION

IF space permitted, I should include mention of many other of The Association's activities, but the limitations of an annual report do not permit the inclusion of further details.

I desire, however, again to urge the members to read the reports of the Bureaus, the value of which, measured by the services which they perform, markedly increased during the year under review, as has their use by members.

Digitized by Google

With the multiplying problems created in the process of adjusting business to post-war conditions, the opportunities for The Association to perform service have increased proportionately. These problems continue to appear from day to day. It is, therefore, earnestly to be hoped that members will even more fully utilize the facilities of their Association, and that by their cooperation with it they will enhance its service.

As Secretary of The Association, charged with the responsibility for its office staff, it affords me much pleasure again to commend the loyalty and efficiency of the staff members.

Respectfully submitted,

S. C. MEAD,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE TRAFFIC BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

HEREWITH is submitted a review of the activities of The Association through the Traffic Bureau for the year ended April 30, 1921.

Transportation Committee.

THE work of The Association, through the Traffic Bureau, was conducted under the general supervision of the Transportation Committee, composed of:

MR. CHARLES S. KEENE, Chairman;
*MR. WILLIAM B. DUDLEY,
MR. JOHN F. FOWLER,
MR. C. F. GREGORY,
MR. JOHN G. LUKE,
MR. WALDO H. MARSHALL,
MR. DANIEL P. MORSE,
MR. E. C. POTTER, JR.,
MR. RALPH S. STUBBS,
MR. ARTHUR P. WILLIAMS.

* Died January 12, 1921.

The Committee reviews and gives special consideration to matters of public interest, namely: (a) transportation matters which are of general interest to members as affecting the trade and welfare of New York; (b) proposed legislation involving State, interstate and foreign transportation; (c) remedial legislation which may be found necessary in the protection of the public in transportation matters. Upon these subjects it renders its recommendations to the Directors.

Functions of the Traffic Bureau.

THE Traffic Bureau is the instrument through which The Association conducts its activities in transportation matters and carries out the recommendations of the Transportation Committee after approval by the Directors.

Upon the Traffic Bureau devolves the duty of conducting on behalf of The Association, where the public interest is involved, negotiations with carriers pertaining to rate adjustments, rules and regulations; appearances before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the State Public Service Commission; and before legislative committees on proposed legislation involving transportation matters.

The Traffic Bureau is likewise the medium through which The Association handles routine matters of general interest to the shipping public. It covers the entire transportation field, involving rate adjustments, classification of freight, rules and regulations pertaining to the receipt, transportation, delivery and storage of freight, car service, and rates and service rendered to passengers.

Digitized by Google

Traffic Bureau Manager.

THE Traffic Manager has to devote the greater part of his time to the handling of transportation questions of general interest to all shippers; questions involving railroad policy as affecting New York which come before the carrier organizations; hearings before legislative bodies and the handling of proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission. As proceedings before the Commission are conducted along judicial lines, it is necessary for the Traffic Manager to supervise the preparation of petitions and arrange for appearance in pending cases before the Commission; also to arrange for presentation of testimony, arguments, briefs and other details in connection with the conduct of such cases, as well as to conduct the oral arguments before the Commission.

Membership Assistance.

WHILE the primary object of The Association in dealing with transportation matters is to promote the trade and welfare of New York, in pursuance of which policy it has to deal with transportation questions of general interest to all shippers, and questions involving public policy, The Association is not unmindful of the interests of the individual member.

Many questions arise with our members which involve the interpretation of the Act to Regulate Commerce; administrative rulings and orders issued by the Commission involving transportation; interpretation of the Shipping Act; technical cases involving the interpretation of bill of lading conditions, rates, rules and regulations of carriers, and the adjustment of claims. With a complete development of the facts we have not found it difficult to harmonize these differences and have enabled members to avoid the necessity of bringing complaints or filing suits.

The Traffic Bureau, in addition to encouraging the use of the Bureau by members on matters pertaining to transportation, is striving to furnish advice and assistance to the individual members of The Association on methods to be employed for the supervision of their transportation requirements. That the service is of value and has proven beneficial to our members is evidenced by the volume of the calls upon the Bureau by individual members for advice and by the many expressions of appreciation and good will received from those assisted.

The following table represents a summary of the number of matters handled by the Traffic Bureau:

To illustrate the diversified nature of matters on which members apply for advice or assistance, an appendix is attached to this report.

Return of the Railroads to Private Operation.

UNDER the provisions of the Transportation Act, 1920, the railroads were released from Federal control and operation with February 29, 1920, thereby returning the roads to their owners for private operation. The Act also provided for a guarantee by the United States to carriers after termination of Federal control for the period of six months to September 1, 1920, subject to terms and conditions provided for in the Act.

Provision was also made that the rates, fares, etc., as established by the Railroad Administration effective on February 29, 1920, should continue in effect unless changed by authority of law, and that no reductions should be made prior to September 1, 1920, unless approved by the Commission. The six months' guarantee period was evidently intended to permit the Commission to provide for rates and charges that would enable the carriers to earn an adequate return on a fair value of the property devoted to the public use.

Increased Rates, 1920.

THE statutory rule of rate making, providing that rates should be so adjusted as to yield (adequate return) 5½ per cent or 6 per cent on a fair valuation of the carriers' property devoted to the public use, as recommended by the Transportation Committee and approved by the Board of Directors, was incorporated in the Transportation Act of 1920, and the Interstate Commerce Commission was given the power to prescribe just and reasonable rates.

Acting under this new provision of the law, the carriers filed applications with the Commission for authority to increase their freight revenues to a basis that would enable them to earn an annual net income equal to six per cent on the value of the property used for transportation. Hearings were held in Washington in May, June and July, 1920, at which The Merchants' Association was represented by the Traffic Manager.

From the evidence submitted the Commission found that, with certain exceptions set forth in the opinion, general percentage increases should be made to fit the needs of the groups of lines serving each of the four groups into which the country had been divided.

The Commission stated it would be desirable, if possible, to determine definitely the commodities, the sections of the country, and even the individual rates that could best bear the burden of increases, and the relationship of the rates and differentials which would be disturbed by percentage increases; but the necessity for prompt action upon the main issue precluded going into each individual rate adjustment.

It was conceded by both the Commission and the carriers that readjustments of certain rates would be required and it is expected that the shippers will take such matters up in the first instance with the carriers to the end that necessary readjustments may be made in as many instances as practicable without appeal to the Commission. This course is now being followed with the result that many readjustments are being made to correct mal-adjustments of rates growing out of the general order and to secure a proper relation of rates as between different communities.

New York and New Jersey Port and Terminal Development.

THE Merchants' Association of New York has long advocated a better coordination of the transportation and terminal facilities of the Port of New York, both railroad and steamship, and to the accomplishment of that end has urged cooperation between the States of New York and New Jersey and the enactment of appropriate legislation providing for a contract or agreement between the two States, by which, through a joint or common agency, coordination may be secured in the future planning and development of the Port of New York.

Bills authorizing the appointment of commissioners for the State of New York to enter into an agreement with the State of New Jersey for the creation of the "Port of New York District" and the establishment of the "Port of New York Authority," defining its powers and duties, were before the New York Legislature (1921) for enactment. Similar bills were introduced in the Legislature of New Jersey.

On March 7, 1921, a joint hearing on these bills was held before the Senate Finance Committee and the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, at which The Merchants' Association of New York was represented by the Traffic Manager, who presented evidence of existing conditions and the need for coordination of terminal facilities, with argument in support of the pending bills. The bills passed the Assembly on March 16, 1921, and the Senate on March 17, 1921. Before approving the bills, the Governor, on April 1, 1921, held a public hearing at which the Traffic Manager appeared, presenting arguments in support of the signing of the bill by the Governor.

After four years of effort to enact appropriate legislation the two States finally agreed to enter upon a compact for the creation of the "Port of New York District" and the establishment of the "Port of New York Authority." The compact was signed April 30, 1921.

The "Port of New York Authority," composed of three commissioners from each State, has been inducted into office and is preparing a comprehensive plan to be submitted to the Legislatures of the two States for adoption. Thus the foundation has been laid for a comprehensive development of the Port of New York as a whole.

Intermediate Rate Case (61 I. C. C. 226)

THIS case involved the class and commodity rates to Pacific Coast cities and so-called intermountain territory from all the country east of the Rocky Mountains. It differs from the previous cases in which rates from and to these territories were considered, in that now the rates to the intermountain territory are not higher than to the coast.

The Intermediate Rate Association, the complainant in this case, is a voluntary association of shippers' organizations and State commissioners in the intermountain territory. Its principal complaint in this particular case is that in the adjustment of rates from eastern points of origin the Pacific coast is given unreasonable preference and intermountain territory is subjected to undue prejudice and disadvantage because the commodity rates are not graded so as to afford intermountain territory the full benefit of its location nearer the east. The complaint also sought the establishment of properly related joint through class rates from all the territory east of Chicago to all points in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico, and all other points in intermountain territory which now pay combination rates.

A hearing was had on the complaint at Salt Lake City in November, 1919, at which hearing various plans for the reconstruction of the rate structure in this cago, Spokane and San Francisco, the Traffic Manager appearing for The Merhearing a committee of railroad traffic officials was appointed to propose a readjustment which they would be willing to make in case the Commission should find undue prejudice against the intermountain territory.

As the proposal of the carriers contemplated a complete readjustment of the class and commodity rates and a disruption of important commodity relationships as between New York and eastern points of origin and the cancellation of many commodity rates which were beyond the scope of the proceedings, the Traffic Bureau, when it became aware of the changes proposed, petitioned the Commission for leave to intervene on behalf of The Merchants' Association and to be heard before any action was taken on the proposal of the carriers. Numerous eastern commercial organizations and shippers also petitioned for leave to intervene.

The case was accordingly assigned for further hearings at New York, Chicago, Spokane and San Francisco, the Traffic Manager appearang for The Merchants' Association of New York and various eastern organizations by whom he was requested to represent their interests. The Traffic Manager presented testimony and numerous exhibits in opposition to the radical increases proposed in the rates from New York and eastern cities. He likewise urged the establishment of rate relationships from New York and eastern points to the intermountain territory that exist between New York and other territories, by a proper grading of the rates or the establishment of rate relationships. The Traffic Manager also participated in the oral argument before the examiner and the Commission in support of the contention for joint through rates from New York and eastern territory to the intermountain territory that should be less than the Mississippi River combination. Such readjustment The Association has for years sought to obtain.

In rendering its decision, the Commission practically discarded the revision of the rates proposed by the carriers and dealt with the existing structure as against which the complaint was directed. The Commission held:

> "Complainant's allegations with respect to the propriety of the present commodity rates have not been sustained. Conditions warrant the carriers, in their discretion, in continuing the present blanket adjustment on many and perhaps most of the commodities that move in considerable volume."

As bearing upon adjustment to a large part of the intermountain territory to which the rates from New York and eastern points of origin are made upon combination of locals, the Commission said:

> "When distances are relatively great, and when transfer at rate-breaking points is not attended by unusual costs, the combination basis, using local rates, ordinarily is abnormal and unscientific and often discriminatory. The railroads should be regarded more and more as one national system, and the time may not be far distant when we should proceed to the establishmnt of joint through class and commodity rates, lower than the combinations of locals, between practically all points in the country. We have generally recognized that through rates should be less than the combinations, but prompted chiefly by considerations of paramount public interest, growing out of the revenue conditions of certain carriers, we have refrained from and even declined absolute condemnation of combinations.. . . . We are not, however, prepared, in view of all the circumstances, to now require the joint through rates here prayed for.
> "Since the record in this case was made up many and far-reaching changes in economic and transportation conditions have occurred. Conditions are unsettled. The future of transportation by rail and by water is uncertain. The suggested comprehensive plans for readjusting all of the rates over this large territory and the evidence submitted for and against each plan tread far outside the limits of the complaint. We deemed it advisable to hear what the parties desired to submit regarding a possible readjustment that would do justice to all. . . . The record and the discussion should be helpful in paving the way for a final settlement of this vexed situation."

Commissioner Eastman, concurring in the opinion, made the following significant statement, of particular interest to the Port of New York:

> "This disposition of the case, however, leaves unanswered various questions which must eventually be faced. If water competition justifies rates from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast no higher than to intermountain territory, why should the rates from inland points like Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Chicago be lower to the Pacific coast than the water-compelled rates from the Atlantic ports? In other words, why should the rates be graded at the eastern end and blanketed at the western? And what conditions exist at these eastern inland points which compel a parity of rates as between intermountain and Pacific coast destinations which are hundreds of miles apart?"

Analysis of the report and the opinion of the Commission leads to the conclusion that with the restoration of more normal conditions the grading of the rates to intermountain territory will be accomplished and the preferential rates accorded to inland points in meeting water-compelled rates from the Atlantic ports to the Pacific coast will be eliminated.

Proposed Increase of Lighterage Charge.

THE Trunk Line railroads presented a proposal to increase the lighterage charge where the present road haul rates of such carriers do not include lighterage or floatage service.

At the public hearing on this proposal the Traffic Manager appeared in opposition to the proposed increase, taking the position that, in view of the limited facilities afforded by the carriers at New York harbor for the receipt and delivery of freight, it made necessary the employment of lighterage service to reach the various industries as a substitute service for that of switching to public and private delivery tracks as employed in other communities; that in the absence of provision by the carriers for adequate facilities for the receipt and delivery of freight it was against public policy and restrictive of carriers' obligations to place any additional burdens on the traffic moving to and from New York harbor points, upon which the carriers perform a line haul service.

Digitized by Google

This subject is still pending.

Proposal of Erie R. R. to Discontinue Lighterage of Lumber.

A PUBLIC hearing was held by the Trunk Line Committee on the proposal of the Erie Railroad to restrict the movement of lumber for lighterage delivery in New York harbor and confine the movement on the commodity for points in New York and Brooklyn, where delivery can be made from cars on private sidings or team tracks and which would not involve break-bulk service.

There was a very large attendance at the hearing, including representatives from the lumber trade. The Traffic Manager, appearing for The Merchants' Association, made a vigorous protest against the proposal of the Erie Railroad for the reasons (a) that it would have the effect of restricting delivery of lumber shipped by that line, (b) that the terminal facilities maintained by the Erie Railroad were totally inadequate to render proper service for delivery along with other carload freight of this important commodity, (c) that the lightering of lumber was absolutely essential to the serving of the lumber trade, (d) that the business of New York was built up under the lighterage system which had been in effect for many years, and it really represented the only means by which the railroad could serve the shippers of New York, (e) that the service of performing delivery on the waterfront by means of lighters was a service similar to that rendered at interior points where delivery is made to industries on private tracks, public team tracks and belt line railroads, through the medium of switch engines and cars, (f) that the performance of lighterage service was a part of railroad transportation and it could not be abandoned, and that the service was included in the freight rate.

Subsequent to the hearing, the Traffic Manager was informed by the Erie Railroad that they had decided to withdraw their proposal and would be glad to be as serviceable to the lumber trade in all respects as possible.

Trunk Line Association Public Hearings.

UNDER arrangements made with carriers, the Trunk Line Committee dockets for public hearing important changes in rates, rules and regulations of public interest. Such hearings are attended by the Traffic Manager in the interest of the shippers of New York. As representative of these hearings the following are cited:

(a) Export Freight, L. C. L. Cartage Charge: Proposal to increase the cartage charge on L. C. L. export freight between trunk line piers and steamship piers in New York Harbor. Proposed increase not adopted.

(b) Export Freight, L. C. L. Free Time: Proposal to increase free time from two days to five days. Adopted.

(c) Rates from Eastern Port Cities to Virginia Cities: Proposal to increase the existing rates and readjust port differentials. Proposal not adopted.

Municipal Ferry Rates.

EXPORTERS using the Thirty-ninth Street Ferry in delivery of heavy loads to steamship docks in Brooklyn complained of the regulation and charges assessed. The Traffic Bureau took up the matter with the Department of Plant and Structures, with the result that a new schedule of rates, fully satisfying the complaint, was put in effect.

In establishing the new schedule of rates, the Department of Plant and Structures notified patrons of the Municipal ferries that outstanding vehicle tickets would not be received or honored after August 25, 1921, and that such tickets were not redeemable. The Traffic Bureau urged the Department to exchange the old for the new tickets. Arrangements were made accordingly.

Publicity.

THROUGH the columns of "Greater New York," the Traffic Bureau keeps the membership informed as to transportation matters of general public interest pending before the railroads, changes in rate structures, rules and regulations, and orders and opinions issued by the Commission.

The publication is used to disseminate advice to members on shipping and transportation conditions and special articles on transportation problems.

All members engaged in shipping are therefore urged carefully to examine each issue of "Greater New York" and place such information before their traffic or shipping departments.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. LINCOLN,

Manager, Traffic Bureau.

THE FOREIGN TRADE BUREAU

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN TRADE BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following is the report of the Foreign Trade Bureau for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1921. It summarizes the activities of The Association in its efforts to aid every interested member in establishing, building up or conducting overseas commerce. This work is under the direction of The Association's Foreign Trade Committee, the personnel of which is as follows:

MR. LUCIUS R. EASTMAN, Chairman;
MR. MAURICE COSTER,
MR. E. A. DELIMA,
MR. WILLIAM H. DOUGLAS,
MR. C. F. GREGORY,
MR. FREDERICK D. HERBERT,
MR. PHILIP B. KENNEDY,
MR. FREDERICK J. A. MCKITTRICK,
MR. C. A. RICHARDS,
MR. GEORGE H. RICHARDS,
MR. HENRY F. SAMSTAG,
MR. DONALD B. STEWART,
MR. HENRY B. TWOMBLY,
MR. GUSTAV VINTSCHGER.

In addition to the Foreign Trade Committee the Bureau has, throughout the year, cooperated with and furnished data to the following committees of The Association, the Manager of the Bureau usually acting as Secretary to the Committee:

Customs Service and Revenue Law
Marine Insurance
Protection of Industrial Property
Telegraph and Cable Communications.

The problems and work of all these committees therefore enter into and form a conspicuous part of its daily activities. Before discussing those features of the Bureau's work, however, it is well to present the record of routine activities in connection with trade opportunities.

Trade Opportunities.

THE distribution of notices of opportunities to buy or sell goods in foreign trade continues to occupy a large part of the time of the Bureau. The fact that this work is of proven interest and definite benefit to members is indicated by their uniform eagerness to furnish the Bureau with the detailed information regarding their business which is necessary to handle such opportunities intelligently and effectively. The importance of this part of The Association's work is likely to be overlooked because it is more or less of a routine character and continues day after day. More than half of the Bureau's staff, averaging twelve persons, devoted their entire time to the preparation of lists of houses in connections with these requests, coming from a wide variety of sources in the United States and in every foreign country. Each is thoroughly scrutinized, in order fully to understand its needs, to aid inquirers in the best way possible and further to avoid, so far as possible, the likelihood of assisting any but trustworthy firms.

Digitized by Google

No trade inquiry is handled by the Bureau if it is known that a similar request has been transmitted to any other agency, governmental or private, in the United States.

The total number of the requests received and handled fluctuates from week to week. Usually from twenty to fifty are awaiting attention. The growth of this work since the Bureau was established is shown in the figures below, which indicate that the largest total was reached last year, and that this year shows about the normal growth to be expected as compared with the work during the first four years the Bureau was conducted.

Year	No. of Inquiries	No. of Commodities	No. of American houses suggested to Inquirers
1915	1263	4588	32109
1916	1182	4003	31033
1917	1588	4549	41326
1918	1354	4324	36212
1919	1188	3944	42309
1920	2147	8465	108577
1921	1443	4621	64707

Except for the year 1920 (May, 1919, to May, 1920), the number of commodities in the inquiries answered during the year of this report surpasses those of any other year in the Bureau's history. The same is true of the number of American houses suggested to the inquirers. The steady growth of this work to such a substantial volume indicates that it is established on a sound basis and that it doubtless will continue to be a source of profit to the foreign trade of the City, and, in fact, of the entire United States.

A detailed analysis of the year's work in this direction is indicated in the following table:

Month	Inquiries	Commodities	Firms suggested to inquirers	Firms notified of trade opportunities	Firms suggested in connection with opportunities to purchase goods	Firms suggested in connection with opportunities to sell goods	Firms suggested in connection with opportunities for agencies	Firms suggested in connection with unclassified opportunities

In each of the above columns, except the first, duplicates necessarily occur, i. e., if the same commodity is asked for twice it is counted twice.

The foregoing statement shows a slight variation in the monthly figures throughout the year. It appears that the names of almost 65,000 houses, almost exclusively those having offices in this City, were forwarded to inquirers, an average of approximately 215 each business day of the year. This steady stream of names going to all parts of the world day after day, and year after year, is a direct and important aid to New York's overseas commerce. More than 9,000 of the firms were notified that their names had been given in connection with specific inquiries, and we suggested that they get in touch with the inquirer. This procedure is followed whenever the Bureau has sufficient concrete information with regard to the particular needs of the foreign inquirer to warrant a direct offer or immediate correspondence from American houses.

The continuation of the policy, established at the inception of the Bureau's work, to aid importers as well as exporters, is evident from the fact that although the Bureau forwarded 25,000 names in connection with opportunities to sell American goods abroad, it also furnished 18,600 names in connection with the possibility of importing merchandise into the United States. The wisdom of this policy, from the point of view of America's export trade, is now generally accepted.

Lists of Foreign Firms

IN addition to furnishing the names of American firms to foreign inquirers the Bureau is also constantly furnishing the names of foreign firms to members who want to buy or sell—usually sell—merchandise abroad. This service to a single member frequently continues over a number of weeks because of the time involved in compiling and copying records and, if our files do not contain sufficient names, sources in the United States and abroad are utilized to obtain them. Sometimes these requests come from houses that desire to get in touch with firms in foreign cities qualified to act as their distributing agents. In such cases there is sent to each member exactly the class of firms requested. A numerical statement of this work for the last five years follows:

Year	Inquiries	Members desiring to buy	Members desiring to sell	Members desiring agencies	Uncertain
1917	380	67	257	44	12
1918	226	56	151	16	3
1919	295	65	185	39	6
1920	355	62	202	73	18
1921	248	55	159	19	15

It is impossible to present the total number of names of foreign firms suggested to these members. On certain occasions, in which the member desires to circularize many parts of the world, several thousand names have been furnished to a single inquirer. The commodities represented in these inquiries for the names of foreign firms cover a wide range of products which American firms desire to market abroad or to import into this country.

The chief activities of the Bureau having to do with the problems and policies affecting the foreign trade of our members are as follows:

Customs Service.

THE Bureau's last annual report recorded The Association's activities in obtaining a material additional appropriation for the salaries of customs employees. That effort came to a successful culmination early in the present year with marked improvement in the morale and service of customs employees. The Association's chief activities this year in customs matters center around various proposals relative to administrative sections of the Tariff Law. These include the "American selling price," the "Anti-dumping" legislation, limitation of depreciation of foreign money and routine administrative sections of the Tariff Law. In these matters letters and telegrams were exchanged with Senators, Representatives and department heads in Washington. Many formal and informal conferences with our members and Senators and Congressmen were held.

Various minor matters were taken up with local customs officials and officials in the Treasury Department at Washington. Such, for example, was an inquiry with regard to the length of time elapsing before drawbacks are paid; the requirement that the date of invoices consulated abroad should be prior to the date of sailing; the ruling that bonded merchandise must be removed within ten days; the prompt certification of invoices by Consulates acting for the United States in Germany, etc.

Port Congestion and Suspended Payments in Cuba.

THROUGHOUT the year business and financial conditions in Cuba, particularly in Havana, were abnormal. A dock strike, inadequate customs facilities and procedure, the congestion in Havana harbor of vessels unable to unload, an upset market for raw sugar, the general drop in prices and the Moratorium and Toriente Law, all made business with Cuba increasingly perplexing and difficult. Early in the year, on behalf of interested members, The Association obtained reports as to business and financial conditions on the Island from the Cuban Secretary of Labor, Commerce and Navigation, in response to a cabled message protesting against continued inaction in relieving these conditions. During midsummer congestion at Havana was most serious. The Secretary of Commerce of the United States appointed the Manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau a member of a delegation of Government officials and business men to visit Havana and make unofficial recommendations for relieving the situation. He spent approximately three weeks with the Commission in Havana. The suggestions of the Commission, when made effective, immediately relieved conditions.

Merchants in Cienfuegos jointly sent word to sellers of textiles in the United States that they had decided to cancel their contracts, refuse delivery of goods en route, and demand extensions and discounts of their accounts. Upon receipt of this notice The Association immediately cabled a protest to the Chamber of Commerce in Cienfuegos against this organized action, and reported the entire matter to the Department of State, with the result that the contemplated action did not materialize.

During the early Spring it was apparent that firms in Cuba were not meeting their obligations in accordance with the provisions of the Toriente Law or agreements privately entered into, with the result that early in April a circular letter was sent to all members of The Association known to be interested in Cuban trade, asking for detailed information regarding these matters. From the data thus secured, The Association reported to the Department of State the total amount of money due and the exact percentage of payments of accounts which had actually been made since the Toriente Law became effective.

Many members had consignments aboard the S. S. Poznan which returned from Havana without discharging her cargo, her return having been made possible through the approval and cooperation of the State Department. Certain of these members protested against the return of this vessel without unloading, and conferences with such members and their attorneys were held. The Association urged the Department to bring about the immediate and free return of this merchandise to Havana and to give every proper support to the merchants whose goods were not returned, both in connection with legal action and in every other way, and also to instruct the American Ambassador at Havana to issue certain announcements counteracting the alleged results of former statements, all of which suggestions were favorably received and acted upon by the Department of State.

Upon learning that importers of textiles in Cuba were petitioning their Government for a limited embargo against the further importation into Cuba of this class of merchandise until stocks on the Island were reduced, The Association passed resolutions which were forwarded to the Department of State, suggesting that that Department support this request of Cuban importers, if it was deemed wise to do so.

Communications by Cable and Mail.

INTERNATIONAL cable and mail service has been more satisfactory during the present year than was possible during the war or immediately thereafter. Nevertheless, problems arising from the failure to return to normal conditions in connection with cable and mail communications continue to receive attention.

The Association again took up with the Post Office Department the forwarding of mail to the East Coast of South America on slow boats instead of upon vessels which would insure more prompt delivery, a practice against which protest was lodged last year, again quoting specific instances and asking for an immediate remedy. The Association also called the attention of the Post Office Department to the infrequency of mail service to Australia and New Zealand, pointing out the new regulations of Australian customs authorities, which require, unless a heavy penalty is paid, the presentation of import documents promptly upon the arrival of merchandise. Protests were filed against the further discontinuance of the supplementary mail service on both incoming and outgoing first-class foreign mails at the Port of New York, with the result that the service in connection with incoming mail has already been restored and that in connection with outgoing mail is to be restored within a short time.

The Association also renewed its request that the Interstate Commerce Commission, on its own motion, investigate the fairness of the $2.50 annual charge for registering cable addresses with the Central Bureau in New York, but the Commission did not feel inclined to undertake this inquiry. The Association investigated many individual complaints regarding inadequate cable service, such as the failure to return money prepaid for cable replies; the repetition to point of origin, without charge, of mutilated expressions in order to obtain corrections; the request of the Western Union Telegraph Company for The Association's support in obtaining better local service facilities for their company in France, etc.

After several meetings of the Committee on Telegraph and Cable Communications, a call for a conference of representatives of leading commercial and trade organizations in and about New York was issued jointly by the National Foreign Trade Council and The Merchants' Association, in order to formulate recommendations to be submitted to the American delegates to the International Communications Conference. The recommendations adopted at the joint conference were forwarded to the Department of State and to the American delegates. Representatives of The Association conferred in Washington with the delegates and with representatives of the Department of State, explaining the position which The Association believes the American representatives should take in connection with general matters, as well as in connection with specific problems, such as the disposition of the Island of Yap.

Passports.

AS an act of economy, Congress increased the fee charged for issuing passports to American citizens, and raised the fee for viséing the passports of foreigners, from $2.00 to $10.00. The Merchants' Association received many protests against this increased charge on the ground that it retards business and that the increased amount is not justified, since it is far more than the service actually costs. The Association, moreover, believes that it actually reduces the income to the Government, because it tends to hamper the free movement of American business men abroad, with the result that there is a decline in the volume of business conducted. Moreover, various nations which assess their charges for viséing on a reciprocal or retaliatory basis immediately increased the charge for viséing the passports of American citizens to $10.00, thereby adding materially to the burden of American travelers visiting those countries. The Association, therefore, has urged Congress to restore the charge to the former amount, a movement which is in accord with the sentiment of the present and former officials in the Department of State.

The last Congress failed to make an appropriation for the continuation of the local passport office of the Department of State. Having obtained the approval of the present officials in the Department, an effort is being made to bring about the retention of the office in New York. Officials in the Department of State favor the operation of local passport offices, not only at New York, but also in San Francisco, Chicago, New Orleans and Seattle. The convenience to the traveling public from the operation of the New York office, which last year received applications for more than 41,000 passports, fully warranes the retention of the office here. Moreover, the fact that the $1.00 fee collected at the time of filing applications far more than pays the expenses of the New York office further justifies its continuation. This $1.00 fee will, in most cases, be lost to the Federal Government if the office is discontinued. The Association has taken this up with the Appropriations Committee of the House, and also with the New York delegation in the Senate and House and with the leading commercial organizations in the cities named.

Patents.

THE Association urged on various occasions throughout the year the maintenance of an adequate staff, with sufficient salaries, in the various divisions of the Patent Office in Washington, and supported legislation in Congress to make this proposal effective. This position was taken by The Association because of the large volume of applications awaiting attention at that office which the present staff cannot handle with reasonable promptness. Unfortunately, the bill was defeated in Congress because of an amendment which was attached, relating to another phase of patent legislation. A similar bill is now before Congress, and The Association is again giving the measure its best support.

The Association favored and worked successfully for the passage of legislation providing for an extension of time for the registration of foreign applications for patents in the United States and for paying the necessary dues in connection therewith, the filing of which applications was interrupted by the war. It is hoped that as a result of this law similar extensions will be granted to American applicants for foreign patent registration by foreign governments.

Upon learning that the word "New York" had been filed as a trade name for certain lines of merchandise in Havana, The Merchants' Association addressed a letter to the Secretary of State urging that he instruct the proper governmental representatives in Havana to protest against the certification of this registration on the ground that it is misleading and unfair to both Cuban and American business interests.

Marine Insurance.

BECAUSE of the increasing importance of marine insurance to American overseas business, and the many problems relating thereto, The Association organized during the year a committee on marine insurance. This Committee is taking active steps to increase the facilities which are available for buyers of marine insurance and to make conditions surrounding the growth of American marine insurance more encouraging and advantageous.

Miscellaneous Minor Activities.

IT is impossible to list separately all activities, but the following are briefly described to indicate the breadth of the Bureau's work.

At the request of interested members the Bureau has collected standard forms of contracts used in the international movement of staple commodities. These forms are on file in the Bureau, where they may be studied by any interested person.

Assistance was given to those organizing the recently formed association of importers of dried egg products, whose meetings were held in The Association's offices.

Many members feared that the Horticultural Board would put an unnecessary embargo on certain imported fruits and vegetables entering New York from the West Indies and Central America, due to the danger of the citrus black fly, and we have kept in touch with the Board in regard to this matter, the Manager of the Bureau attending a public hearing in Washington. When the plan of operation of the Board was worked out The Association urged the assignment of a sufficient number of inspectors at the Port of New York to examine all incoming consignments promptly and in such a manner as not to interfere with their free movement.

The requirement of Bulgarian authorities that certificates of origin accompany shipments going from the United States to Bulgaria brought numerous requests for such certificates, which, naturally, could not be granted by The Association; hence it took up with Bulgarian authorities the modification of their requirements, with the result that an affidavit of the manufacturer is now accepted.

Various houses doing business abroad have felt that American Consulates should be established at Messina, Italy, and Libau, Latvia. The Association took up the proposals with the Consular Division of the Department of State, which reports that neither project is at present considered feasible.

After sending a general protest to the Shipping Board against the delays experienced by their vessels moving from the Atlantic Seaboard to the Philippines, and receiving from the Board a denial of the reported length of time en route and a request for specific cases, The Association reported two instances in which cargoes in Shipping Board vessels had been extremely delayed, with the result that an improvement in the service was promised.

Numerous conferences were held with representatives of commercial organizations in New York regarding the prevalence of ocean pilfering and methods of combating it. Several of these meetings were with representatives of the marine insurance interests in New York, but no plan has so far been devised for definite and permanent procedure which was acceptable to all of the parties at interest. It has been the feeling of the organizations representing the buyers of insurance that the cost of a campaign against ocean pilfering should be paid almost exclusively by the marine insurance interests. These conferences are being continued.

The Association, following its usual practice, urged Congress to make an adequate appropriation for the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and for the Diplomatic and Consular Service. It also has favored in Congress bills authorizing the federal incorporation of houses doing business in China.

In addition to the foregoing, many minor activities continue day after day, which, although not separately enumerated, are of marked value to members. Such, for example, are numerous statistical reports showing the movement of imports and exports in which members are interested; the furnishing of tariff rates effective in the United States and in foreign countries; names, addresses, procedure and requirements of foreign Consulates in the United States, and of American Consulates abroad; published rates of exchange for various foreign currencies; foreign and domestic parcel post requirements; customs regulations in the United States and abroad, etc. As a result of interruptions in normal business, falling prices, widespread cancellations of contracts, etc., misunderstandings and differences have arisen between buyers and sellers in different parts of the world. The Association has repeatedly acted in such matters in order to bring misunderstandings to a settlement satisfactory to both parties. Activities in this connection are due to the desire to adjust the particular transaction and also to protect the general reputation of American business abroad. In many such intsances these interventions have been successful.

Throughout the year the Bureau has prepared various articles for publication in "Greater New York," and a number of articles descriptive of the activities of The Merchants' Association, or the City or Port of New York, or of trade between the United States and various foreign countries, have been published in papers and periodicals in different parts of the world. Following the usual practice, Year Books and letters regarding The Association's work were sent to Consuls and commercial organizations in every leading city throughout the world. Hundreds of foreign and local visitors called at the Bureau requesting cooperation in their problems.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. MAHONEY,
Manager, Foreign Trade Bureau.

REPORT OF INDUSTRIAL BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following report covers the activities of The Merchants' Association conducted through the Industrial Bureau for the year ended April 30, 1921.

Scope of the Bureau.

THROUGH the Industrial Bureau, The Merchants' Association devotes itself to the task of providing for members valuable industrial information and of stimulating the sound industrial development of New York City. This work requires the collection of up-to-date data of a great variety, and necessitates constant investigation of New York City's industries and manufacturing facilities, as well as questions of industrial relations, housing, and many allied matters.

The Industrial Bureau endeavors to keep conversant with the constantly changing industrial situation in New York City and with all the factors affecting it, in order that the efforts of The Association may be directed to the elimination or prevention of those conditions which are detrimental to industry and to the promotion of those conditions which are favorable to industry.

The work of the Industrial Bureau is carried on in general under the advisory guidance of an Industrial Committee. For the year under record this Committee consisted of the following members:

MR. J. H. GANNON, Chairman (Resigned, January, 1921);
MR. FREDERIC G. ACHELIS,
MR. GERHARD M. DAHL,
MR. JOHN F. GALVIN,
MR. WILLIAM GOLDMAN,
MR. E. K. HALL,
MR. J. W. LIEB,
MR. W. H. MILNOR,
MR. LOUIS B. SCHRAM,
MR. ROBERT E. SIMON,
MR. WALTER C. TEAGLE,
MR. C. G. M. THOMAS,
MR. W. F. WELLS,
MR. OWEN D. YOUNG.

The Work of the Bureau during the year has, in general, followed the program of operation in effect during the previous year, providing, namely, for industrial surveys, industry by industry, and district by district, industrial information service to members, and assistance to prospective manufacturers applying to The Association for information and aid. Considerable work has also been done for the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, the Special Committee on Housing and the Committee on Industrial Relations; and the Bureau has devoted itself from time to time to various miscellaneous activities.

Industrial Development.

IN connection with its work of industrial development The Association is now publishing the report prepared by the Bureau, entitled "The Newtown Creek Industrial District of New York City." This report is the result of an exhaustive survey of the sections of Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs surrounding Newtown Creek. It is a fifty-page pamphlet, describing, through the medium of maps, photographs and explanatory material, the industrial facilities and advantages of this section of Greater New York. The section is especially well fitted for manufacturers who use large quantities of heavy raw materials, manufacture heavy products, and require considerable ground area and some isolation.

The Bureau is now engaged in making an industrial survey of Staten Island similar to the Newtown Creek study. It is expected that the results of this survey will be ready for publication late in the summer.

Supplementing the report on the iron and steel industry published by The Association in 1914, the Industrial Bureau during the current year has made an inquiry among local consumers of iron and steel for their opinions regarding the desirability of establishing the iron and steel industry in New York City. Sixty-nine consumers replied to this inquiry, sixty of whom reported favorably concerning the location of an iron and steel plant on New York Harbor. They were very generally of the opinion that a New York location would likewise be advantageous to the iron and steel manufacturer. A summary of the opinions of those replying to this inquiry was published in "Greater New York," and copies sent to leading iron and steel manufacturers throughout the country.

In accordance with the policy of The Association, the Industrial Bureau did not undertake any campaign to attract particular manufacturers to the City, but devoted its facilities in this connection to advising prospective manufacturers who applied for information regarding the general industrial conditions in New York as a whole, and in the various sections of the City, and referring them to real estate operators in the membership who were equipped to handle inquiries concerning the sections in which the applicants were interested.

A plan has been outlined for making an industrial map of New York City, showing the general location of manufacturing districts, both developed and undeveloped, and the concentration of the leading industries in the City, with important statistics concerning New York City's industries. Considerable information has already been collected for use in such a map.

Industrial Information.

THE facilities of the Industrial Bureau were engaged to a large extent during the year in research and investigations connected with the preparation of industrial data and information for use in answering inquiries from members of The Association. All material so collected was filed with appropriate references, and is available for repeated use.

During the year inquiries were received and disposed of as follows:

	Received	Answered	Otherwise Disposed of
Pending May 1, 1920...	8	—	—
May	60	63	3
June	59	57	—
July	40	41	—
August	36	36	—
September	28	25	3
October	65	62	—
November	59	60	2
December	37	34	—
January	43	46	—
February	28	25	—
March	52	50	1
April	32	35	—
Total.....	547	534	9	(plus 4 pending April 30, 1921

The answering of many of these inquiries has required special investigation by the Bureau, in some cases covering several weeks' time, and has resulted in the publication of reports of interest to a considerable portion of the membership. Such reports have been made, for instance, on the following subjects:

Apprenticeship systems in vogue in the United States.
The turnover of factory labor in New York City.
Paid vacations to factory workers.
Wages paid to paying tellers, bookkeepers, clerks, stenographer-secretaries, stenographers, typists, file clerks, vaultmen and janitors in New York City banks.
Wages paid to female office workers in New York City.
Office hours in New York City.
Business conditions in the electrical appliance industry.
Cash discounts allowed by manufacturers, based on a study of practices in twenty-one industries.

A few of the topics of other inquiries answered during the year are listed below to illustrate the variety and character of requests coming to the Bureau:

Cost of living in New York City; wages of polishers, platers, tool and die makers in New York City; manufacturers in New York City; manufacturers in New York City employing 100 or more persons; Americanization agencies in New York City; cooperative building and loan associations in New York City; concerns which have had no strikes for ten years; number of rubber tire manufacturers in the United States; engineers capable of designing and constructing an oil refining plant in France; wage reductions in New York City factories; annual production of adding machines and typewriters in the United States; actuaries capable of installing industrial pension plans; current retail prices of certain commodities in New York City; speakers on workmen's compensation; percentages of urban and rural population in New York State; adequacy of facilities for fur storage in New York City; number of students attracted to New York City's educational institutions from outside the City; cities in the United States having the commission form of government; statistics concerning immigration and emigration; construction and management of cooperative apartment houses; size and population of the New York market; cooperative buying by merchants; accidents resulting from the manufacture and use of acetylene; prices of granulated sugar between March 15 and April 22, 1920; vacuum cleaning concerns which clean factories; concerns which grant length-of-service bonuses to employees; name and address of manufacturer of the Commonwealth automobile, etc.

Industrial Relations.

MUCH time during the early part of the fiscal year was devoted to the distribution of the Report on Industrial Pensions prepared during the previous year by the Industrial Bureau and the Special Committee on Industrial Pensions. Many inquiries from manufacturers followed the distribution of this report, and information reaching the Bureau indicates that the report has been very generally used in the formulation of industrial pension plans or in the determination of policies concerning the adoption of such plans. The report is based on an analysis of approximately seventy-five per cent of the industrial pension plans in effect in the United States at the time it was published.

Further work by the Industrial Bureau in the field of industrial relations has been done, for the most part, in connection with the activities of the Sub-committee on Industrial Relations of the Industrial Committee. The members of this Sub-committee were as follows:

MR. GERHARD M. DAHL, Chairman; MR. LOUIS B. SCHRAM,
MR. E. K. HALL, MR. WALTER C. TEAGLE,
MR. OWEN D. YOUNG.

In July, Referendum No. 31 of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was referred by the Board of Directors to the Industrial Committee, which in turn submitted it to the Sub-committee on Industrial Relations. This Referendum consisted of a series of propositions constituting as a whole a general platform of employment relations. As the result of an analysis of these various propositions the Sub-committee drew up a report pointing out that although the Referendum contained much that was commendable, its wording and statement were vague and easily capable of misinterpretation. The Sub-committee therefore recommended that The Merchants' Association take no action concerning the Referendum. The Committee's report and recommendation were approved by the Industrial Committee and adopted by the Board of Directors.

In December, the Board of Directors requested the Sub-committee on Industrial Relations to pursue its study and investigation of the whole problem of industrial relations with the purpose of preparing a report on the general subject to be presented to the Board as early as possible.

Pursuant to this request, the Sub-committee, utilizing for this purpose the facilities of the Industrial Bureau, undertook the preparation of such a report. This report was completed in March, presented to the Board of Directors, and adopted. It was immediately printed in "Greater New York," and later published in pamphlet form under the title "Second Report on Industrial Relations." More than ten thousand copies have been distributed to members of The Association, to trade and commercial organizations, and other interested individuals and organizations in New York City and throughout the country. At the end of the fiscal year several hundred requests for copies of this report were still coming in each week. Newspaper and personal comment on the report has been very general and highly favorable.

The report urges employers to use great care in the use of terms having to do with industrial relations, with especial reference to the "open shop." "The misuse of this term," the report states, "has tended in some quarters to arouse suspicion and distrust, especially as to the status of labor unions, and has perhaps thereby delayed the establishment of peaceful industrial conditions." The report also points out that "the question of unemployment and the bitterness and discontent that it engenders are a serious bar to the establishment of better industrial relations," and recommends "the early appointment of a special committee delegated to the task of studying the problem of unemployment and recommending methods for its prevention and alleviation." The report likewise contains a recommendation for further inquiry by The Association looking to the adoption of "a practical and general program for the adjustment of labor controversies," based upon some variation of the plan proposed by the President's Second Industrial Conference.

The spirit of the report is illustrated by the following statement:

> "Present industrial conditions make this time particularly opportune for employers to take a forward step in the matter of industrial relations. If they will, they can now achieve real progress without having their motives questioned on the grounds of expediency. Your Committee believes that it is time to abandon the methods of opposition and strife and to set up the machinery of friendly intercourse and cooperation between employers and employees."

Following the adoption of the Second Report on Industrial Relations, the Sub-committee on Industrial Relations was created by the Board of Directors into a regular standing committee of The Association, to be known as the "Committee on Industrial Relations." Additional members were then added to the Committee and following the resignation of Mr. Dahl as Chairman, Mr. E. K. Hall was appointed to this position. The Committee as thus constituted is as follows:

MR. E. K. HALL, Chairman;

MR. SIDNEY BLUMENTHAL,	MR. HAROLD A. HATCH,
MR. C. S. CHING,	MR. LOUIS B. SCHRAM,
MR. LINCOLN CROMWELL,	MR. WALTER C. TEAGLE,
MR. GERHARD M. DAHL,	MR. ROBERT B. WOLF,
MR. LEE K. FRANKEL,	MR. OWEN D. YOUNG.

In view of the importance of unemployment as a factor in industrial relations, the Manager accepted the position of Vice-Chairman of the Coordinating Committee on Employment Activities in New York City, a committee composed of representatives of employers' organizations, business concerns, the public schools, the State employment service, and various agencies interested in vocational training, research and allied matters. The Committee was organized for the purpose of securing better correlation of effort on the part of local agencies interested in employment and of studying and recommending ways and means of preventing or alleviating unemployment. Various meetings have been held, and practical plans are in the process of formulation.

Digitized by Google

Housing.

IN accordance with reports prepared by the Bureau for the Special Committee on Housing, and adopted by the Board of Directors during the fiscal year 1919-1920, The Association continued its advocacy of the exemption from income taxes of the return from real estate mortgages up to $40,000 held by any individual, for the purpose of attracting money into the mortgage market and thereby stimulating building construction. In May the Manager accompanied members of the Special Committee on Housing to Washington to appear at a hearing of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives to advocate mortgage exemption from Federal income taxes, in accordance with the above proposal. State legislation of a similar character was also advocated.

On the recommendation of the Special Committee on Housing, The Association requested Governor Smith to authorize an official investigation of the persistent rumors and newspaper reports concerning restricted output and controlled prices of building materials. Later, such an investigation was undertaken by the Joint Legislative Housing Committee, of which Senator Lockwood is Chairman. In December, The Association adopted a resolution commending the work of the Lockwood Committee and tendering to that Committee its support "to the end that there may be ascertained and published a true and complete record of facts, secured without fear or favor, and to the further end that remedies for improper conditions found to exist may be devised and applied."

In accordance with a further report of The Association's Housing Committee, The Association advocated the elimination of the "cost plus" form of contract in building construction wherever other and more economical forms could be used. In cases where the "cost plus" form of agreement is found to be unavoidable The Association recommended that modifications and limitations should be inserted to prevent unnecessary expenditure and waste.

During the year the Manager attended three conferences on housing, as follows:

Eighth Annual Housing Conference of The National Housing Association, Bridgeport, Conn., December 9 to 11;

Construction Conference under the auspices of the Industrial Relations Committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, Philadelphia, Pa., February 15 to 18; and National Conference on Construction under the auspices of The National Federation of Construction Industries, Chicago, Ill., March 2 to 3.

Immigration.

IN connection with the work of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, the Bureau undertook extensive investigations and prepared various reports on immigration matters.

Digitized by Google

The membership of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization is as follows, the same members serving as during the previous fiscal year:

MR. H. D. WALBRIDGE, Chairman;
MR. GEORGE A. CULLEN,
MR. LEOPOLD DEMUTH,
MR. GANO DUNN,
MR. LOUIS J. HOROWITZ,
MR. WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,
MR. A. F. MACARTHUR,
MR. FRANK PRESBREY,
MR. FELIX M. WARBURG,
MR. WILLIAM H. WOODIN,
MR. C. H. ZEHNDER.

The main report of this Committee was presented to and adopted by the Board of Directors early in November. The recommendations contained in the report may be summarized as follows:

> Emphasis at this time should be placed on efficient administration of restrictive laws already enacted rather than upon the addition of new laws; facilities at Ellis Island should be enlarged and improved; The Association should cooperate with public educational authorities in the organization and administration of factory classes for immigrants; The Association should take the initiative in calling a conference of New York agencies interested in the education of the foreign born to find means for the reduction of duplication and waste and increasing the effectiveness of such organizations; various specified changes should be made in the laws and procedure of naturalization; special attention should be given the matter of distribution of immigrants; the Federal Government should make provision whereby suitable descriptive material concerning the United States should be prepared and distributed to prospective immigrants by our foreign Consuls; and a national immigration commission should be appointed to devote itself especially to the matter of distribution.

In accordance with this program, The Association opposed the passage of the so-called Johnson bill, which was designed to prohibit all immigration for one year; it urged Congress to appropriate funds for the improvement and enlargement of Ellis Island; it sent representatives to visit factory classes and to cooperate with the educational authorities in its work of education through industry; it called a conference of representatives of the many agencies in New York City interested in immigrant education; and it gave publicity to the immigration report, and in other ways sought to make effective the various recommendations of the report.

The conference on immigrant education, which was called by The Association, resulted after a series of meetings in the formation of the New York City Council on Immigrant Education. The Manager acted as secretary of the committee which drew up the constitution for this Council, and later was made a member of the Council's Executive Committee, and also served as its executive secretary until a permanent appointment could be made for this position. The purpose of this Council is to stimulate and promote immigrant education in New York City through the more than 200 public and private agencies interested in this work.

In order to make more effective The Association's proposals regarding changes in the laws and procedure of naturalization, the Manager accepted appointment on a "Committee of Seven," formed as the result of a meeting of representatives of various organizations interested in naturalization called by the National Civic Federation. After a thorough study, this committee drew up an extensive program. This program was presented to many interested organizations for their action. On the recommendation of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization it was, with minor exceptions, adopted by The Merchants' Association.

In view of the failure of the last Congress to make appropriations for the improvement and enlargement of facilities at Ellis Island, The Association undertook, through the Industrial Bureau, an exhaustive investigation of the general administration of the immigration service at the Port of New York, including the quarantine station at Hoffman Island as well as the immigration station at Ellis Island. The purpose of this investigation was to determine the urgency for the need of improvement and to make suitable and intelligent recommendations concerning such improvement. The investigation occupied about one month, a representative of the Bureau spending a large part of his time on Ellis Island during this period. A complete report of the survey has been prepared, and a series of recommendations is now awaiting action by the Board of Directors.

Miscellaneous Activities.

DURING May and June the Bureau was engaged in work connected with the Citizens' Transportation Committee. This work consisted of the preparation of publicity material, the preparation of a map of Manhattan showing the centers of important industries requiring trucking service, and the finding of suitable office space for the Committee. In this connection a survey was also made to determine the character of labor agreements in force among members of The Merchants' Association.

Through membership on the 1920 Census Committee, the Manager has worked to secure tabulation of the 1920 census figures for New York City in such a way as to be of value in analyzing the population of various districts of the City. The work of the Committee is supported by voluntary contributions, The Merchants' Association being one of the contributors. Some preliminary reports of the Committee are already available, furnishing information more than a year in advance of the time when similar material was available following the 1910 census.

In July the Industrial Bureau undertook a study of the efficiency of factory labor among manufacturers in forty different lines of industry. This study indicated that there had been an improvement in efficiency since September, 1919. At that time an investigation by the Bureau showed that, in general, factory labor was not more than seventy per cent efficient, judged by normal standards of productivity.

In October the Bureau made a study of the general industrial situation in New York City, which was supplemented at the end of March by a survey dealing particularly with unemployment. Reports covering these matters were published in "Greater New York," and copied very generally by the daily papers in New York City and elsewhere.

Reports on the fluctuation of wholesale prices in the United States, compared with other important countries of the world, from 1913 to the present time, were prepared by the Bureau in November and April. A similar study of retail food prices was made in December. These reports were likewise published in "Greater New York," and widely copied.

At different times during the year the Bureau has made special investigations of the anthracite and bituminous coal situation, in order to be prepared properly to advise manufacturers and other consumers concerning the market.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTIN DODGE,
Manager, Industrial Bureau.

REPORT OF THE BUREAU OF RESEARCH

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE work of this Bureau during the past fiscal year has been marked by diversity rather than by concentration upon a few predominating problems. This diversity arises from the wide scope of the information and the service daily sought from The Association by its members and by other organizations. The inquiries and complaints received relate to many phases of public administration, local, State and National; the rights and obligations of individuals thereunder; public works, their plans and status; transportation, and the operation of public service corporations; taxation and a wide range of economic and business questions; and many similar subjects.

In addition to dealing with these subjects as specific occasion has arisen, this Bureau has given constant attention to continuing problems of broad and general importance with which The Association has been concerned. Some of these problems profoundly affect the economic welfare of City, State or Nation. They are subjects of differing views and intense debate. The facts affecting them are complex and often obscure. They present many rapidly changing phases. It is important, therefore, that they be continuously studied in anticipation of future action by The Association.

Among the matters that have been thus intensively studied by this Bureau, either with reference to immediate action or future consideration are the following:

Taxation.

THE question of simplification and reduction of Federal taxation has been prominently before the public during more than a year. Several bills before Congress during the previous and present session have had for their purpose modification or radical remodeling of the Federal tax system. Similar proposals, some simple, some very complex, have emanated from various private sources. They have been urged with ability. Opposing theories and plans have been published, each supported by fully developed argument and extensive detail.

The resulting controversial tax literature has been voluminous. It has been collated, examined, and in some instances digested, and placed at the disposal of the Committee on Taxation and Public Revenue. In addition to this work of analysis, arguments have been prepared, under the direction of that Committee, relative to administrative procedure under the Revenue Law, particularly as to the method of determining depreciation, and the hardships arising therefrom. On this point personal appearance has been made before the Committees of Congress.

Rail Transportation.

FOLLOWING the termination of Government operation of the Nation's railroads, and the return of the latter to their private owners, two questions vitally affecting the efficiency and economy of operation at once arose.

These were the questions of National Adjustment Boards and National Working Agreements.

The Transportation Act contemplated that differences between carriers and their employees should be settled, so far as possible, by agreement between themselves through boards comprising representatives of each class.

During Government operation, working agreements applying uniformly to all railroads, without regard to locality or differing conditions, were in force. These agreements were negotiated with the heads of the railroad brotherhoods, as representatives of the entire body of railroad employees. Their effect was greatly to diminish the efficiency and productiveness of individual employees, and correspondingly to increase the number of men required for operation with a proportionate, and in the main, wasteful increase in labor costs, aggregating several hundred million dollars per year.

The continuance of these conditions after the return of the railroads to their owners was desired by the employees. To that end they advocated centralized control through National Adjustment Boards whose decisions would tend to produce rules of universal application, and thereby to deprive railroad managers of the power to deal directly with their own employees. They further sought to obtain the specific adoption and retention by the United States Railroad Labor Board (now having jurisdiction under the Transportation Act) of the working conditions previously conceded by the former Federal Railroad Administration, from which proceeded enormous waste. The burden of this waste is ultimately borne by the public in the form of increased rates—in fact, much of the increase of rates hitherto allowed has been absorbed by that waste, which it is sought to perpetuate.

On behalf of The Association, this Bureau has followed this controversy closely, having carefully read and analyzed the great volume of testimony presented at the hearings held by the United States Railroad Labor Board. The Association earnestly opposed the creation of the National Adjustment Boards; advocated direct adjustment between carriers and their employees; and opposed the continuance of uniform and wasteful working agreements.

Written arguments in support of The Association's position were prepared and filed; supplemented by oral discussion with the Chairman of the Railway Labor Board.

Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Canal.

IN cooperation with the Committee on Inland Waterways and Water Storage, the voluminous literature on this subject has been carefully studied and digested. A comparative study of the elements of cost of traffic movement via the Great Lakes and the Erie Canal, and via the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Route was made. Upon it was based a memorial setting forth the essential ground of The Association's opposition to the St. Lawrence Canal project, namely that it is economically impracticable because of greater traffic and insurance costs; and therefore that the great investment required is not justified.

Digitized by Google

New York-New Jersey Tunnel.

THE plans for this project were studied in conjunction with the Committee on City Traffic. The project was approved by The Association on the recommendation of that Committee; and thereafter The Association through this Bureau cooperated in promoting the legislation required to give effect to the project. Since that date this Bureau has maintained contact with the work and has brought before the Committee various proposed modifications of the plan, particularly with reference to the adequacy of the street approaches, on both the New York and the New Jersey sides.

Postal Reform.

AS stated in last year's report, the efforts of The Association (continued during several years) for reform of postal methods finally resulted in the creation of a Joint Congressional Commission empowered fully to investigate the subject with a view to postal betterment. The Association recommended that the Commission retain efficiency engineers of high standing to make performance tests and to advise the Commission as to the suitability of the existing methods and system.

During the year, this work has been progressing favorably, and promises to produce substantial improvement. Particular study has been made of the local service in New York, as a result of which the Commission now has under consideration recommendations for radical changes in method and a great increase in facilities. Among the changes likely to be made are—

Restoration and possible enlargement of the Pneumatic Tube Service;
Decentralization of Mail Movement and the Substitution to a large degree of direct movement from Branch Offices to Rail Terminals;
Segregation and separate handling of Parcels Post Mail;
Provision of new Post Office Buildings for the separate handling of Parcels Post and Second Class Mails.

During the year this Bureau has kept constantly in touch with the various phases of the official investigation and has had numerous conferences with the officials having it in charge.

Port and Harbor Improvements.

DURING the year this Bureau has followed for the Committee on Harbor, Docks and Terminals the status of several matters relating to harbor and dock improvements. Among these are:

Reconstruction of Piers on Hudson River from the Battery to Perry Street;
New Pier Development on Staten Island;
Jamaica Bay Development;
Retention of Chelsea Pier Extensions;
New Ferry from Castleton, Staten Island;
Port Treaty between New York and New Jersey for the creation of a permanent and unified Port Authority.

Digitized by Google

Plans of the several works, projected and authorized, have been procured, together with all collateral information useful to the Committee. Personal inspection has been made of some of the sites. Reports relative to the several projects have been prepared; and communications expressing the views of The Association have been sent to the proper public authorities.

In the matter of the Chelsea Pier Extensions, appearances were made before the Board of Army Engineers, and the Secretary of War, in support of the application of the City authorities for the permanent continuance of the extensions; and written arguments to the same end were prepared and filed.

Communications advocating the reconstruction of the Hudson River Piers from the Battery to Perry Street; and the authorization of the Dock Commissioner's plan for extensive dock development on Staten Island, were prepared and sent to the Sinking Fund Commission and the Board of Estimate.

Legislation at Albany consummating the Port Treaty was supported by written argument and personal appearance.

Operation by the Federal Government of Barges on the Erie Canal.

PERSONAL appearance was made by members of the Committee on Inland Waterways and Water Storage and by the Director of this Bureau, in support of Senator Wadsworth's Bill forbidding operation by the Federal Government of barges on the Erie Canal, in competition with privately-owned barges. In the absence of such prohibition private capital was deterred from investment in canal shipping, and the usefulness of the canal was seriously threatened. The Bill has since become law, and the provision of an adequate privately-owned Canal fleet is now progressing rapidly.

City Transit Problems.

UNDER the direction of the Committee on Public Utilities and Law, this Bureau prepared arguments in support of Governor Miller's proposal so to amend the Public Service Commission Law as to provide for reorganization of the City's transit facilities; and represented The Association at the legislative hearings on that subject.

Repeal of Law Creating Mohansic State Reservation.

IN 1918, after several years' strenuous effort, The Association secured the adoption of a law creating a State Reservation about Mohansic Lake for the purpose of protecting the City's water supply against pollution by hospitals and other public institutions.

A bill to abolish the reservation and sell the lands was introduced in the Legislature of 1921. It was vigorously fought by The Association, but without avail, and the sale of the lands was authorized, presumably as a measure of State economy.

This Bureau prepared the various arguments and statements of fact in furtherance of The Association's opposition.

Muscle Shoals Project.

THIS project proposed the development by the United States Government of a hydro-electric plant on the Tennessee River, at a cost of $50,000,000 to produce nitrogen from the air. The product was to be used, when needed, for the manufacture of explosives, and in the interim for the manufacture of fertilizers, to be sold by the Government to farmers at low rates. A study of the subject made by this Bureau showed that the project would involve enormous and continuing loss, and probably destructive competition by the Government with about one hundred private firms engaged in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers.

An argument in opposition to the project was prepared by this Bureau, sent to Congress, and widely circulated throughout the country.

The proposed appropriation was defeated.

Revision of the Automobile Laws.

WITH a view to reducing the dangers from automobiles, The Association cooperated with other organizations in seeking amendments to the Highway Law, providing for more effective regulation. A study of the laws of this and adjoining States was made by this Bureau, and various suggestions for amendment resulted. The substance of the essential recommendation, relative to an increase in the powers of Magistrates was embodied in the amendments adopted by the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

F. B. DEBERARD,

Director of Research.

REPORT OF THE CONVENTION BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE Convention work of The Association for the year ended April 30, 1921, is summarized in the following report.

The Convention Bureau was conducted under the supervision of and in accordance with policies adopted upon the recommendations of the Convention Committee, composed of:

MR. JOHN BUCKLE, Chairman (Deceased);
MR. L. M. BOOMER,
MR. JOHN McE. BOWMAN,
COL. MICHAEL FRIEDSAM,
MR. F. A. MUSCHENHEIM,
MR. MASON B. STARRING,
MR. PERCY S. STRAUS,
MR. LOUIS WILEY.

During the year 587 conventions were held in New York City. Three hundred and seventy-five thousand people attended these conventions. During their stay in the City these visitors spent approximately $20,000,000.

Following is a condensed tabulation of conventions for the year:

	International and National	State
May, 1920	47	2
June	26	2
July	19	2
August	13	1
September	19	1
October	45	5
November	44	7
December	74	3
January, 1921	97	6
February	78	1
March	36	2
April	50	7
	548	39

In consequence of the activities of The Association conducted through this Bureau, ninety-one conventions were obtained for New York City during the year. These conventions, which would have gone to other cities but for the efforts of this Bureau, will bring to New York over 30,000 persons.

Cooperation with organizations holding their conventions in this City was maintained throughout the year by the Convention Bureau. Through the service thus performed the success of conventions held in New York City was enhanced to a marked degree and the consequent likelihood of their local repetition was increased.

The Bureau was called on daily for information relative to local facilities for conventions and exhibitions, in obtaining hotel accommodations and securing meeting halls and committee rooms, in providing features for business programs, in suggesting and executing details of entertainment programs, and in directing or facilitating the work of local committees. Frequently the Manager of the Bureau served as an ex-officio member of the latter.

Members of The Merchants' Association constantly availed of opportunities to obtain information relative to conventions from the Bureau. Several hundred calls, both personal and telephone, were made on this account.

Immediately upon the adoption by the Passenger Tariff Associations of reduced railway rates on the certificate plan for conventions, the Bureau made the facts and conditions public. The economic opportunity thus afforded was immediately communicated by letter to the secretaries of all organizations scheduled to hold conventions in New York City. In consequence, the attendance at these events was considerably increased.

As has been the case in the past, New York hotels cooperated efficiently with the Convention Bureau, not only in aiding its efforts to bring conventions to this City, but particularly in comfortably housing all convention visitors.

On several occasions charges were made, through the medium of the press, alleging that local hotel rates had been or were about to be increased on account of conventions. These charges were carefully and thoroughly investigated by the Convention Bureau, with the result that the claims were disproven.

Because of the discontinuance of the use of the Grand Central Palace for exposition purposes, and the difficulty of securing time for expositions in Madison Square Garden, a severe handicap has been imposed upon New York City as regards securing business conventions, in conjunction with which there usually are held large exhibitions. Because of this situation New York already has lost one very important convention, that of the National Shoe Retailers' Association, secured for this City for early in 1922. This convention, which is attended by 5,000 or more shoe retailers and manufacturers, will have to go elsewhere because of the lack of a suitably located building sufficiently large to house its exhibition.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN R. YOUNG,
Manager, Convention Bureau.

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE SERVICE BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE chief activities of The Association, conducted through its Legislative Service Bureau, for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1921, are shown in the following report.

The principal service rendered is that of informing its members concerning New York State legislation affecting the business interests in particular or the welfare of the City in general. All bills introduced in the Legislature are reviewed. Those of special importance are referred to The Association's Committee having jurisdiction over the particular subject, for consideration and recommendation.

During the sessions of the Legislature there is published each week in The Association's publication, "Greater New York," either the complete text of the most important bills introduced and new laws approved, or a comprehensive digest of their essential provisions. Individual members interested in pending measures are, upon request, informed from time to time as to the status, including hearings before legislative committees or the Governor, and of final action thereon.

While the attention of this Bureau is primarily devoted to New York State legislation, it also closely follows the legislative progress of all important measures pending in Congress, as well as the orders, rulings, decisions and regulations of the several Federal executive departments and commissions, and is prepared at all times promptly to supply or to secure for members information concerning Federal legislative or departmental activities.

In addition to the special service covering New York State legislation, The Association makes available to its members, through the medium of this Bureau, facilities for securing information relating to existing Federal and State laws, City ordinances, and the principal laws of numerous foreign countries; the provisions and status of bills pending in Congress; the terms of important decisions and rulings under the Tariff Act and the Income Tax Acts; the organization, jurisdiction and personnel of Federal, State and City departments, bureaus, boards, and commissions; the personnel of Congress and the State Legislature, including permanent and special committees; and general information relating to Federal, State and City affairs.

Information Supplied.

DURING the year the Bureau received and complied with 1,687 specific requests for information. Of these, 412 related to existing Federal laws, 258 to bills pending in Congress, 313 to existing State laws, 92 to bills pending in the Legislature, 52 to City ordinances and other City matters, and 560 to miscellaneous subjects, including regulations, rulings and decisions under the Federal and State income tax laws.

Digitized by Google

The Bureau prepared and brought directly to the attention of members, through the columns of "Greater New York," 209 of the bills introduced in the State Legislature, and 79 new State laws.

Other activities of the Bureau included the review of 3,166 bills introduced during the special and regular sessions of the State Legislature, and of 1,025 new State laws, the review of more than 1,550 bills pending in Congress, 238 new Federal laws, and 31 new City ordinances; the preparation of statistics, letters and other material for use in The Association's Daylight Saving campaign; the treatment of complaints made by members of The Association relating to delayed and lost mail; and overcharges by taxicab drivers.

It is gratifying to report that the facilities of this Bureau are utilized and appreciated by members of The Association. This is demonstrated by the increased use of the Bureau for information covering a wide range of subjects.

Abstracts of Bills and Laws.

THE following is a statistical resumé of the State bills and laws, abstracts of which were prepared by this Bureau and published in "Greater New York" during the fiscal year:

	Bills	Laws	Space
May, 1920	..	42	7 1/2 pages
*September, 1920	12	..	1 1/3 pages
October, 1920	..	12	2 pages
January, 1921	34	..	2 2/3 pages
February, 1921	74	..	7 1/2 pages
March, 1921	67	7	8 1/3 pages
April, 1921	22	18	5 pages
Total	209	79	34 1/3 pages

*Special session, September 20 to 24. Bills introduced, 118, of which 21 became law.

Regular session adjourned April 16, 1921. Bills introduced, 3,048, of which 716 became law.

Respectfully submitted,

A. M. TRAVERS,

Manager, Legislative Service Bureau.

REPORT OF THE ANTI-LITTER BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following is a report covering the most important activities of The Association, conducted through its Anti-Litter Bureau, during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1921.

Organization of Bureau.

THE educational campaign for a cleaner, safer and more healthful City is under the advisory supervision of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, the members of which are:

MR. JOHN C. EAMES, Chairman;
MR. HENRY D. COOPER, MR. HENRY G. GENNERT,
MR. CLARKSON COWL, MR. H. DEB. PARSONS.

Although the educational work is still in the experimental stage, the results obtained are highly gratifying. The majority of the Block Captains are high school pupils. The work is taken up in connection with the study of Community Civics. It gives the pupil the opportunity of combining the practical with the theoretical. The captains not only render a distinct service to the City, but at the same time benefit themselves by the thought engendered incident to their work, which instills into their minds a conception of their relationship as individuals to the community at large.

Number of Block Captains.

AT the present time the Bureau has the following number of Block Captains:

Public School No. 30	58
Boys' High School	48
Bushwick High School	3
Commercial High School	185
Commercial High School Annex	63
DeWitt Clinton High School	47
DeWitt Clinton High School, 88th St. Annex	19
Evander Childs High School, Bedford Annex	141
Evander Childs High School, Fordham Annex	66
Girls' High School Annex	26
High School of Commerce	23
High School of Commerce, 46th St. Annex	32
High School of Commerce, 89th St. Annex	338
Hunter College High School	45

Hunter College High School, Annex	227
Jamaica High School	4
Julia Richman High School	17
Julia Richman High School, 82nd St. Annex	3
Julia Richman High School, 102nd St. Annex	21
Manual Training High School	31
Morris High School	8
Newtown High School	177
Stuyvesant High School	1,305
Wadleigh High School	706
Bryant High School	14
Erasmus Hall	2
Transferred Block Captains	81
Girl Scouts	9
Woman's Police Reserves	19
Business Houses	56
Mothers' Clubs	6
Miscellaneous	28
	3,808

There are several thousand "silent workers," that is to say people who are carrying on the work, but who do not send in a report every month. They do, however, keep in touch with and notify the Bureau in case special attention is needed to any particular conditions.

Complaints.

THE following complaints were received and forwarded to the proper authorities during the past year:

Distributors of circulars	9
Non-removal of dead animals	257
Accumulations of rubbish on fire escapes	8
Non-collection of ashes and garbage	197
Lamp posts out of order	63
Hydrants out of order	54
Roadway pavements in need of repairs	75
Sidewalk pavements in need of repairs	110
Requests for additional waste receptacles	2
Sewers out of order	84
Garbage and ashes mixed	37
Streets not flushed frequently	20
Sidewalks not swept	109
Overfilled ash and garbage cans	100
Uncovered garbage cans	488
Vacant lots littered	373
Unsanitary conditions	209
Miscellaneous	96
	2,291

The following conditions were remedied by the Block Captains direct:

Ordinance pertaining to sweeping sidewalks	2,328
Uncovered garbage cans	3,709

Digitized by Google

Overfilled ash cans	2,485
Placing cans or bundles on curb line	1,420
Spitters warned	5,157
Street litter	4,921
	20,020

The following conditions were remedied by the Manager of the Bureau direct:

Ordinance pertaining to sweeping sidewalks	1,189
Uncovered garbage cans	283
Unsafe trap doors	121
Obstacles, hindrance to pedestrians	297
Spitters warned	1,789
Street litter	487
Exposed foodstuffs	727
	4,893
Total of complaints remedied	27,204

Lantern Slides and Addresses.

LANTERN SLIDES showing conditions The Association is trying to correct, have been made and are shown in schools, churches and other places at every opportunity in an effort to further the Anti-Litter Campaign.

During the past year nineteen illustrated addresses were delivered to approximately 5,293 persons.

"Get Acquainted" Meetings of Block Captains.

HIGH SCHOOL Block Captains were divided into groups according to Police Precincts. On Saturday mornings at 10:30 o'clock meetings of the Block Captains of each Police Inspection District were held. These meetings were to bring the Captains together, to show, with the aid of lantern slides, just what conditions we are trying to remedy and the proper manner in which to approach violators. The Captains were given an opportunity to make inquiries, express opinions, suggestions or complaints relative to the work. Representatives of the Police, Health and Street Cleaning Departments addressed the various meetings. Refreshments were served and the meetings proved both enjoyable and beneficial.

Unlawful Billposting.

DURING the past year, the Bureau took active steps in an effort to relieve the City of unsightly conditions and street litter caused by unlawful billposting, known as sniping. For a number of years past the practice of "sniping" has been extensively indulged in. "Sniping" consists in placing advertising posters and similar material, either upon the property of private owners without the owners' consent, or upon objects in the public highways. In either case, the act of "sniping" is illegal.

Three conferences of representatives of organizations whose members have been responsible for many violations of the law governing billposting in the City of New York were held, two in the offices of The Merchants' Association and one in the local offices of the Navy Department.

The first conference was attended by Colonel L. J. Magill, representing the United States Marine Corps; Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President, Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary, and Mr. Clyde A. Copson, Manager of the Anti-Litter Bureau, for The Merchants' Association. Colonel Magill heartily favored the Anti-Sniping Campaign and delivered to Mr. Morgan a copy of his order to local representatives of the Marine Corps which requested them to stop all illegal billposting, remove all material thus posted before January 31st, 1921, and discontinue the practice.

The second conference was attended by Mr. William McCarthy, Secretary of Billposters Union Number One; Mr. Scott and Mr. Donneigan, delegates for the Union; and Messrs. Morgan, Mead and Copson, of The Merchants' Association. The delegates of the Union expressed a willingness to cooperate in the Anti-Sniping Campaign.

The third conference was attended by Commander F. H. Poteet, representing the United States Navy; Mr. Morgan and Mr. Copson, of The Association. Commander Poteet stated that orders would be issued to discontinue all unlawful billposting. Due to the shortage of men, it would be impossible for the Navy to remove the material already unlawfully posted.

As a result of our Anti-Sniping Campaign, many unsightly conditions were remedied. In many cases, the advertising material was removed and "post no bills" notices placed in conspicuous locations.

Some of the prominent organizations who issued orders to their billposters to discontinue unlawful billposting at the request of The Association, through this Bureau, are:

Vaudeville Managers' Protective Association
United Managers' Protective Association
United States Marine Corps
United States Navy
Salvation Army
Young Men's Christian Association
American Red Cross
New York State Tuberculosis Society

However, billposters for some of the members of the first two named organizations, are still violating the law.

Broken Milk Bottles.

A SPECIAL appeal has been made to all Block Captains to make note of broken milk bottles or stray milk cans. Many children are in the habit of breaking these bottles and allowing the pieces to remain in the streets and on the sidewalks where they are a source of danger to pedestrians and passing automobiles.

Snow Removal.

WHEN the City was visited by the heavy fall of snow, all Block Captains were requested to inspect their districts and see that snow was removed from the sidewalks promptly and the gutter kept open. Some of the Captains reported the organization of snow removal parties, thus aiding the City in its tremendous task of opening the thoroughfares to traffic.

Digitized by Google

Removal of Dead Animals.

THE prompt removal of dead animals from the public thoroughfares and vacant lots has been a matter of great concern. Animals have been allowed to remain in the streets several days before being removed. This matter was called to the attention of the Health Department, which has a contract with the Products Manufacturing Company for the prompt removal of dead animals. The Products Manufacturing Company has been reprimanded several times, but the service is still far from satisfactory.

Park Litter.

AT the suggestion of the Bureau, in an effort to diminish the great amount of litter, the Park Commissioner has decided that signs will be placed throughout the parks and on benches, warning the public not to throw refuse on the lawns and walks and requesting that all refuse be placed in waste receptacles.

Signs in Subway Stations.

AT our suggestion, signs were placed in subway stations, requesting the public to deposit refuse in waste receptacles.

War on Rats.

THE Bureau cooperated with the Health Department in its campaign against rats and distributed to our Block Captains for circulation, several thousand circulars on ways to destroy rats.

Magistrates Requested to Cooperate.

MAGISTRATES who were inclined to be lenient were requested to cooperate by imposing heavier penalties on violators.

Communications were forwarded to Chief Magistrate McAdoo requesting that he urge the Magistrates to cooperate with the members of the Police and Street Cleaning Departments when violators of the Sanitary Code were brought before them.

Mayor Hylan's Appeal for Cleaner Streets.

AT the suggestion of the Anti-Litter Bureau, Mayor Hylan issued an appeal to the public to refrain from littering the public thoroughfares, to remove unlawfully posted bills from their property and to clean up their vacant lots. This appeal was published in the City newspapers and favorably commented on editorially.

Safety for Children.

PARTICULAR attention was given to the cleaning of vacant lots, which children use for playgrounds. During the past year, the Bureau reported 373 vacant lots littered with refuse and in an unsanitary condition.

In one case, where one side of a vacant lot was about six feet above the street level, we caused a fence to be erected. Children playing in this lot could easily have fallen and become seriously injured.

Exposed Foodstuffs.

THE Bureau has endeavored to enforce the law which governs exposed foodstuffs, particularly exposed candy. Many warnings have been issued and arrests made. The present situation is very serious and a great menace to health. Here again the cooperation of the Magistrates in imposing a fine sufficient in size to act as a determined force against the existing evil is most necessary. A representative of the Health Department stated that he was of the opinion that a fine of fifty or one hundred dollars should be imposed on violators for exposed foodstuffs.

Health Commissioner Inspects East Side.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND, Commissioner of the Health Department, accompanied the Manager of the Bureau on an inspection tour through some of the streets of the lower East Side for the purpose of observing conditions existing at the beginning of the Jewish holiday season. A general house cleaning is indulged in at this time and all sorts of refuse and rubbish thrown into the streets. Many streets contained great piles of refuse and filth of every description, despite the fact that the Department of Street Cleaning had removed more than six hundred loads of material prior to Health Commissioner Copeland's inspection tour.

Dr. Copeland stated that drastic steps would be taken to improve conditions.

Tour of Inspection Abroad.

THE Manager of the Bureau went abroad during his vacation for the purpose of learning the condition of the streets and the kind of equipment used for refuse collections and final disposal.

London and Paris are models of cleanliness. They are far ahead of New York City in this respect, which is, no doubt, due to strict police enforcement of the law and early education in the need of clean streets.

The work of the Anti-Litter Bureau will in due course of time be the instrument through which New York City will take its place with these cities in point of cleanliness.

Publicity.

SPECIAL articles relative to the work of the Bureau appeared in the Ladies' Home Jouranal, June, 1920, The Metropolis of March 15, 1921, and the local press.

Inquiries.

INQUIRIES relative to The Association's Anti-Litter work during the year included the following:

American City Press, New York City
Civic Club of Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Chamber of Commerce, Champaign, Illinois
Chamber of Commerce, Rock Island, Illinois
Detroit Board of Commerce, Detroit, Michigan
Mrs. R. E. Duke, Dalhart, Texas
Fredericktown Commercial Club, Fredericktown, Missouri
Gloversville Chamber of Commerce, Gloversville, New York
Jamaica Board of Trade, Jamaica, Long Island
Missoula Chamber of Commerce, Missoula, Montana
Sandpoint Chamber of Commerce, Sandpoint, Idaho
Dr. William Stryker, Livingston, Montana
United Community House, New York City
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan
Women's Civic League, Baltimore, Maryland and many interested individuals residing in and near New York City.

Cooperates With Various City Departments.

IN carrying on the work, the Bureau cooperates with many City officials, including Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner, Health Department; Hon. John P. Leo, Commissioner, Department of Street Cleaning; Hon. Richard E. Enright, Commissioner, Police Department; Mr. James B. Walker, Secretary, Public Service Commission; Hon. Thomas I. Drennan, Commissioner, Fire Department; Hon. William McAdoo, Chief City Magistrate; Hon. Henry H. Curran, Borough President, Manhattan; Hon. Henry Bruckner, Borough President, The Bronx; Hon. Edward Riegelmann, Borough President, Brooklyn; Hon. Francis D. Gallatin, Park Commissioner, Manhattan; Hon. Jos. P. Henessy, Park Commissioner, The Bronx; Hon. John N. Harmon, Park Commissioner, Brooklyn; Hon. C. H. Fay, Commissioner, Department of Public Works, Manhattan; Hon. William J. Flynn, Commissioner, Department of Public Works, The Bronx; Hon. Joseph A. Guider, Commissioner, Department of Public Works, Brooklyn; Hon. Frank Mann, Commissioner, Tenement House Commission; Hon. Nicholas J. Hayes, Commissioner, Water Supply, Gas and Electricity.

City Officials Appreciative.

Hon. John F. Hylan, Mayor, states:

"I am pleased to say that the assistance rendered by Block Captains is valuable, and the young men engaged in the work are to be commended and encouraged for their fine spirit of cooperation."

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner of the Health Department, says:

"This is a splendid idea, and when we can get all the children engaged in a movement to protect the City against filth and unsanitary conditions, we will have the finest city in the world."

Hon. Henry H. Curran, President of the Borough of Manhattan, writes:

"Permit me to congratulate you upon the excellent work done by the Anti-Litter Bureau of your Association. The psychological effect produced by the concerted action of the school children (future men and women of the community) in inspecting and reporting the unclean conditions in the municipality, will certainly have a far-reaching result. The idea is worthy of the highest praise.

"May I request that you convey to your little Block Captains an assurance of my sincere cooperation and support in their efforts to make our City a cleaner and healthier place."

Hon. John P. Leo, Commissioner of the Department of Street Cleaning, stated:

"It is highly gratifying to know that the youth of our City take a pride in its development and welfare, and are willing to give up their time and energy for the general good. It speaks well for the future of the City, and any public official who is keenly interested in his work, will certainly feel spurred on to renewed effort by such work as you are doing."

Hon. Richard E. Enright, Commissioner of the Police Department:

"I have to inform you that the work of your Block Captains has been very helpful to this department and to the City in the matter of keeping the streets clean and free from litter. When such conditions are reported to the police by the Block Captains they receive prompt attention and the condition is corrected."

REPORT OF THE PUBLICITY BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE Merchants' Association received more publicity during the year just closed than it had ever before received in its history. Every day of the year it was mentioned more than thirteen times on an average in the daily newspapers and in other publications.

This was due mainly to the prominent part taken by The Association in the formation of the Citizens' Transportation Committee, which freed the City's commerce from the barriers which the striking longshoremen sought to erect in order to compel compliance with their demands.

The Publicity Committee.

THE members of the Publicity Committee during the year were as follows:

MR. INGALLS KIMBALL, Chairman; MR. O. C. HARN,
MR. A. VICTOR BARNES, MR. L. J. HOROWITZ,
MR. GEORGE B. CORTELYOU, MR. ALVIN HUNSICKER,
MR. WILLIAM A. MARBLE.

The Organization of the Bureau.

THE organization of the Bureau remained unchanged during the year. It consisted of the Manager and the Secretary.

The Publicity Record.

A SUMMARY of the net results of The Association's publicity work from May 1, 1920, to May 1, 1921, in comparison with the results of the last three previous years, is as follows:

	May 1 to May 1
	1917-1918	1918-1919	1919-1920	1920-1921
Newspaper columns	1,043	860	847	1,625
Weekly average of newspaper columns	20+	18+	16+	31+
Number of inches of printed matter	22,350	18,363	18,151	34,040
Number of inches in New York City papers	14,057	10,221	9,632	25,389
Number of inches in out-of-town papers	3,470	3,321	3,521	5,481
Number of inches in editorials	1,307	1,600	1,491	2,730
Number of inches in trade papers	4,821	4,821	3,507	3,170
Average daily number of mentions	9—	9+	10+	13+
Number of mentions				4,669

While this shows a large increase, analysis of the results obtained in the previous years indicates that it is not as abnormal as it would appear. In the year 1917-1918, The Association obtained 22,350 inches of printed matter, as against 34,040 inches this year. The two years of the war kept the record under 19,000 inches, owing to various causes growing out of the war, such as high cost of paper, making compression necessary, labor troubles, etc.

Rather less space was obtained in the trade papers during the past year owing partly to high costs and partly to the fact that the work of The Association did not lend itself especially to this form of publication.

The number of "mentions," that is, the number of times the name of The Merchants' Association appeared during the year, increased 33 1/3 per cent.

The news articles and editorials devoted to The Association and its work by the newspapers and trade papers, both in and out of the City, reached a total of 34,040 inches, as against 18,151 inches last year. Of this total, 25,389 inches appeared in the newspapers of New York City and 5,481 inches in the papers published outside of the City. This was an increase of 1,960 inches over the 3,521 inches which appeared in outside papers last year.

In editorial space, which is generally considered the most valuable form of publicity, The Association received 2,730 inches, as against 1,491 inches last year.

The trade press gave The Association 3,170 inches of space, as against 3,507 inches last year.

"Greater New York."

FORTY-SIX issues of "Greater New York" made up Volume IX of "Greater New York," as against forty-two for the previous year.

The total number of pages was 680, as against 776—reason for this being in the interest of economy.

Numbers	Pages	Total Pages
8	8	64
11	12	132
15	16	240
11	20	220
1	24	24

The Circulation of "Greater New York."

THE average weekly edition of "Greater New York" for the year was 10,500, as compared with 9,930 during the year 1919-1920.

The average mailing list was 9,900, as compared with 9,700 during the previous year.

The average number of papers furnished to the Membership Bureau for its purposes was 303, of which 130 copies were mailed to addresses furnished by the Membership Bureau.

The index to Volume IX contained eighty-three pages, as compared with eighty-eight pages for the previous year; and 10,000 copies were published, of which 9,825 were mailed.

Digitized by Google

Other Publicity.

THE Publicity Bureau sent out 219 stencils during the year, as against 140 stencils for the previous year.

In addition, it prepared thirty-two special stories, articles and interviews for publication in newspapers and magazines.

It sent sixty-four special letters to the newspapers and the trade press.

It arranged for the publication of special stories prepared by various Bureaus of The Association, and it supplied material and illustrations which served as the basis for a number of stories which appeared in the newspapers and trade papers, especially in connection with conventions which were to be held in the City.

A letter was sent each week to the City editors of the daily newspapers and to the press associations, together with advance copies of "Greater New York," calling attention to the more important features of the work of The Association during the previous week.

In addition, "Greater New York" was sent each week to a list of approximately 300 trade papers representing the various lines of industry throughout the United States.

All meetings of The Association during the year were covered by the Publicity Bureau. The Bureau also aided in reporting the events of the longshoremen's strike and of the contest made in behalf of Daylight Saving.

The Bureau covered the luncheon meetings of the Members' Council. As a rule, the speeches were taken by stenographers, under the supervision of the Bureau, and distributed while the meetings were in progress.

A portion of the Bureau's time was devoted to the preparation of special letters, interviews and material to be used in addresses by officers of The Association.

The longshoremen's strike was the principal event of the year from a publicity point of view. The participation of The Merchants' Association began just at the close of the last Association year, an account of it appearing in "Greater New York" on April 26. From that time until July much interest was taken in the struggle to open the New York City channels for the transportation of merchandise.

The Publicity Bureau devoted a great deal of time and attention to the strike and to the efforts made to reopen the channels of trade. It was important that the public should have the right point of view with regard to the issues involved, and that its sympathy should be with the business men of the City rather than with the strikers. This object was successfully attained. It was also important that the actual news should reach the newspapers from day to day without garbling, and that false reports should promptly be discredited. A great deal of attention was necessarily given to this branch of the publicity work, and a very serious attempt to show that the formation of the Citizens' Transportation Committee was dictated by large special interests whose real object was to destroy the power of the labor unions, was nullified.

Digitized by Google

During the strike the office of the Publicity Bureau was practically turned over to the newspaper men, every possible arrangement being made for their comfort. As a result they made the office their headquarters, and the Citizens' Transportation Committee was thus kept informed of their opinions and of any information they had.

Clipping Service.

THE Bureau continued to read and clip the newspapers and other publications sent to The Association or subscribed to by it. Articles of interest to The Association or to its various Bureaus were clipped and distributed.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT H. FULLER,

Manager, Publicity Bureau.

REPORT OF THE MEMBERSHIP BUREAU

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,

The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

IT is gratifying to report that notwithstanding the business upheaval prevailing since October, 1920, the fiscal year closed on April 30, 1921, with the largest enrollment The Association has ever enjoyed, namely, 6,764.

The results in membership upbuilding and maintenance within the fiscal year 1920-1921 compare favorably with the record achievements in each of the previous two years, as this report on Bureau activities and accomplishments within the year shows.

Membership Committee.

Membership Bureau Staff.

AS in previous years, the work of membership upbuilding and maintenance functioned through the Membership Bureau under the advisory supervision of the Membership Committee, which is the same in personnel as in recent years, namely:

MR. ARTHUR WILLIAMS, Chairman; MR. WILLIAM L. FISH, Vice-Chairman,
GENERAL COLEMAN DUPONT, MR. WALTER H. MERRALL,
MR. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN.

Throughout the greater part of the year the field staff consisted of five, with one of that number working most of that period in Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs. Three changes in field representatives occurred during the year.

At the close of the year the complete staff engaged in the regular work of the Bureau consisted of a Manager, a Secretary, four field representatives, and two clerical assistants. Throughout the year considerable extra clerical assistance was employed in important special activities.

New Membership—

Retention of Old Membership.

WITHIN the year 759 members were elected.

During the same time the Bureau secured the withdrawal of seventy resignations, in which effort it was aided by interested members. The result in membership upbuidling and maintenance was, therefore, 829, only sixty-three less than the total in the previous banner year.

Facts Concerning New Enrollment.

BARRING the first three months, the additions to the membership were well distributed throughout the year. In May, June and July, the new enrollment was 86, 145, and 90, respectively, which is far above the monthly average, especially for that time of the year. The large increase in the membership in those three months represented an immediate expression of appreciation of the action of The Association in initiating and taking the leadership, through the Chairmanship of President William Fellowes Morgan, in the Citizens' Transportation Committee movement, which, in preventing class domination and control of transportation facilities, assured the supremacy of the trade and commerce of this City. Naturally, the part played in breaking up the paralysis of the water transportation facilities of the Port of New York, which was the outstanding activity of The Association during the year, was of potent influence in membership upbuilding during the period under review, as it demonstrated to business interests in every Borough of Greater New York the need for and utility of commercial organization activity.

The preponderance of the new enrollment was again drawn from the Borough of Manhattan, but the response on the part of business interests in Brooklyn was even more encouraging than in the previous year, so that The Association now enjoys a larger enrollment from the latter Borough than ever before. The Brooklyn support is almost entirely from manufacturers, whose continued membership can be counted upon because of interest in our general work and direct benefit derived from Bureau service.

That The Association's activities benefit all doing business in and from this City is being emphatically demonstrated each succeeding year by the increasing number of new memberships of New York branches or selling agencies of prominent industrial corporations, the executive offices and plants of which are located in towns and cities throughout the country, some as far distant as the Pacific Coast. The Association now enjoys the active aid of the New York representatives of such concerns in urging the executive officers to authorize support of our work, as the membership accretion from this source last year proves.

The best indication that the new membership was of natural growth, in appreciation of The Association's services in protecting and promoting trade and commerce, is the fact that it was drawn from practically every trade, industry and profession. It was assigned to 119 different sub-divisions within forty-five of the forty-seven divisions covering the classification of the entire membership. The new membership was even broader in scope than that of the previous year, which was listed under 120 subdivisions in forty-three divisions. In numbers, the new enrollment was also well distributed throughout the classification of the entire membership. The leading division was "Textiles, Wholesale Dry Goods and Kindred Lines," with eighty-seven, in which the new enrollment was assigned to ten different subdivisions, with twenty-eight dry goods commission merchants or manufacturers and thirteen identified with Hosiery, Underwear and Knit Goods. With sixty-two, "Food Products and Kindred Lines" was second in new enrollment, the membership being assigned to ten different subdivisions. Then followed Drugs, Chemicals, Oils, Paints, etc., with fifty-two new members. "Transportation, Warehousing, Shipping and Kindred Lines" was fourth with forty-nine, closely followed by "Engineering, Building, Building Equipment," forty-seven, and "Iron and Steel, Metals, Heavy Hardware, Machinery," forty-six, in fifth and sixth positions, respectively. In the other divisions the new membership ranged from one to thirty-seven, the latter figure covering professional interests, which ranked seventh in numbers.

In addition to its diversity, the new enrollment is of high calibre, insuring membership support of long duration, as well as adding to the prestige and influence of The Association in carrying on the work for public welfare.

Field Staff Effort.

WITHIN the year the field representatives extended an invitation to 3,996 eligible members to join The Association, thus imparting to the principals in that number of firms and corporations knowledge of The Association's purposes, accomplishments, and current activities. In very large part, the new enrollment was drawn from that field.

Names Removed from the Roll—
Net Membership Gain.

THREE hundred and forty-six were removed from the roll during the year covering memberships dating from the creation of The Association in 1897 to and including 1920.

The major number of the resignations followed from the customary causes—deaths, removals from the City, receiverships or bankruptcies, temporary suspensions, retirements, liquidations and mergers or absorptions.

The sudden transition of business from a war to a peace basis in the previous fiscal year, followed by the trying period of deflation during the year under review, resulted in a greater number of liquidations, bankruptcies, consolidations and reorganizations of personnel than have occurred in any two years combined since the creation of The Association in 1897. In the light of these conditions, it is surprising and gratifying that during the fiscal year under review the number of membership deductions, 346, was only twelve more than in the previous twelve months, and well below the number which can reasonably be expected annually from so large and diversified an enrollment.

As the new membership and withdrawn resignations total 829, the net gain in membership is 493, after deducting the 336 removed from the roll. This net result is only sixty-five less than last year's accomplishment, when a record was established. It is only five less than the result in the fiscal year 1918-1919, the second best year in membership upbuilding and maintenance. Intensive campaign years are, of course, omitted in these comparisons.

The Eligible Membership List.

THROUGH revision and amplification the Bureau constantly aims to perfect the eligible membership list as the source from which the new enrollment is drawn.

In addition to making the corrections daily reported by the field representatives, the entire eligible list was brought up to date in every respect in a thorough revision, which preceded and made possible the installation in October of a tab or signal system on the eligible membership whereby field effort has been materially increased and systematic follow-up at the appropriate time is insured.

Under the qualifications prescribed by the Membership Committee and the Board of Directors, the eligible list was, during the year, enlarged by 2,044, exclusive of the names suggested by members. The list was also amplified by the names of 300 men of affairs, whose personal membership, irrespective of that of the firms or corporations with which each may be identified, will add to the prestige and influence of The Association in conducting the work for the common good.

The eligible lists in Brooklyn and Queens were enlarged by from three to four hundred.

The eligible list on the close of the fiscal year numbers 8,222, after having removed therefrom over 3,000 and added thereto more than 2,000 names.

During the year a complete revision of the classified eligible membership list was accomplished, whereby the classified and alphabetical forms of the eligible list now correspond.

The basis of and the attention given to the eligible list make it a selected list of much worth. As an index of the prominent individuals, firms and corporations in every trade, industry and profession in Greater New York, it is exceeded in value only by our enrollment.

The classified eligible list is identical in form with the classification of the membership.

Both the alphabetical and classified eligible lists were frequently used during the year in the general activities of The Association, including the service extended by various Bureaus.

Assisting Members.

AS service is the keynote in The Association's activities, the Bureau, through the field representatives, by letter, over the telephone, and whenever opportunity presents, invites members to ask, and responds with, information on a variety of subjects. The requests for such service increased during the past year. Numerous letters of appreciation indicate that the closer personal contact thereby established with members promotes powerful aid in increasing the enrollment.

Cooperation in Bureau and Association Work Generally.

THROUGHOUT the year the Bureau supplied data and information to the other Bureaus and in the general work of The Association. As to the other Bureaus, the service pertained, in the main, to personnel, customs and practices in the different trades, industries and professions.

The service with reference to The Association's diversified activities was extended under your direction. It included cooperation in outside fund-raising campaigns in which The Association was interested.

The Bureau also aided materially in the raising of the underwriting fund for the activities of The Citizens' Transportation Committee, and subsequently prepared and perfected the record system covering payments on the assessment plan under such underwriting.

Digitized by Google

To promote closer relationship with commercial organizations throughout the country the Bureau supplied during the year, on request, much information to other bodies in various cities and towns, the furnishing of which generally required special inquiry.

Nature, Diversity and Prominence of Membership.

THE present membership consists of individuals, firms and corporations, eighty per cent being that of firms and corporations.

The names of the members indicate the prominence of the enrollment. The "Plan of Classification" and the "Index of Classification" in the Year Book show the diversity of the membership. That the membership can fittingly speak for the trade, commerce and industry of Greater New York is borne out by the fact that under a compact classification plan it is assigned to 159 different subdivisions in forty-seven large divisions.

In numbers, the textile industry, banking, and export-import, in the order named, are the three most prominent in the membership. The membership is very large and truly representative in the following trades and industries, in which The Association has enjoyed liberal support since its creation in 1897:

Food Products and Kindred Lines
Men's Apparel and Furnishings
Transportation and Shipping.
Leather and Boots and Shoes
Paper and Paper Products
Insurance
Heavy Hardware, Machinery
Women's and Children's Wear
Drugs, Chemicals, Colors, Oils and Paints
Iron and Steel, Metals
Engineering, Building, Building Equipment
Jewelry Stocks
Realty

Membership Aid in Enlarging Enrollment.

DURING the year there was a notable increase in the number of interested members who either voluntarily or on request directly aided in the effort to enlarge the enrollment. This manifest desire of members to show appreciation of The Association's activities "To Foster the Trade and Welfare of New York" through cooperation in increasing the number and in broadening the scope of the membership, insures such growth from year to year as will materially add to the prestige and influence of The Association and encourage the Officers, Directors and Committeemen in "carrying on" for the common good.

Respectfully submitted,

GEEORGE W. BRAMHALL,
Manager.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

May 1, 1921.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE work carried on in the Library of The Association during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1921, has been along the same lines as heretofore, namely, in furnishing service to the members, the Committees and the Bureaus.

As a means of information and comparison, your Librarian has visited a number of other special libraries in and near New York City, and has cooperated with the New York Special Libraries Association in its aim to coordinate the facilities of the special libraries in the City and vicinity. By means of a classified list, the two hundred and forty-six libraries constituting the Special Libraries Association are now enabled to call upon one another for the information in which each of these libraries specializes.

Catalogued Material.

DURING the past year 855 books and pamphlets have been catalogued, seventy-five received to date are still uncatalogued, and 339 obsolete volumes have been withdrawn. The number of volumes on the shelves now totals 18,297.

The books and pamphlets catalogued include Government departmental reports; special studies and reports relating to the tariff, foreign trade, industrial problems, taxation, and harbor development; directories; and reports of commercial organizations.

Magazines and Bulletins.

CURRENT numbers of magazines dealing with commercial, financial, economic and municipal subjects, and magazines relating to special industries, have been kept on file; also bulletins and journals issued by commercial organizations in cities, large and small, throughout the United States, as well as an increasing number of foreign publications. These aggregate 288.

Library Classification.

A COPY of the Library Classification was loaned to the Library of the University of Texas, and has been consulted by visitors from various libraries and business houses.

"Greater New York Index."

A MANUSCRIPT copy of the Index to Volume IX of "Greater New York," containing 4,026 entries, was prepared and submitted to the Publicity Bureau early in December, 1920. The weekly issues of 1921 have been indexed to date.

Digitized by Google

Use of the Library.

IT is gratifying to report the increased use of the Library by members and the expressions of appreciation regarding the information available.

Requests for information during the year from all sources total 1,790. These inquiries cover a diversity of subjects. Among them may be mentioned requests for trade directories, cable code books, the Index to the "New York Times," maps, addresses, commercial, industrial and agricultural statistics, statistics of population, and information regarding the publications, reports and action of The Association. Many inquiries have been received during the past months in regard to daylight saving, harbor development, the establishment of a Government-owned nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, and lists of commercial and trade organizations.

List of The Association's Publications.

THE following printed reports, studies, etc., issued and distributed by the various Committees and Bureaus of The Association during the fiscal year have been received and catalogued:

Administrative sections of the Tariff Act—Anti-dumping Bill,
  Recommendations relative to H. R. 10918 (Anti-dumping Bill) the suggested change of duty basis from the foreign to the American selling price, and the administrative sections of the proposed tariff bill, February, 1921.
Daylight saving,
  Daylight saving necessary for the protection of the public health, February, 1921.
  New York City's workers want daylight saving—Vote taken at the instance of The Merchants' Association of New York, January 27-February 5, 1921.
Fly Card, November, 1920.
"Greater New York," 1920 (published weekly).
Industrial,
  Second report on industrial relations, March 9, 1921.
  Turnover of factory labor in New York City, October 1, 1920.
Motor trucks,
  Overloading and overspeeding of motor trucks, March 10, 1921.
Muscle Shoals—Government-owned nitrate plant,
  Against the Muscle Shoals project, February 4, 1921.
New York State Legislature for 1921,
  List of Senators and Assemblymen from Greater New York.
Saint Lawrence Ship Canal,
  Statement explaining the reasons for opposing the Saint Lawrence Ship Canal project, January 15, 1921.
Things done, May, 1920.

(Extract from Certificate of Incorporation Under the Membership Corporation Law)

"SECOND.—The principal object for which the corporation is to be formed is to foster trade and commerce and the interests of those having trade, business and financial interests in common in the State of New York and elsewhere, to reform abuses relative thereto, or affecting the same, to secure freedom from unjust or unlawful exactions, to diffuse accurate and reliable information concerning matters relating thereto or otherwise, to procure uniformity and certainty in the customs and uses of trade and commerce, to settle differences and to procure uniformity of opinion and action and co-operation between its members, to procure a more enlarged, united and friendly intercourse and action between business men, and to do such other and further acts and things relating thereto which may be found necessary or convenient, so far as the same are permitted by the laws of the State of New York to corporations organized under this act."

Digitized by Google

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

THE accompanying diagram shows the plan and structure of the working machinery of The Merchants' Association of New York.

It was the purpose of the late William F. King, the founder of The Association, to create an organization of business men and citizens of the community in the form best adapted to do things and accomplish results.

Based on Business Corporation.

TO meet this purpose, the late James B. Dill, who, as attorney, organized The Association, adopted as the prototype the business corporation, which human experience had evolved as the most effective plan for cooperative effort in accomplishing results.

The Association was, therefore, organized under the membership corporation law of the State, and the basic structure of The Association is represented on the diagram by the concentric circles at the top.

Analysis of the Diagram.

THE outer circle represents the members of The Association, who elect the Board of Directors, which Board is represented by the next smaller circle. To the Board of Directors the members of The Association commit all power, authority and responsibility for the conduct of the business of the organization during the year. The members, however, reserve to themselves th opportunity, as well as the right, to control the Board by a provision in the by-laws, whereby any five members, without the concurrence of any officers or directors, may call a special meeting of the membership.

The Board of Directors hold regular meetings monthly, and special meetings are held as occasion may require.

Functions of the Executive Committee.

THE next smaller circle represents the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, which during the interim between the meetings of the Board has the power and authority of the Board itself. The Executive Committee, however, is very careful about exercising such power, unless the general policy has already been determined by the Dirctors.

The Executive Committee meets regularly each week, and special meetings are frequently held, as the work of the organization requires. This Executive Committee constitutes the point at which all the various lines of The Association's activities are co-ordinated and harmonized.

The Center of Responsibility.

THE inner and smaller circle represents the officers of The Association, who are elected annually by the Board of Directors.

The common center of these concentric circles, therefore, is the focal point of all power, authority and responsibility in the organization.

Action on the part of the Board of Directors or Executive Committee is, however, predicated upon a careful analysis of subjects.

For this purpose the investigative and recommendative machinery, as indicated by the smaller circles in the lower and left-hand corner of the diagram, is constituted.

Work of the Committees.

THE individual circles represent the various standing committees of The Association, which may be enlarged or reduced at any time by authority from the Board of Directors.

The members of these various investigative committees are appointed by the President. The function of each committee is to investigate, analyze and report, with recommendations, to the Executive Committee, and through that Committee to the Board of Directors, by whom the final decision as to the policy of The Association is made. These investigative committees have no power of action in the first instance.

Subjects for investigation by the appropriate committee and action by The Association may be suggested by any officer, by the Executive Committee, by the Board of Directors, by the Members' Council, or by any member of The Association.

The Secretary and Staff.

AFTER the determination as to the question of policy and of the result which should be attained has been made by the Board of Directors, then the administrative responsibility passes through the Secretary to the official staff of the organization, which is represented by the administrative group on the right-hand side of the diagram.

Each one of the various branches of The Association staff is under the general supervision and direction of the Secretary, who constitutes in the administrative work of The Association the co-ordinating and harmonizing agency similar to the function performed by the Executive Committee in the basic structure of the organization.

In the effort to accomplish the result which may have been determined to be advisable, the members of the investigative committees, and in fact any or all members of The Association, are requested to cooperate.

The Members' Council.

THE small circle in the upper right-hand portion of the diagram represents the Members' Council. This Council is made up of representatives of about 150 divisions of The Association's membership, and is designed to be a closer connecting link between the machinery of the organization and the membership.

The Council, as its name implies, has no power of action.

It may recommend to the Board of Directors subjects which, in the opinion of the Council, should be taken up by The Association for the benefit of commerce and for the welfare of the community. It contains a membership representative of practically every branch of the trade and commerce of New York. It holds meetings at stated intervals, where short talks by representative men on live business issues and trade problems are given. It is intended to stimulate an intelligent public interest in matters affecting the trade and welfare of New York.

A Representative Structure.

IT will be seen that the structure of the organization is representative in character, and follows very closely the organization of a business corporation.

The form is one which insures promptness, elasticity and efficiency, which are three vital factors in the successful prosecution of cooperative effort for the City.

Honorary Qualification

Election

Non-Resident Qualifications

Exemption from Dues

SEC. 3. Class B.—Non-resident Membership.—To this class any person, firm, association or corporation in good standing, doing business outside of the City of New York or vicinity, and in sympathy with the purposes of the Association, shall be eligible. Each non-resident member shall be exempt from all dues, shall have no voting power, and shall not be eligible to office in the Association, but may attend its meetings.

SEC. 4. Class C.—Honorary Membership.—To this class any person shall be eligible who shall have rendered conspicuous service to the City or State of New York, to the Nation, or to The Merchants' Association of New York. Election to Honorary Membership shall rest exclusively in the discretion of the Board of Directors, and must in each case be by unanimous vote. Honorary Membership shall continue in effect until terminated by a like vote of the Directors. Such members shall pay no dues, and shall have no vote in the meetings of the Association.

Annual Dues When Payable

SEC. 5. The annual dues for the first year of membership shall be payable in advance immediately upon acceptance of the application for membership, and shall cover a period of one year from the first of the calendar month next succeeding the date of election. Subsequent annual dues shall be payable in advance on the first of the corresponding month in each succeeding year.

Resignations

SEC. 6. Resignations from membership shall be made in writing to the Board of Directors, but shall not relieve any member from liability for any dues accrued and unpaid at the time when such resignation is filed.

Removal from Membership

Publication

SEC. 7. Any member whose dues remain unpaid ninety days after maturity shall be reported to the Executive Committee or to the Board of Directors, either of which may thereupon declare such member delinquent. Thereupon there shall be mailed to such member a bill covering the unpaid dues, and a copy of this section. If the dues remain unpaid for a period of thirty days thereafter, the delinquent shall be dropped from membership, and notice of this fact may be printed in the official publication of the Association.

ARTICLE III

Certificate of Affiliation

SECTION 1. Any Civic, Trade or Business Association within the City of New York, upon application and under conditions approved by the Board of Directors of this Association, may obtain a "Certificate of Affiliation" with this Association whenever any of the following three conditions are complied with, viz.:

How Obtained

(a) Such proportion of its members are members of this Association as, in the opinion of the Board of Directors of this Association, entitle it to receive such "Certificate of Affiliation"; or,

(b) Upon agreeing to contribute a definite sum, to be prescribed by the Board of Directors of this Association, annually to the funds of this Association; or,

(c) Upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors of this Association may decide upon as proper.

Rights of Affiliation

Such affiliation shall confer upon the affiliated organization the following rights, and such others, if any, as may specifically be authorized by the Board of Directors of this organization, viz.:

Meetings

First: To call upon the Secretary of this Association to arrange meetings of organizations interested in trade, business, civic or legislative questions, and to assist in the conduct of such meetings.

Information

Second: To receive, on request, and subject to the approval of the Executive Committee of this Association, information concerning current civic or legislative matters affecting the interests of the affiliated organization.

Digitized by Google

Third: To call upon this Association to appoint arbitrators or referees in trade or business disputes in which the affiliated organization may be interested or concerned.

Revocation of Certificate Arbitrators

SEC. 2. Any "Certificate of Affiliation" granted under the provisions of these By-Laws may be withdrawn at any time by the Board of Directors of this Association, by a majority vote of the Directors present at any meeting at which there is a quorum, for any cause which said Board may deem sufficient.

ARTICLE IV

Charter How Obtained

Regulations and Revocation

Any nine or more members of this Association interested in a particular line of trade, business or other activity may apply to the Board of Directors of this Association for a charter for a subsidiary organization within and confined to the membership of this Association. The Board of Directors may, at its discretion, grant such a charter, provided the objects sought and the methods to be employed thereunder are consistent with the objects and methods of the Association itself. Any such subsidiary organization shall be under the general supervision of, and subject to regulations prescribed by, the Board of Directors of The Merchants' Association of New York, which shall have the right at any time to revoke such charter.

ARTICLE V

MANAGEMENT AND OFFICERS

Directors, Number and Qualifications

How Elected

Vacancies

SECTION 1. The government of the Association shall be vested in a board of twenty-four Directors, the majority of whom must be engaged in business in the Borough of Manhattan. Directors shall be elected by ballot at each annual meeting of the Association. The Directors shall be divided into three classes, equal in number, so that the terms of office of all the Directors of one class only expire in each year, and so that the terms of office of their successors shall be as many years as there are classes. Vacancies occurring during the year shall be filled by the Board of Directors.

Officers, How Elected

Compensation

SEC. 2. The officers of this Association shall consist of a President, a First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President, a Third Vice-President, and a Treasurer, who shall be members of the Board of Directors, and a Secretary and a Counsel, who need not be members of the Board, all of which officers shall be elected by ballot, immediately after the annual meeting of the Association, by the Board of Directors. Each of such officers shall serve for the term of one year and until the election and qualification of his successor. The President may appoint one or more Assistant Secretaries, who shall serve during the pleasure of the Board, and shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be delegated to them. The Secretary, the Assistant Secretaries and the Counsel shall receive such compensation as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

Nominating Committee

SEC. 3. Prior to the 15th day of March in each year, a committee of five members of the Association, to be called the Nominating Committee, shall be appointed by the President. It shall be the duty of this Committee to select candidates from Class A membership for Directors of the Association for the ensuing year and report the same to the Secretary before the first day of April next ensuing, and the Secretary, in sending notices of the annual meeting, shall include such list of nominees so prepared by said Committee.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent any member from voting for or nominating any member of Class A for any office in this Association.

General Powers

Duties of Officers

PRESIDENT

President

Section 1. The President shall be the chief executive officer and head of the Association, and (between the meetings of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee) shall have the general control and management of its business and affairs, subject, however, to the right of the Directors to delegate any specific power, except such as may be by the statute exclusively conferred upon the President, to any other officer or officers of the Association to the exclusion for the time being of the President.

Annual Reports

He shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and appoint all special or other committees unless otherwise ordered by the Board. He shall make annual reports showing the condition of the affairs of the Association, and make such recommendations as he thinks proper, and submit the same to the Board of Directors at the meeting next preceding the annual meeting of the members, and he shall, from time to time, bring before the Directors and the Executive Committee such information as may be required touching the business and property of the Association.

Ex-Officio Member of Committees

The President shall appoint and shall be ex-officio member and Chairman of all Standing Committees of the Board, and shall be the custodian of the corporate seal.

VICE-PRESIDENT

Vice-President

Sec. 2. In the absence of the President, the First Vice-President shall act in his place; in the absence of both, the Second Vice-President shall act in the President's place; and in the absence of all three, the Third Vice-President shall act in the President's place.

TREASURER

Treasurer

Sec. 3. The Treasurer shall keep, or cause to be kept, full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the Association, and shall deposit all moneys and other valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the Association in such depositories as may be designated by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee.

Duties

Monthly Reports

He shall disburse the funds of the Association as may be ordered by the Board, taking proper vouchers for such disbursements, and shall render to the President and Directors, at the regular monthly meetings of the Board, or whenever they may require it, an account of all his transactions as Treasurer and of the financial condition of the Association, and at the last regular meeting of the Board before the annual meeting of the Association, annually, a like report for the preceding fiscal year. The fiscal year shall extend from May 1st of one calendar year to and including April 30th of the following calendar year.

COUNSEL

Counsel

Duties

SEC. 5. The Counsel shall be the general legal adviser of the Association. Unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Directors or the Executive Committee, he shall have supervision of all matters involving legal questions, and shall appear for the Association in all actions or proceedings at law.

ARTICLE VII

Delegation of Powers

In case of the absence of the President, either of the Vice-Presidents, the Secretary or the Treasurer, or for any other reason that may seem sufficient to the Board, the Board of Directors or Executive Committee may delegate his powers and duties to any other officer, or to any Director, for the time being.

ARTICLE VIII

MEETINGS OF DIRECTORS

Directors' Meetings

SECTION 1. Regular meetings of the Directors shall be held without notice on the second Thursday of each month, at the office of the Association in New York, or by order of the Board of Directors elsewhere, on a day and at an hour to be fixed by the Board.

Quorum

SEC. 2. One-third of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except to adjourn.

Special Meetings

SEC. 3. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the President on two days' notice to each Director; special meetings shall be called in like manner on the written request of a majority of the members of the Board, or a majority of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE IX

POWERS OF THE DIRECTORS

Directors' General Powers

SECTION 1. The Board of Directors shall have the management of the business of the Association, and in addition to the powers and authorities by these By-Laws expressly conferred upon them, may exercise all such powers and do all such acts and things as may be exercised or done by the Association, but subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of the Statute and of these By-Laws, and to any regulations from time to time made by the members, provided that no regulations so made shall invalidate any prior act of the Directors, which would have been valid if such regulation had not been made.

Special Powers

SEC. 2. Without prejudice to the general powers conferred by the last preceding clause and the other powers conferred by these By-Laws, it is hereby expressly declared that the Board of Directors shall have the following powers, that is to say:

May Acquire Property

To purchase or otherwise acquire for the Association any property, rights and privileges which the Association is authorized to acquire, at such prices and on such terms and conditions, and for such considerations, as they think fit.

Appointments and Removals

Salaries

To appoint, and at their discretion remove or suspend, such managers, officers, subordinate, assistant or otherwise, and clerks, agents and servants, permanently or temporarily, as they may from time to time think fit, and to determine their duties and fix them, and, from time to time, change their salaries or emoluments, and to require security in such instances and in such amount as they think fit.

To confer upon any officer of the Association the right to choose, remove or suspend such subordinate officers, agents or factors.

Digitized by Google

Delegation of Powers
Power of Signature

To determine who shall be authorized to sign on the Association's behalf, notes, receipts, acceptances, endorsements, checks, releases, contracts and documents.

From time to time to provide for the management of the affairs of the Association in such a manner as they think fit, and in particular from time to time to delegate any of the powers of the Board of Directors to any committee, officer or agent, and to appoint any persons to be the agents of the Association, with such powers (including the power to sub-delegate) and upon such terms as may be thought fit.

ARTICLE X

STANDING COMMITTEES

Executive Committee

SECTION 1. There shall be an Executive Committee of not less than three, nor more than seven Directors appointed by the President, which shall meet at regular periods or on notice to all by any of their own number, or on notice from the Secretary. It shall have authority to exercise all the powers of the Board at any time a quorum may fail to attend any regular or special meeting thereof, or whenever the Board be not in session.

Powers

It shall have power to authorize expenditures and to audit and approve accounts and bills.

Quorum

Three members shall constitute a quorum of the Executive Committee for the transaction of business.

Finance Committee

SEC. 2. There may be a Finance Committee of three Directors or members appointed by the President, which shall attend to and supervise all the fiscal operations of the Association to the extent and in the manner directed by the Board, and this, or such other committee as may be appointed by the President, shall examine all accounts of the Association at the close of each fiscal year and at such other times as may be deemed necessary, and report thereon.

Advisory Committee

SEC. 3. The President may also appoint an Advisory Committee from the members (to which Committee members of the Board may be eligible), which shall advise with and aid the officers of the Association in all matters concerning its interests and the management of its business and generally perform such duties and exercise such powers as may be directed or delegated by the Board of Directors from time to time. This Committee shall consist of such number as the President shall from time to time see fit.

Records of Proceedings

SEC. 4. The Standing Committees shall be appointed by the President, and shall keep records of their proceedings and report them from time to time to the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE XI

MEMBERS' COUNCIL

How Established

SECTION 1. The Board of Directors may establish a "Members' Council" representative of the various divisions or lines of business composing the membership of the Association.

Organization

SEC. 2. For this purpose the membership of the Association shall be divided into such appropriate groups as may be approved by the Board of Directors or by the Executive Committee. The members composing each such group shall be invited to designate as their representatives on the Members' Council such number of their members as may be approved by said Board or said Committee.

Digitized by Google

The total number of representatives thus nominated by the several groups shall constitute the membership of the Members' Council, and each of them shall serve for the period of one year from the date of the first meeting of the Council in each year. The Chairman of the Members' Council shall be appointed by the President of the Association, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors.

Chairman

Meetings

Sec. 3. The Members' Council shall hold regular and frequent meetings, and may discuss, consider and report to the Executive Officers, Executive Committee or Board of Directors, recommendations concerning any matter which, in its judgment, properly concerns the usefulness and conforms to the policy of the Association. To this end the Members' Council may appoint such Standing or Special Sub-committees as it may deem proper.

Sub-Committees

Assistance in Membership Work

Sec. 4. A most important function of the Members' Council shall be to render active assistance to the Executive Officers and Committees of the Association in increasing and strengthening the membership of the Association, thereby enlarging its opportunities for usefulness and efficiency in the accomplishment of its purpose "To Foster the Trade and Welfare of New York."

Termination

Sec. 5. The Board of Directors may at any time in its discretion suspend or terminate the existence of the Members' Council.

ARTICLE XII

ORDER OF BUSINESS, DIRECTORS' MEETINGS

Order of Business at Directors' Meetings

The order of business at the meetings of the Board shall be as follows:

1. A quorum being present, the President shall call the Board to order.
2. The Minutes of the last meeting shall be read and considered as approved, if there be no amendments.
3. Reports of Officers of the Association.
4. Reports of Committees.
5. Unfinished Business.
6. Miscellaneous Business.
7. New Business.

ARTICLE XIII

OUTLAYS BY SPECIAL COMMITTEES

Outlays by Special Committees

Whenever five, or more, members of this Association shall certify to the Board of Directors that they desire the Association to prosecute any matter within the scope of the Association, and shall further certify that the said proceedings shall be at the cost and expense of the said members, the Board of Directors may authorize the President to appoint a special committee to prosecute such matters in the name of the Association, under the direction of the President and under the control of the Board of Directors. Such Committee shall not be authorized to create any indebtedness or obligation on the part of the Association, unless the same shall be specially authorized by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee of the Association.

ARTICLE XIV

MEETINGS

Members' Annual Meetings When Held

Quorum

Section 1. The annual meetings of the Association shall be held on the first Tuesday after the second Thursday in May in each year, at 2 P. M. The presence of nine members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at all meetings of the Association.

Digitized by Google

Special Members' Meetings

SEC. 2. Special meetings of the Association may be called at any time by the President, or shall be called upon the order of the Board, or on the written request of not less than five members, and the object of such meeting shall be stated in the notice. Regular notices of all meetings shall be forwarded to each member at least three days prior to such meeting. At any special or regular meeting called, nine members shall constitute a quorum, and no business shall be transacted at any special meeting other than that stated in the notices of such meeting.

ORDER OF BUSINESS—MOTIONS

Order of Business at Members' Meetings

SECTION 1. Calling the Roll.
Reading of the Minutes of the Previous Meeting.
Reports of Officers.
Reports of Standing Committees.
Reports of Special Committees.
Elections.
Unfinished Business.
New Business.

SEC. 2. The order of business may be altered or suspended at any meeting by a majority vote of the members present. The usual parliamentary rules as laid down in "Cushing's Manual of Parliamentary Law" shall govern all debates, when not in conflict with these By-Laws.

MOTIONS

Motions to be Made in Writing

SEC. 3. Every motion or resolution which shall be made or offered at any meeting shall, at the request of the Secretary, be reduced to writing and furnished to the Secretary before the question shall be put.

ARTICLE XVI

NOTICE TO MEMBERS

Notice

SECTION 1. Under no circumstances shall any member of Class B, or any organization affiliated under the provisions of Articles III or IV, be entitled to notice of any meeting, or of any other proceeding in the Association, unless it is specifically provided herein that members of Class B or organizations so affiliated are entitled to notice.

How Given

SEC. 2. Whenever notice is required to be given to any member, such notice shall not be deemed to be personal notice, or personal service of a notice in writing, but such notice shall be deemed to have been given from and at the time when said notice in writing shall have been deposited in the Post Office, or in any regular United States mailing box in the City of New York, inclosed in a post-paid wrapper, addressed to the member at his last known place of residence or business as the same shall appear upon the books of the Association, or if such address shall not appear upon the books of the Association, then to such address as may appear in any directory of the municipality in which such member may reside or do business.

ARTICLE XVII

Limitation of Contracts

No agreement, contract or obligation, other than a check, involving the payment of money or the credit of the Association for more than Twenty-five Hundred ($2,500) Dollars shall be made without the order of the Board of Directors or of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE XVIII

EXPULSION

Expulsion

SECTION 1. If any person, firm or corporation, being a member of the Association, shall at any time be deemed guilty of any act which is prejudicial to this Association or to the purposes for which it is formed, such person, firm or corporation shall be notified to appear personally at the next regular meeting of the Board of Directors, and shall then and there be given a hearing. Any member shall have the privilege of appearing by counsel, and all evidence shall be taken by a stenographer chosen by the Board. By a two-thirds vote of all the members of the Board of Directors present at a meeting thereof called for that purpose such member may be expelled from membership in this Association.

Right to Appeal

SEC. 2. Any member so expelled, if he has personally appeared before the Board, and not otherwise, and who may feel aggrieved by such action, may appeal to the Association, but such appeal shall not operate to suspend the expulsion meanwhile. The matter shall thereupon be heard at the next regular meeting, or a special meeting may, at the option of the Board of Directors, be called for that purpose, and at such meeting the action of the Board of Directors may be reviewed upon the evidence produced before the Board, and not otherwise. If a majority of all the members present shall vote to indorse the action of the Board of Directors in so expelling such member, such member's name shall be finally dropped from the roll.

ARTICLE XIX

SIGNING THE ROLL

Application for Membership

SECTION 1. Every person, firm, association or corporation desiring to become a Resident Member of this Association shall, in person, or by attorney, sign an application for membership in the Association.

Right to Refuse Application

SEC. 2. The Board of Directors, or Executive Committee, shall have the right to refuse any such application for any reason which to them shall seem sufficient, provided, however, such refusal of the Board of Directors, or of the Executive Committee, be by a majority vote of the Directors or members of the Executive Committee present at any meeting of the Board or Executive Committee at which there shall be a quorum present.

Observance of By-Laws and Regulations

SEC. 3. The signing of such an application for membership, unless the application be refused, as provided in Section 2, shall be, and construed to be, a signature of the official roll of members of the Association and an agreement on the part of said person, firm, association, or corporation, to fulfill and perform all requirements herein contained; and to conform to all rules or regulations, whether expressed in the By-Laws or otherwise, which may from time to time be adopted by the Board of Directors of the Association.

ARTICLE XX

AMENDMENTS

Amendments.

These By-Laws may be amended by a vote of three-fourths of the members present at any meeting held for the purpose of such amendment.

Provided, however, amendments shall be proposed in writing at any regular or special meeting of the members of the Association, and thereafter a copy of the proposed amendments and notice of the time of intended action thereon, which shall be a meeting subsequent to the proposal in writing of such amendments, shall be given to each member of Class A.

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING MEMBERS' COUNCIL

1. The Members' Council shall consist of representatives of the various groups into which the membership of the Association has been or may be divided by the Board of Directors together with Members-at-Large, as follows:

A. For each group having at least five members, one representative.

B. For each such group one additional representative for each additional ten members not in excess of fifty, but no group to have more than five representatives.

C. Members-at-Large may be appointed by the President at his discretion.

2. The President shall annually appoint a Chairman and Vice-Chairman, selected from among the members of the Association. The Secretary shall be the Secretary of the Association.

3. Meetings of the Members' Council shall be held at regular intervals to be determined by the Council.

4. The Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary shall constitute a Program Committee, the function of which shall be to arrange interesting and instructive programs for each meeting of the Council. The Committee shall have the power to add to its number.

5. The Members' Council may appoint such Standing or Special Sub-committees as it may deem proper.

6. The Members' Council, until and unless suspended or terminated by the Board of Directors, shall have the following powers and duties:

A. To recommend to the Board of Directors of the Association, from time to time, subjects which in the opinion of the Members' Council should be taken up by the Association for the benefit of commerce and for the welfare of the community. The power hereby conferred is recommendatory only, and does not include any right to act as representative of the Association.

B. To recommend changes in grouping of membership and in number of representatives of each group in the Members' Council.

C. The representatives of each group in the Members' Council, acting through their Chairman, may recommend directly to the Board of Directors investigation or action on the part of the Association in respect to matters affecting their particular line or group of trades.

D. From time to time, in accordance with plans perfected by the Board of Directors, to cooperate in membership building by enlisting the active assistance of the representatives of and members in the respective groups.

FOR GUIDANCE OF CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES

THE Board of Directors, May 16, 1907, adopted the following preambles and resolutions:

WHEREAS, It is of prime importance that all utterances and publications made in the name or behalf of The Merchants' Association of New York should be coordinated with each other, and in harmony with the general policy of the Association as established and authorized by its Board of Directors; and

WHEREAS, To this end it is essential that every important utterance or publication by any of the standing or special committees, made through its chairman or otherwise, should, if circumstances permit, be reviewed and approved, prior to its publication, by the Board of Directors, or, between the sessions of the latter, by the Executive Committee; therefore,

RESOLVED, That the following rules recommended by the Executive Committee, are hereby approved and adopted by the Board of Directors, viz.:

RULES FOR GUIDANCE OF CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES.

1. The attention of the chairman of each committee shall be called to the preambles preceding these rules.

2. The chairman of each committee is expected, before issuing any letter or statement for publication, to submit same in draft to the Secretary of the Association, who thereupon will arrange to have it promptly reviewed either by the Board or the Executive Committee, either in meeting or by submission to the individual members, according to the urgency of the matter.

3. That while the Board and the Executive Committee, so far as consistent with their own responsibilities, will give the fullest discretion and latitude to committees and their chairmen, and will endorse and support them in all proper ways, the latter will be expected to reciprocate by recognizing the importance of unity in the policy and work of the Association, of coordination of the work of its numerous committees, and of deliberation and a due sense of responsibility in all statements and publications issued over the name, and, therefore, presumably having the sanction and endorsement of The Merchants' Association.
